LINCOLN'S BIRTHPLACE GIVEN TO NATION

LINCOLN HOME NOW PEOPLE'S

President Wilson Accepts Gift in Behalf of the United States.

REVERED SHRINE GIVEN TO PUBLIC

Ceremonies at Little Log Cabin in Which Emancipator Was Born.

Hodgensville, Ky., Sept. 4.—Standing before the log cabin in which Abraham Lincoln was born, now housed in a magnificent memorial structure, President Wilson today, in behalf of the United States, accepted the Lincoln homestead, acquired by popular subscription through the Lincoln Farm association. The president made his trip to Hodgensville wholly one of tribute to the memory of Lincoln, declining all invitations to make speeches in the political campaign.

"How eloquent this little house within this shrine is of the vigor of democracy!" exclaimed the president as he spoke of Lincoln as exemplifying the American spirit as showing the heights which men of lowly birth may attain.

"We are not worthy to stand here," said he, "unless we ourselves be in deed and in truth real democrats and servants of mankind, ready to give our very lives for the freedom and justice and spiritual exaltation of the great nation which shelters and nurtures us."

The President's Address.

The president's address in full follows:

"No more significant memorial could have been presented to the nation than this. It expresses so much of what is singular and noteworthy in the history of the country; it suggests so many of the things that we prize most highly in our life and in our system of government. How eloquent this little house within this shrine is of the vigor of democracy! There is nowhere in the land any home so remote, so humble, that it may not contain the power of mind and heart and conscience to which nations yield and history submits its processes. Nature pays no tribute to aristocracy, subscribes to no creed of caste, renders fealty to no monarch or master of any name or kind. Genius is no snob. It does not run after titles or seek by preference the high circles of society. It affects humble company as well as great. It pays no special tribute to universities or learned societies or conventional standards of greatness, but serenely chooses its own comrades, its own haunts, its own cradle even, and its own life of adventure and of training. Here is proof of it. This little hut was the cradle of one of the great sons of men, a man of singular, delightful, vital genius who presently emerged upon the great stage of the nation's history, gaunt, shy, ungainly, but dominant and majestic, a natural ruler of men, himself inevitably the central figure of the great plot. No man can explain this, but every man can see how it demonstrates the vigor of democracy, where every door is open, in every hamlet and countryside, in city and wilderness alike, for the ruler to emerge when he will and claim his leadership in the free life. Such are the authentic proofs of the validity and vitality of democracy.

Mystery of Democracy.

"Here, no less, hides the mystery of democracy. Who shall guess this secret of nature and providence and a free polity? Whatever the vigor and vitality of the stock from which he sprang, its mere vigor and soundness do not explain where this man got his great heart

VIOLENCE PURSUES DILWORTH FAMILY

Many Relatives of Slain New York Lawyer Have Tragic Deaths.

Kansas City, Sept. 4.—Mrs. Grace Dilworth, wife of Dwight H. Dilworth, the New York attorney murdered there last night while motoring with a young woman in Van Courtland park, declared today that she with her 3-year-old son, intended leaving at once for her home. She had been visiting friends and relatives here for the last two weeks. Mrs. Dilworth said that she did not know Miss Mary McNiff, who was with Dilworth when he was shot. Dilworth formerly was a Kansas City attorney. On his entry into the Manhattan field he handled several cases of international importance growing out of the present European war. His mother resides here.

Violent deaths have followed the Dilworth family. The father was killed by burglars in his store in Oklahoma City, Okla., two years ago and four uncles and a nephew have been murdered at different times, according to the family.

Candidate for Governor to Make Many Towns in the District.

James M. Robinson, Former Member of Congress, is With Party.

John A. M. Adair, of Portland, candidate for governor, left Fort Wayne with a party of Fort Wayne democrats Monday morning for a tour of the Twelfth district, including the counties of Noble, Steuben and DeKalb. Martin H. Luecke, Twelfth district democratic chairman; James M. Robinson, a former member of congress; Dale J. Crittenberger, state auditor, and Stephen A. Callahan, of this city, were members of the Adair party.

Mr. Adair was in good voice and good spirits. He said he never felt better and was ready for the strenuous trip through the district. His coming has been extensively advertised and the towns that are included on his itinerary have been making great preparations.

Mr. Adair is one of the best campaigners in the state. His speeches ring with sincerity and wherever he goes he makes a most favorable impression, according to those who have been with him. He is taking the offensive in this campaign, because, as he says, the magnificent record of his party, both in the nation and in the state, makes it possible for him to do so. Few men are better informed upon the issues before the people in this campaign than the democratic gubernatorial candidate and he is presenting these issues most forcefully.

Confident of Victory.

Mr. Adair is confident of a democratic victory. He says that everywhere he is assured of success. Since opening his campaign in this city Mr. Adair has been pretty well over the state and has been in a position to feel the pulse of the voters and get a line upon the gen-

DISASTER SPOILS LONG TOUR SCORE

A 4,000 mile auto tour without a mishap was about to be the record of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Conley and son, Leiter, of Bryan, Ohio. They were returning home through Fort Wayne, Sunday evening, from a trip through western states. An interurban car ran them down at the corner of Clinton and Main streets and wrecked their car.

The front of the automobile was completely demolished and was fastened under the air brake of the car so tightly that nearly an hour's work was needed to clear away the debris. The accident was caused by the big car swinging around the corner when Conley thought the interurban was going straight ahead. W. H. Baer, motorman on the car, said he thought the automobile would stop.

The Conley family completed their tour of eleven states by rail. Conley will return later for the machine if it can be repaired at all.

W. H. Shorey, 1626 West Oakland street, and his fifteen-year-old son, Vere, were slightly injured Sunday evening when an automobile driven by J. D. Ferrill, of Hicksville, Ohio, crashed into the motorcycle on which the pair were riding. The accident occurred on Spy Run avenue at the intersection of Lawton Park place. Shorey's right hip was strained and both the father and son were badly bruised.

PARENTS ANXIOUS TO HAVE SCHOOLS OPEN

Parents throughout the city of Fort Wayne are anxiously awaiting to have the schools reopen and inquiries are made daily at the superintendent's office if the order of the board of health will not be rescinded soon. Children will be children and since they are forced to remain at home mothers and fathers are looking forward with relief to the time when the schools will reopen.

The board of health will have a meeting Tuesday afternoon and it is believed that they will rescind the order. It is very likely that the public, as well as the parochial schools will begin their year's work next Monday morning, September 11.

LINCOLN FARM GIVEN TO U. S. BY ASSOCIATION WHICH PRESERVED IT.

Lincoln farm at Hodgenville, Ky., on which the memorial containing the log cabin birthplace of the great emancipator, is located, came into possession of the United States on Labor day. President Wilson accepted it on behalf of the people.

At the same time the Lincoln Farm association, which caused the memorial to be built, dissolves, having completed its work.

The cabin was in private hands until 1904, when Richard Lloyd Jones, a Lincoln enthusiast, thought of preserving it and the Lincoln birthplace for the country.

With Robert J. Collier, the publisher, Jones formed the Lincoln Farm association, which raised $400,000 to build the memorial.

Among members of the association were William H. Taft, Charles E. Hughes, Joseph H. Choate, Mark Twain, William Jennings Bryan, August Belmont and Cardinal Gibbons.

Roosevelt laid the cornerstone of the memorial, on the centennial of Lincoln's birth, February 12, 1909, and Taft dedicated it in 1911.

ALL THE COMFORTS OF HOME FOR SOLDIERS

Indianapolis, Sept. 4.—All comforts of a modern home are being enjoyed by 141 soldiers and five officers of Battery B of Fort Wayne, who are at Fort Benjamin Harrison, awaiting muster into the federal service before being sent to the border. The men have real beds, electric lights, hot and cold water, an electric fan, if needed, and plenty of the best literature. They are quartered in the barracks.

But this life is not to last long. Word from the war department at Washington states the battery will be mustered in probably Tuesday, being officially designated as D battery, First field artillery of Indiana. Medical examination will follow and the men will be subject to being ordered to the border. They will go to Llano Grande, Tex., soon, it is expected.

FRANCISCO MADERO IS DEAD

Father of Slain President of Mexico Passes Away in New York.

New York, Sept. 4.—Francisco Madero, father of the late President Madero, of Mexico, and one of the largest land and mine owners in that country, was found dead in bed at his home here yesterday, from heart disease. He was 67 years old. Mr. Madero fled to this city after the assassination of his two sons, Francisco, jr., then president of Mexico, and Gustavo, who had been financial agent for the revolutionists. President Madero was killed on Feb. 21, 1913, and Gustavo two days before.

LABOR SPENDS A QUIET DAY

FEDERATION CALLS OFF CELEBRATION

Downtown Stores Closed and There is General Suspension of Business.

Labor, the oldest profession, was crowned with dignity in Fort Wayne, Monday. The holiday in honor of the fireside heroes, who have marched unflinchingly to their round of duties day after day, is being marked by general business suspension and several clean sport events.

There is no general celebration on the day's program because of the quarantine order for children under sixteen years, due to presence of infantile paralysis in the city. The annual celebration of the Federation of Labor was called off two weeks ago. The holiday is making the record of being the quietest in the history of the city.

More working men than ever before spent the day quietly at home with their families. Scores of workmen in all parts of the city are staying near their own dooryard through the day.

Sport Events.

The sport events of the day are the baseball game between the Colored Giants and the city team, at the League ball park; horse racing, made up of two trots and a pacing race, at Centlivre park; tennis tournament, to decide the city championship for 1916, at the Country club, and the athletic meet of the A. C. W. at Foster park.

Business Suspended.

Down town stores closed before noon. Very few wheels turned in the factories during the day. All county and city offices were closed. Holiday hours were observed at the postoffice. No mail was delivered on the rural routes and only the morning delivery in the city. The general delivery window at the postoffice was open until 10 o'clock.

Ralph Sauder, a young man aged 25 years, employed at the J. F. Smith farm on the Leesburg road, is a patient at St. Joseph hospital as the result of being accidentally shot by Otto Mertz, of 1116 Franklin avenue, of this city, with whom he was on a hunting trip. His condition is very critical and he is not expected to live.

The unfortunate young man in company with Otto Mertz and Fred Mertz, of this city, started out Monday morning to go hunting. Without the knowledge of the other members of the party Sauder climbed up in an apple tree to get some apples. Mertz came along with his shotgun under his arm when he noticed something in the tree. Thinking it was a wild animal he took aim and shot.

Sauder fell from the tree, desperately wounded. The police ambulance was at once summoned and the injured man was rushed to St. Joseph's hospital. He is shot through the hip and the abdomen.

The accident occurred at 11 o'clock Monday morning on the Smith farm where the young man is employed. Sauder's home is in Pennsylvania, but he has been working in this county for the past year.

GERMANS LOSE 2-MILE FRONT

FORCED TO YIELD A PART OF GAINS

German Counter Attacks Win Back Portion of Ginchy Village.

Today's War News Given in Summary

Between the Danube and the Black sea in eastern Rumania, where the second campaign in consequence of Rumania's declaration of war has been opened the Bulgarian and German forces of invasion are engaged heavily with the Rumanians all along the frontier. The Rumanian war office announces the repulse of the Germans and Bulgarians at Basardjik in Brojudka but gives no information as to the progress of the fighting elsewhere. In this campaign it is expected the Rumanians will have the assistance of Russian forces which crossed the border from Bessarabia into Dobrudja soon after Rumania joined the entente allies. The Rumanian invasion of Hungary continues. Official announcement is made that the towns of Borzek and Sekali in eastern Transylvania, have been occupied by the Rumanians.

The Bulgarians on the Macedonian front made another attack in the region of Lake Ostrovo yesterday. An official announcement from French army headquarters at Saloniki says the attack was repulsed by the Serbians.

Baron von Schink, chief director of the German propaganda in Greece, has been arrested and placed on a cruiser of the entente allies.

Eleven more allied warships have arrived at Piraeus. The Greek government has accepted the new demands of the allies and French and British agents have control of the postal and telegraphic systems.

Bad weather is delaying operations of the French troops along the Somme. The war office announces that 14 cannon have been captured thus far in the fighting inaugurated yesterday when the French in conjuction with the British advanced over a front of six and a half miles and captured three towns.

Two more aeroplane raids over Belgium have been made by the British. On Saturday they attacked the shipbuilding yards at Hoboken, near Antwerp. Yesterday a large British squadron bombarded the German aerodrome at Ghistelles, near Brugges.

London, Sept. 4.—(3 p. m.)—As the result of the fighting north of the Somme, in France, yesterday, says the British official statement issued today, British troops captured German defenses on a 3,000 yard front for an average depth of 800 yards and including the village of Guillemont.

The whole of Ginchy at first was captured, but the British were compelled to give ground, retaining hold of part of the village, despite heavy counter attacks in the course of the night. More than 800 Germans were taken prisoners.

REED SEEKS EARLY PROBE

Resolution Asks Immediate Inquiry on Cost of 8-Hour Law to Roads.

NO MORE ACTION UNTIL DECEMBER

Adamson Law Halting the Strike Gets Signature and is in Effect.

Washington, Sept. 4.—Senator Reed, of Missouri, today introduced a resolution to authorize the interstate commerce commission to investigate the effect of the eight-hour day law on the cost of operation of railroads and to report to congress in December. The resolution will be called up for consideration tomorrow.

Labor day brought no cessation of activity of congress, which spent nearly all of last week on measures warding off the railroad strike called for today, hoped for a belated adjournment Wednesday or Thursday. Many members already had fled to political fields or their homes, leaving fag ends of legislation to be finished by depleted houses.

The Webb bill to allow American exporters to organize common selling agencies abroad, whose immediate passage President Wilson favors the revenue bill and the Porto Rican citizenship bill were to be acted on in the senate.

Postponement is Plan.

Congressional leaders planned to postpone consideration of the immigration bill and corrupt practices bill and further railroad strike measures suggested by the president until the next session.

The eight-hour day act, passed Saturday evening, was considered a law today, having received President Wilson's signature yesterday, but to avoid any chance of its being held void on the ground that it received executive approval on a legal holiday, the president will sign it again tomorrow on his return from Hodgenville, Ky., where today he attended Lincoln memorial services.

The action of the senate in passing the Adamson bill Saturday evening by a vote of 43 to 28—almost a strict party vote—carried the effort forward to the point where President Wilson's signature alone was necessary to complete the legislation into law. Only two democrats—Hardwick, of Georgia, and Clarke, of Arkansas, voted against the bill. One republican—Lafollette, of Wisconsin—supported it.

Strike Order Cancelled.

SHACKELTON RESCUES 22 MEMBERS OF CREW

Punta Arenas, Chili, Sept. 4.—Lieut. Sir Ernest H. Shackleton has rescued the members of his Antarctic expedition who were marooned on Elephant Island. Shackleton returned here yesterday with his men, safe and well, on board the rescue ship Yelcho.

Sir Ernest Shackleton left Punta Arenas Aug. 26 with the ship Yelcho for a third attempt to rescue his men, marooned on Elephant Island.

After the failure of his antarctic expedition, Shackleton with five members of his crew managed to reach Port Stanley, Falkland Islands, on May 31. Twenty-two others of the crew were left on Elephant Island on April 9. The first attempt to rescue these men was made in June and the second attempt in July, both failing on account of the ice.

VICE PRESIDENT WILL CLOSE CAMPAIGN HERE

Vice President Thomas R. Marshall will come to Fort Wayne for the closing speech of his campaign, according to word received by Martin H. Luecke, Twelfth district chairman. Since the Twelfth is Mr. Marshall's home district democrats are planning to make the meeting one of the largest yet held.

The telegram announcing that Mr. Marshall has been dated in Fort Wayne came from Homer S. Cummins, chairman of the speaker's bureau in New York. The telegram said: "All right for Marshall on Saturday, November 4, at Fort Wayne."

ations on the Somme front have been retarded by bad weather, the war office announced today. In the new action fourteen guns have been captured by the French. Prisoners continue to arhive at the rear.

East of the Meuse, on the Verdun front, the French yesterday took 400 prisoners.

RUSSIANS CLAIM ADVANCE.

Petrograd, Sept. 4.—The Russians have broken across the Theniovka river, a western tributary of the Zlota Lipa and seized a position of the Austro-German troops, the war office announced today. They took 2,721 prisoners and six machine guns.

Amsterdam (Via London), Sept. 4.—(7:50 a. m.)—The Bulgarian cabinet council has decided to detain G. C. De Russi, the Rumanian minister at Sofia with his staff until S. Radew, the Bulgarian minister at Bucharest, has returned, says a dispatch from Budapest.

RUMANIANS CLAIM GAINS.

Bucharest, Sept. 3.—(Via London, Sept. 4, 7:45 a. m.—The Rumanian war office announced today that Rumanian troops have occupied Borszek and Sekeli in Transylvania. The Teutonic-Bulgarian allies have been repulsed at Basardjik, in Dobrudja, but elsewhere continue their attack along the whole frontier between Dobrudja and Bulgaria.

GERMANS DRIVE AT LONDON.

Attack of Thirteen Zeppelins Biggest Air Blow of War.

London, Sept. 4.—Thirteen Zeppelin airships took part in the raid over the eastern counties last night, and an official statement issued this afternoon says it was the most formidable attack by air ever made on England.

Only three of the Zeppelins were able to approach the outskirts of London. One of these was shot down and the other two were driven off by aircraft guns and aeroplanes.

Reports regarding the number of casualties and the damage caused by the great number of bombs dropped had not been completed this afternoon, but it was stated that the damages and loss of life were not heavy, "considering the number of ships engaged."

The text of the official statement said:

"Last night's raid was carried out by thirteen airships, and thus was the most formidable attack that has been made on this country. The principal theater of operations was the eastern counties, and the objectives seem to have been London and certain industrial centers in the midlands.

"The obscuring of lights undoubtedly proved most efficacious, for the raiding squadron, instead of steering a steady course, groped about in darkness, looking for a safe avenue to approach their objectives.

"Three airships only were able to approach the outskirts of London. One was picked up by searchlights and heavily engaged by anti-aircraft, guns and aeroplanes. After a few minutes the airship was seen to burst into flames and fall rapidly towards the earth.

"The ship was destroyed, the wreckage, engines, and half-burned bodies of the crew being found at Cufley, near Enfield.

"The other two ships which approached London were driven off by the defenses without being able to approach the center of the city.

"A great number of bombs were dropped promiscuously over the east Anglian and southeastern counties. The damage and loss of life will not be heavy, considering the number of ships engaged, a great number of the bombs having fallen either into the sea or in remote country districts."

For even Christ Jesus, of Nazareth, was a humble working man, a carpenter in a humble village, so can He appeal to the hearts of the people in every station in life, and His voice comes down the ages in the words of Micah's prophetic vision."

Socialist Speaks.

A Labor day address was delivered by J. Lloyd Armstrong, candidate for congress on the socialist ticket. Among other things he said: "The socialist party has always demanded the eight-hour day for all workers whether the worker be mechanic, day laborer, farmer, clerk or otherwise." He declared that the slogan of the socialist party is: "Workers of the World, Unite."

graph some six hundred code messages to brotherhood leaders over the country cancelling the order for the strike which was to have gone into effect at 7 o'clock Monday morning.

President Wilson affixed his signature to the bill Sunday morning in his private car at the Union station in Washington, where he stopped on his way from Shadow Lawn to Hodgenville, Ky.

The four pens used by the president signing the bill, one for each syllable of his name—will be presented to the four brotherhood heads, A. B. Garretson, W. G. Lee, W. S. Carter and W. S. Stone, after being used for resigning the bill on Tuesday.

Original Plan Changed.

No ceremony attended the signing. It originally had been planned that the president should go to the white house, but this was changed, and instead, Rudolph Forster, assistant to the president, took the bill to the train. Near the car window a group of trainmen in their overalls, paused in their work long enough to watch the president write his name. An engineer, passing on a yard engine, celebrated the occasion with several prolonged blasts of his whistle.

Brotherhood heads in a circular letter to their members today made no comment on the measure as passed They merely pointed out that it would not become effective until next Jan. 1, and that many things might occur between now and then which would change materially any suggestions or comment they might make.

Early Draft Set Aug. 20.

It has developed that the brotherhoods before being summoned to Washington by President Wilson, three weeks ago, had agreed to all a strike effective Aug. 20. The order then [illegible]

Labor day. After having been printed in preparation for the proposed strike on Aug. 20, they were locked in a vault in New York. Decision a week ago last Saturday to order a strike the following day when the majority of the committee of 640 were leaving for their homes, was followed by a hasty trip to New York, by two representatives of the brotherhoods. The strike date, Sept 4, was filled in with a rubber stamp, but the original date of the call, Aug. 14, was not changed.

Depends on Developments.

How long peace shall reign as a result of the new bill apparently is dependent upon developments in the proposed move to test the constitutionality of the act. Should the railroads take no action, but await the beginning of the investigation of the workings of an eight-hour day by the special commission for which the measure provides, the brotherhoods will remain inactive. The employes' leaders held unconstitutional and the railroads held unconstittuional and the railroads attempt to restore the ten-hour day on their lines, a strike will follow immediately.

It is very evident here that determined efforts will be made to amend the Adamson law before it goes into effect on January 1. These efforts will not be made during the remainder of the present session, but between the first Monday in December, when congress will reconvene, and the date when it will adjourn for the Christmas holidays.

Will Fight Wage Basis.

The eight-hour day as a standard work day has come to stay; of this there is not the slightest doubt. If the railroad managers are wise they will accept it without further resistance, but the eight-hour day merely as a wage basis and merely as a vehicle for obtaining an increase of pay for employes is a different proposition. It is upon this feature of the act approved by the president this morning that the attacks will center.

Moreover, at the coming regular session it is proposed to urge action upon a comprehensive labor reform bill, which will present the development of such a situation which congress feels it has so adequately met. Included in that bill will be the Canadian commission plan, advocated by the president to guard against a recurrence of the situation which has just been arranged.

that seemed to comprehend all mankind [illegible]

LABOR SPEAKS!

I, Labor, am feeling my strength today, my strength that digs your mines and works your factories, my strength that welds your tools and builds your palaces, my strength that sails your ships and spans your distances, my strength that reaps your crops and feeds your furnaces—my strength that is parent of your power, mother of your might—my strength that lets you live!

'Tis I, Labor, that clothes your bodies and fills your stomach; but for me you would run unshaven and unshop, plaything for the elements, brothers to the beast!

I stamp your steel and carve your cathedrals; I weave your woolens and fell your forests; I make the winds and waves and the blasts of heaven your humble servants; and I pierce the stony bowels of earth in search of the yellow wealth for which you barter my mind and muscle!

When your enemies rise to take that with which I have enriched you, I gird up my loins and battle your foes!

For all that you possess, little states, little nations, little world—thank me!

"We would like to think of men like Lincoln and Washington as typical Americans, but no man can be typical who is so unusual as these have not been worked out as yet but will American life who is so unusual as these great men were. It was typical of American life that it should produce such men with supreme indifference as to the manner in which it produced them, and as readily here in this hut as amidst the little circle of cultivated gentlemen to whom Virginia owed so much in leadership and example. And Lincoln and Washington were typical Americans in the use they made of their genius. But there will be few such men at best, and we will not look into the mystery of how and why they come. We will only keep the door open for them always, and a hearty welcome—after we have recognized them.

Where Biographies Fail.

"I have read many biographies of Lincoln; I have sought out with the greatest interest the many intimate stories that are told of him, the narratives of nearby friends, the sketches at close quarters, in which those who had the privilege of being associated with him have tried to depict for us the very man himself "in his habit as he lived;" but I have nowhere found a real intimate of Lincoln's. I nowhere get the impression in any narrative or reminiscence that the writer had in fact penetrated to the heart of his mystery, or that any man could penetrate to the heart of it. That brooding spirit had no real familiars. I get the impression that it never spoke out in complete self-revelation, and that it could not reveal itself completely to anyone. It was a very lonely spirit that looked out from underneath those shaggy brows and comprehended men without fully communing with them, as if, in spite of all its genial efforts at comradeship, it dwelt apart, saw its visions of duty where no man looked on. There is a very holy and very terrible isolation for the conscience of every man who seeks to read the destiny in affairs for others as well as for himself, for a nation as well as for individuals. That privacy no man can intrude upon. That lonely search of the spirit for the right perhaps no man can assist. This strange child of the cabin kept company with invisible things, was born into no intimacy but that of its own silently assembling and deploying thoughts.

"I have come here today, not to utter a eulogy on Lincoln; he stands in need of none, but to endeavor to interpret the meaning of this gift to the nation of the place of his birth and origin. Is not this an altar upon which we may forever keep alive the vestal fire of democracy as upon a shrine at which some of the deepest and most sacred hopes of mankind may [illegible] hopes must constantly be rekindled, and only those who live can rekindle them. The only stuff that can retain the life-giving heat is the stuff of living hearts. And the hopes of mankind cannot be kept alive by words merely, by constitutions and doctrines of right and codes of liberty. The object of democracy is to transmute these into the life and action of society, the self-denial and self-sacrifice of heroic men and women willing to make their lives an embodiment of right and service and enlightened purpose. The commands of democracy are as imperative as its privileges and opportunities are wide and generous. Its compulsion is upon us. It will be great and lift a great light for the guidance of the nations only if we are great and carry that light high for the guidance of our own feet. We are not worthy to stand here unless we ourselves be in deed and in truth real democrats and servants of mankind, ready to give our very lives for the freedom and justice and spiritual exaltation of the great nation which shelters and nurtures us."

President Much Pleased.

As President Wilson's special train passed through Louisville early this morning he was greeted by a crowd of several thousand persons. They surged about the railroad station and cheered.

The president today expressed great pleasure over the receptions accorded him by large crowds, which applauded at every stop yesterday and last night. It was his first touch of campaigning this year and he liked it. West Virginia and Kentucky gave him a very warm welcome. On the president's special train was Mrs. Wilson, Secretary Tumulty, Dr. Carey Greyson, the white house physician, Senators Williams and Newlands, Representative Banjamin Johnson, Secretary Baker, former Governor Folk and Robert T. Collier, of New York.

TWENTY-NINE ENTRIES IN CINCINNATI RACE

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 4.—The first automobile sweepstake race, which is to be run over the mile saucer track at Sheronville, O., today, has drawn twenty-nine entries, all of whom qualified by making better than eighty miles an hour, and some exceeded 110 miles. The race will be 300 miles in length and the entries include most all the leading drivers in America. The new speedway track is of wood construction made of 2x4 inch oak, laid lengthwise, and an eighth of an inch apart. This small opening will cool the tires, it is said. The track is seventy feet wide. The stands have a seating capacity of 30,000, while parking space has been provided for 15,000 machines.

The purse to be contested for is $30,000, divided into thirteen prizes, with $12,000 to the winner, and an extra award of $500 each for the drivers leading at the 100, the 200 and 250 miles, respectively. The race will start at 1:30 o'clock, and according to officials the track is in perfect condition.

FALLS FROM MOWER.

Huntington Boy Has Right Leg Severed in Accident Saturday.

Huntington, Ind., Sept. 4.—Waldo, ten-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Flieger, of Clear Creek township, was severely injured yesterday shortly before noon when he fell from a moving mower. His right hip was cut badly and a bone in his left leg just above the ankle was severed in two places a short distance apart. Part of the bone was removed by surgeons and it is thought that the boy will recover, providing no infection sets in. Late last evening the boy was resting nicely.

The team he was driving shied and started to run. The horses stopped when he tugged at the lines and he toppled forward, directly in the path of the mower.

SUSAN BRUMBAUGH DEAD.

Warsaw, Ind., Sept. 4.—Mrs. Susan Brumbaugh, mother of Milton Brumbaugh, who was killed when his auto was struck by a Big Four passenger train near Leesburg on July 15, is dead at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Ulery, in Nappanee. She is survied by Mrs. Etta Brown, Mrs. John Brown, Mrs. Charles Malcolm and Mrs. William Ulery, daughters, and Martin, Frank and Taz Brumbaugh, sons.

NO CHURCH SERVICES.

Columbia City, Ind., Sept. 4.—There were no church services in this city Sunday of any character and the teachers' institute, which was scheduled to start here Monday, has been postponed by order of the Whitley county board of health. Every effort is being made to prevent the further spread of infantile paralysis in this county and the public generally is complying with the requests of the health officers.

WILL RETURN NEXT MONDAY.

Bluffton, Ind., Sept. 4.—George Mock has received a letter from his brother, Mayor John Mock, stating that he expects to arrive in Bluffton one week from Monday, barring strikes and other hindrances. Mayor Mock uses the singular pronoun in his letter but friends are anxiously awaiting his arrival so that they can get the facts about his reported matrimonial venture—maybe.

STORK WAS BUSY.

Kendallville, Ind., Sept. 4.—The stork had a busy time of it in Kendallville during August, there being fifteen births—eight males and seven females. The grim reaper was also on the job and took away nine, three males and six females. The city is practically immune from contagious diseases, there being one case of diphtheria and one of scarlet fever, both under quarantine.

ANNUAL PICNIC.

Goshen, Ind., Sept. 4.—Rural route letter carriers of Elkhart county, held their annual picnic dinner and big blue ribbon contests at Blosser park, two miles south of Goshen today, with state officers of the Indiana Rural Letter Carriers' association, Congressman Barnhart, of Rochester; Judge Harmon, of Hobart, superior court and Anthony Wahl, of Goshen, as speakers.

TYPHOID FEVER FATAL.

Auburn, Ind., Sept. 4.—After an illness of four weeks from typhoid fever with a complication of heart and kidney trouble, Charles Beugnot, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Beugnot, of South Main street, passed quietly away Saturday afternoon shortly after 1 o'clock.

CASE IN ADAMS COUNTY.

Monroe, Ind., Sept. 4.—The 13-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Matheson, living one mile north of Monroe, is ill with infantile paralysis and the home was placed under quarantine yesterday morning. The case is in Adams county.

ORNAMENTAL LIGHTS WILL HELP HARRISON HILL

The motorists who have enjoyed the auto drive around the U-shaped course provided by Cornell and Seminole circles of Harrison Hill can appreciate what a picturesque spot this will be after night-fall when the ornamental lighting on these circles has been completed. The course followed by Cornell and Seminole circles is similar to that described by tracing the outlines of a letter U first around its outside edge and then around the inside. The ornamental lights on either circle will be plainly visible from all points of the other circle, and the view after night with all lights on will cause one to almost imagine it a scene from Fairyland. DAILY BIBLE READINGS FOR THE HOME

John 6:32-44.

32. Then Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Moses gave you not that bread from heaven; but my Father giveth you the true bread from heaven.

33. For the bread of God is he which cometh down from heaven, and giveth life unto the world.

34. Then said they unto him, Lord, evermore give us this bread.

35. And Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me shall never hunger; and he that believeth on me shall never thirst.

36. But I said unto you, That ye also have seen me, and believe not.

37. All that the Father giveth me shall come to me; and him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out.

38. For I came down from heaven, not to do mine own will, but the will of him that sent me.

39. And this is the Father's will which hath sent me, that of all which he hath givan me I should lose nothing, but should raise it up again at the last day.

40. And this is the will of him that sent me, that every one which seeth the Son, and believeth on him, may have everlasting life: and I will raise him up at the last day.

41. The Jews then murmured at him, because he said, I am the bread which came down from heaven.

42. And they said, Is not this Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? how is it then that he saith, I came down from heaven?

43. Jesus therefore answered and said unto them, Murmur not among yourselves.

44. No man can come to me, except the Father which hath sent me draw him: and I will raise him up at the last day.

Wtlson in Acceptance

Accepting for the second time at the hands of the democratic party nomination to the exalted position he now occupies, President Wilson in his address at Shadow Lawn, so completely measured the finest hopes and aspirations of the American people that it is difficult to see how it can fail to be hailed as one of the most exceptional in the long list of notable utterances that have come from this source since he became the chosen leader of his party. The Sentinel trusts that no voter who sincerely desires above all other things political his country's welfare, will fail to give it thorough reading and impassioned consideration.

In it President Wilson once more appears as more than a mere partisan. His outlook is bounded by no narrow political lines, his hopes are shaped to no mean and narrow political bias. Even the rather casual criticism of political opponents in which he indulges is not cheap carping, but the argument born of conviction, deep-rooted and sincere. The criticism he offers is all but lost sight of in the constructive program the president outlines for the future, and that, of course, is the matter of chief concern to the American people. The president takes occasion to sketch briefly some of the accomplished fruits of his party's efforts in legislation, in the diplomacy that has spelled peace and in the preparation for future contingencies. The record speaks for itself.

And for the future, his assurances are as definite as have been his past performances. The president has placed his case before the people, in whose judgment and patriotism he has absolute confidence—a confidence that is returned in ample measure. He make it very clear that he is appealing to no prejudice and catering to no bias. He has demonstrated that his vision of a still greater, a still finer and a still more progressive America to set the pace in the world's endeavor is undimmed.

Labor Day Dawns on Rail Peace

The outstanding phase of this annual observance of Labor day will inevitably be in every quarter a sentiment of profound gratitude that the threatened general railroad strike has been averted, and that Labor day dawns upon peace in the transportation world. Trains are moving as usual and there is calm instead of confusion. There is the normal condition upon the great transportation lines of the country instead of the crash of conflict, the paralyzing of traffic and the consequent calamity to business, if not the hardship of actual suffering for food and fuel supplies that for some weeks has hung as a menace before the American people.

The amazingly rapid passage of the Adamson act by congress and its signing by President Wilson was the signal for the rescinding of the order to strike, which had been issued some days ago. It carries a basic recognition of the eight-hour day principle in railroad employment and provides for investigation designed to give intelligent determination on the operation of the principle, with a provision that until such report is made and for a period of ninety days thereafter there shall be no reduction of wages below the present standard. It is not to be expected the new legislation will be on every hand acclaimed as perfectly acceptable. It was clearly and entirely an emergency measure, designed to avert the impending blow, and it has fulfilled that purpose. There will doubtless be a test of some of its features in the higher courts. It may or it may not be upheld, but it is very certain that some of its features will come to be recognized as enduring cardinal principles in the settlement of industrial disputes.

Meanwhile, we think it a grave mistake to set forth the claim that the result is a great victory for either side. Any such attitude only makes by its cumulative effect more difficult the working out of such future problems as may arise in connection with the operation of the new law. What the railroads, the railroad employes and the public should now desire is the calm and dispassionate development of a system founded on fairness and justice that shall make impossible a recurrence of the situation that all but plunged the country into an industrial calamity in which none could have escaped suffering.

The public will watch with uncommon interest the progress of an action at Indianapolis to close up a burlesque theater in that town which has long offended decency by the character of the program it served up to that class which is apparently always eager to pay for that sort of thing. The effort is to declare the place a public nuisance under the terms of the Rule law passed by the last legislature, and the suit is the first to be brought under that act. We shall shortly learn whether we have in it an efficacious remedy for very bad conditions, or whether there is merely another ornamental enactment on the Indiana statute books.

Sketches from Life ∴ ∴ By Temple

RIDICULE.

(South Bend News-Times.)

A man of thirty-five whose home was in Duck Hill, Miss., went to San Francisco and committed suicide by taking poison. His reason was that he had been so ridiculed from childhood by friends and neighbors for an impediment of speech that life was no longer worth living. He went so far away for the act because he did not want his acquaintances to have the satisfaction of knowing they had made him desperate.

The activity of news agencies is such that it is more than probable that his Duck Hill friends have by now been apprised of his tragic death. It is also more than probable that instead of giving them satisfaction, the occurrence will be the cause of their lasting remorse.

Of course, a man should be strong enough of soul to discount ridicule and live above it. But as a matter of fact, many people are not strong enough. Nearly all of us, in one way or another, have our weaknesses. And it is not exactly the part of kindness or justice for our acquaintances to make the biggest pull of our lives come at the weak part of the chain.

The man or woman who has some physical defect has already enough burden to carry, and is usually extremely sensitive about his difference from his fellows. To add to that burden by ridicule is unpardonable.

Ridicule is almost always thoughtless, but none the more excusable for that reason. Men and women have no business to be thoughtless of the comfort of others.

Ridicule of the imperfections of others is almost always stupid. And it has seldom been known to do any good which could not have been accomplished in some better way. It has certain rare uses at the hands of the word-expert. But to ridicule a man for a defect which was beyond his power to remedy!

Who killed this man, anyhow—himself or his neighbors?

AIN'T NATURE WONDERFUL?

Unnatural History, by Eugene Ahern.

A POLITICIAN.

A politician is a fellow who's tired of working.

Politicians spend $5000 for political jobs that pay $1200 a year. Do they work after they get the jobs? Do women tell their right ages? Do herring bark?

Politicians are very modest when talking things about themselves—they hire men to do it for them.

When a fellow gets the hunch, working for money is hard driving he decides to go into politics. He gets a lot of cards printed telling where he was born, where he attended school, that he is married and has a flock of happy children, and in capital letters lets it be known, that from an infant he has been a friends of the working man. The political game is like parachute jumping because when you fall, you fall hard.

Here's Speedy Relief from Kidney Troubles

"Foley Kidney Pills have done me a heap of good." A. F. Bartlett, Brockton, Mass.

Some days it seems as if you can no longer bear the pain and misery you suffer from kidney and bladder trouble. The ache across your back grows worse with every move you make, and with every step you take. It not only robs you of all your strength and energy, but it affects the other important organs of the body as well. Nervousness, headache, disordered stomach, liver trouble, bad eyesight, are only some of the conditions that follow kidney trouble.

Foley Kidney Pills help the sick weak kidneys to regain their normal healthy state and activity. When they are again able to do their work effectively, your system is no longer choked and blocked with poisonous waste matter. Your symptoms clear up, your weariness, pain, misery and weakness go away. Foley Kidney Pills can do you also "a heap of good."

QUALITY VERSUS QUANTITY.

Many housewives make a vital mistake in choosing some of their foodstuffs on the basis of quantity.

It has been proven time and again that the cheapest is always the most expensive, while the highest price is not always the best.

There's a happy medium in everything. When you select foods, be careful. Don't choose any particular brand of, say Baking Powder for example, just because you get a big can for a small price.

The risk you take in ruining your entire baking and losing the cost of the materials involved is not anywhere equal to the small amount saved on the price of the Baking Powder.

Then again, because the price is high, don't think the quality is the best. Some women do, and they are losing money.

Look for the happy medium. You'll find it. Choose a brand that costs a moderate price and you'll find it more economical to buy and more economical to use.

The best Baking Powder in the world can be made so as to sell for 25c per 1 lb.—Advertisement.

CONCERNING SATURDAY CLOSING.

Editor of The Sentinel:—

The "get together" movement for early Saturday closing is one which this store is heartily in favor of. We think the time has come when 6 o'clock closing on Saturdays throughout the year should be the rule and we were pleased to be at the top of the list of merchants signing the agreement to do so. That the movement was not unanimous among local merchans is our regret, for only through co-operation will this plan be successfully worked out. If this could be brought about, we will gladly and willingly close at 6 o'clock Saturdays, excepting during the holiday shopping period in December. We hope to see all department stores, millinery, dry goods, furniture and ready-to-wear stores get together on this question and have early Saturday closing a permanent institution.

LAFAYETTE PLACE BOUND TO ADVANCE

Men who keep close tab upon real estate values in Fort Wayne are of the opinion that the property values of Lafayette Place, the new addition on South Calhoun street, are certain to have a rapid advance, partly due to the high character of this addition, and also because of its ideal location upon this city's main business street and directly in the path of Fort Wayne's great southward growth. The better class of additions on the south side which have similar restrictions placed upon them have made increases ranging from $550 to $1,800, and it is presumed that Lafayette Place with all its numerous advantages will be due for a like advance. Details regarding this addition may be secured from the Wildwood Sales Company, Shoaff building.—Advertisement.

TRACTION CAR HITS TRUCK; ONE KILLED

Louis J. Feist Meets Death and His Son is Seriously Hurt in Accident.

Louis J. Feist, 55, owner of the Anthony Dry Cleaning and Tailoring establishment at 828 Barr street, was killed, and his son, Cyril W. Feist, 26, was seriously hurt Sunday morning when a Northwestern Indiana interurban car struck an auto delivery truck in which the men were riding four miles out of Fort Wayne. The truck was Huntertown bound. The elder Feist was hurled from the truck into a ditch head first and lived but a few minutes. His son, driving, was dazed by the accident, but had recovered himself to talk of the accident Monday morning.

Mr. Feist, wife and son had attended early mass at St. Mary's Catholic church, later going to Mr. Feist's place of business, where both men decided on an auto drive.

Auto On Tracks.

Young Feist had his auto on the traction tracks, he says, before he heard a whistle or saw the car. Members of the car crew state that the whistle was sounded for the crossing continuously. The rear of the auto truck was hit with terrific force, hurling it high into the air and against a telephone pole east of the tracks.

The interurban was making thirty miles an hour at the time of the accident, according to members of the crew, and was brought to a stop a distance of 300 feet north of the crossing.

L. M. Dillon, Fort Wayne barber, and J. W. Reed, of Union City, were the first passengers of the car to reach the wrecked auto. The elder Feist was hurled head first in the ditch and his son was found walking around in a dazed condition.

Aid Was Administered.

The car crew administered what aid was possible to the elder Feist, but he was dying almost when the passengers reached him. Young Feist was placed in a private automobile and taken to his home, 336 East Lewis street. He had a wrenched back and possible internal injuries.

The elder Feist sustained a broken neck and several fractured ribs, the former injury being the immediate cause of death. Coroner J. E. McArdle went to the scene of the accident and ascertained the injuries to the elder Feist. The auto delivery truck was badly damaged.

Mr. Feist was born in Fort Wayne and was a most highly respected business man. For twenty-five years he had conducted a tailoring establishment in the city, first on South Lafayette street and later removing to 828 Barr street. He was a member of St. Mary's Catholic church and of the Foresters.

Family Survive Him.

Besides the widow he leaves surviving: Mrs. Bernard Blank, city; Sister Albena, St. Anthony's hospital, Terre Haute; Mrs. Irene Moorhead, Hagerstown, Ind., and Misses Thelma and Edna Feist, all daughters. Two sons, Cyril, injured in the accident, and Cornelius, also survive and reside at home.

Funeral services Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock from the residence, 336 East Lewis street, and at 9 o'clock from St. Mary's Catholic church. Burial in the Catholic cemetery.

GREENFIELD DRY BY 41 VOTES.

Greenfield, Ind., Sept. 4.—Greenfield voted dry Saturday in an option election, the majority being 41. As a result six saloons will be forced to suspend and Hancock county will be without a bar after ninety days. Greenfield had been wet for five years.

The vote was the result of one of the most strenuous campaigns waged in the county. The dry element had been making a vigorous fight for several weeks and brought in outside talent, to which much credit is given for the victory. While a number of voters were challenged by both sides, the election was free from roughness.

ATTEMPTS DEATH IN LEAP FROM TRAIN

Pettit, Confessed Slayer of Bride at Chicago, Will Recover.

Chicago, Sept. 4.—John Maurice Pettit, confessed slayer of his girl bride, attempted to escape from a Chicago detective yesterday in a spectacular, headlong leap from a passenger train speeding a mile a minute.

He made his plunge at a point a mile and a half east of Michigan City, Ind., while he was being brought back to Chicago on a limited train of the Michigan Central railroad by Detective Sergeant Theodore Breternitz. He had been caught near Detroit, where he fled after the murder.

He broke from his captor and dove head foremost through the open window of a washroom of the rear coach. The train was brought to a stop and Pettit found a mile in the rear of the train, preparing to walk away.

His escape from instant death is probably due to the fact that he landed on a sandy stretch alongside the roadbed. It was his second attempt of the day to escape. Earlier he tried to escape in Detroit.

At the same hour, his girl bride, Katheryn Keiser Pettit, whose throat he cut last Thursday in a fit of religious mania, was lying in a North Clark street undertaking parlor here, and chums and schoolmates of the slain girl wept disconsolately during funeral services.

Pettit is now under guard at the Bridewell hospital. He was found to have a punctured lung, broken ribs and an injured jaw, but he has a chance to recover.

Chief of Detectives Charles L. Larkin obtained a confession when he talked to Pettit at the hospital.

"I killed her to save her purity, but she is not dead. I killed her materially, but spiritually she still lives," Pettit said.

"She never fell when I cut her. I had my arms around her neck when I did it. I just laid her down on the floor."

"Other men called and talked to her. I was jealous of them. I was wrong in that," he said at another point.

Pettit said that he put his arm around his young wife's neck and told her what he intended to do.

"I was insanely jealous of her," he declared. "I wanted her to enter the spiritual life, but not on this plane. I alone am to blame. Her mother was very good."

BIG LOAN TO CHINA GOES THROUGH SOON

No Hitch is Expected in Negotiations With Japan.

Washington, Sept. 4—Japan's proposed $30,000,000 loan to China is expected by the Japanese embassy here to go through almost immediately. It is said China's financial needs are most pressing and that further delay might prove serious for the new government.

Japanese financiers, it is expected, will be entirely responsible for the loan though Great Britain, France and Russia may be asked to participate for diplomatic reasons. The financial stringency which up to now has handicapped Japan in financial negotiations, is thought to have passed with the large profits made on war munitions. Japanese statesmen are said to feel that Japan must sooner or later make itself responsible for Chinese financial stability and that the sooner it is done, the more certain will be the guarantee of peaceful conditions.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bender are visiting in Logansport with Mrs. Bender's mother, Mrs. Riehle.

Charles Daugherty Charged With Stealing from Slumbering Companion.

For forty-five years Charles Daugherty, 60, and Charles Beuret, 58, have been loyal friends, according to the story of Daugherty, told in police court Monday morning. They started out Sunday to have a sociable drunk. They achieved their purpose and landed in a semi-conscious condition in Robison park.

Charles Shields, 2118 Broadway, told in court that he saw Daugherty take a pocketbook from Beuret while Beuret was in a drunken slumber. Then Daugherty started for town. He hobbled as fast as his crippled left foot would allow him, Shields told. Daugherty was in such a rush to pass through the turnstile at the park that he broke his whisky bottle.

Daugherty was arrested in Centlivre park, where he admitted that he had spent a part of Beuret's money. Daugherty said that Beuret dropped the wallet and that he had rescued it and intended to return it later, when Beuret was sober.

Both Beuret, who is charged with intoxication, and Daugherty will have another hearing on Sept. 7, when Beuret is expected to be completely sobered up and able to testify.

GOING ON A SECRET MISSION TO EUROPE

New York, Sept. 4.—Col. Alfre Breceda, former private secretary to Gen. Carranza, who visited the United States in 1915, on what he said was a secret mission for Carranza, arrived here today on the Spanish line steamship Montserrat, from Vera Cruz and Puerto, Mexico. Col Breceda says he is going to Spain and France on a diplomatic mission for the de facto government, the nature of which he declined to discuss.

H. A. Dunn, civil engineer of California, former superintendent of Mexico Light and Power company, who was recently released from jail where he said he was held 110 days on a charge of having executed two of his employes, was on the Montserrat. He was released after having proved that the deaths occurred more than a year prior to the time of his arrival in Mexico City. The ship had as passengers 111 people, the majority being in transit for Spain.

JOHN ROBINSON SHOWS ARRIVE ON WEDNESDAY

If there is any one particular future event on the local entertainment calendar that the amusement-seeking public of Fort Wayne is expectantly looking forward to more than anything else, it is probably the scheduled visit here in September 6, of the John Robinson ten big shows.

It is claimed for the John Robinson shows that the secret of its wonderful long-lived popularity is due chiefly to the preservation and retention of all those time honored ideas and methods that were in vogue away back in the days of hoop-skirts and poke bonnets and which first brought the sawdust ring, the menagerie and the side show curio into public favor. Call them antiquated, if you wish, but take away entirely the old-time characteristics that made John Robinson world famous as a tent showman and just that minute it would cease to be a real, genuine John Robinson circus.

The arrival here next Wednesday morning will be fittingly and publicly celebrated with a street parade at 10 a. m.

Woman from Laotto in Alley With Male Companion and is Arrested.

The paddock for visitors in police court was crowded Monday morning. Many sons of toil had gathered because of their liberty for the day to witness the grist of unfortunates who had fallen in the snare of the law. Some times the spectators would laugh in unison and many times the bailiff rapped for order.

Whisky Was for Mother.

Gertrude Augustus, who says she lives at Laotto, came to town last Friday to look for a room and also to get some rock candy and whisky for her poor old mother, who has a hacking cough, she told Judge Kerr. She did not find the room but she had a few sociable drinks with friends.

An officer found her Sunday morning in an alley with Paul McBride. They had just had a drink from the whisky bottle. Gertrude had returned the bottle to her stocking. She was fined $10 and costs.

Fined for Speeding.

Arthur Moellering and five companions were traveling at the rate of thirty-one miles an hour on Spy Run avenue late Saturday night when arrested by Motorcycle Officer Bischoff. Moellering pleaded guilty to the speeding charge and paid a fine of $10 and costs.

Other Police Cases.

Cornie Peak, colored, and Arthur Allen, negro, were fined $15 and costs each and given a suspended jail sentence for pleading guilty to a charge of associating. They were taken by police early Sunday morning from a house on Smith street.

Maud Edmundson and Robert Johnson, charged with adultry, are held under $200 bond for trial on Sept. 11. They were arrested Sunday night.

Robert Johnson, held on a surety of the peace warrant, is under $100 bond for trial on Sept. 13.

Lores Clark, charged with petit larceny, is held under $50 bond for trial on Sept. 7. He is said to have taken automobile accessories from the Brudi Transfer empany and placed the attachments on his own machine.

William DePrez, charged with vagrancy, was given an opportunity to leave town. John Lee was fined $100 and given thirty days in jail because of previous convictions on drunk charges.

Other fines for intoxication were W. L. Jacobs, $5; David Smurr, $1; John Welsh, $5; Arthur T. Longard, $5; Jacob Eickles, $5; Mike Kelley, $1; Christ Spidel, $5.

William McGawn, Ben Ross, Lewis Walters, Charles Meyers, Charles Bates and Jefferson Myers were released after pleading guilty to drunk charges.

Charles L. Biederwolf to Head Movement in This Section.

Charles L. Biederwolf, secretary of the Commercial club, has been appointed local head of a movement inaugurated by the national committee of the Confederated Supply association, of New York, for the establishment of comfort stations along trans-continental roadways.

A representative of the association has written as follows on the movement: "We are working in conjunction with the American Automobile association, the National Highways association and the National Old Trails Road association and are about to start across country, following three main automobile routes; one, the National Old Trails road from Washington to San Diego, California; the second, the Lincoln highway, and the third route from New York to Chicago by way of Buffalo, thence to St. Paul and the northwest.

"This latter route we have already made a start on, having been asked by the state board of health of Wisconsin to come to their assistance in getting these much needed improvements in that state; and Chicago at the same time having officially asked us to help their department of public welfare put through the plan in the city of Chicago.

"In Fort Wayne we are pleased to tell you that Charles L. Biederwolf, secretary of the Commercial club of Fort Wayne, will head the movement, and we will line up with him all the influential clubs, societies and organizations in that city in creating a public demand for these interests. The mayor and councilmen, of course, will be among the first to be acquainted with this movement.

"We expect by the time spring comes again to have a complete system of roadside stations along the highway extending from New York to St. Paul. We are collecting no funds or consideration of any kind from your citizens. There will be no expense attached to this, whatsoever, outside of the cost to the city of putting up the much needed stations, all of which, under our plan, will come back to them many fold."

HOOSIED EXILES FEAST.

Corn Piece de Resistance at Reunion in Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 4.—Four hundred persons, former residents of the Hoosier state, attended the fifth annual outing of the Indiana State society, of Pittsburg, at the Bridle Path shelter house, Schenley park, Saturday afternoon. Following the dinner, which was served at 6 o'clock, impromptu addresses were made by Dr. W. B. Harvey, C. R. Doley, B. K. Elliott, C. B. Randall, H. S. Wherrett, Dr. W. W. Jones and Samuel F. Sipe. Dr. Jones recited selections from James Whitcomb Riley, so dear to the hearts of all the Hoosierites. William B. Aiken acted as toastmaster and commemorated the work of the poet. More than 300 ears of corn, which had been specially imported from Indiana, were served during the dinner. Charles W. Fairbanks, nominee for vice president, had been invited, but sent a telegram expressing his regrets.

BIG HOTEL AT NEW LONDON IS CHOSEN

Will Be Scene of American and Mexican Peace Confabs.

New York, Sept. 4.—A big hotel overlooking Long Island sound at New London, Conn., will be the scene of the conferences of the American and Mexican joint commission. The three Americans and three Mexicans composing this commission have decided upon the place, but are not yet certain on what day they will begin their deliberations.

It has been suggested to the Mexicans that the whole party go to New London tomorrow on the presidential yacht Mayflower, but it was said today that the Mexicans may ask to stay in New York a day or two longer to give Luis Cabrera, the Mexican minister of finance, one of their number, an opportunity for further conference with Dr. Alfredo Caturgel, financial agent of the Carranza government, and with local financiers interested in Mexican railroads. The commissioners met at a luncheon today given by Secretary of State Lansing. Negotiations, according to Secretary Lane, of the department of the interior, who is one of the American commissioners, will be conducted as informally as possible. Mr. Lane believes that such a plan will be feasible because the three Mexican representatives speak English fluently.

CONCORDIA COLLEGE OPENS ON WEDNESDAY

Chapel Exercises to Be Held Under Direction of President.

Concordia college will be opened for the fall term, Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, with chapel exercises by the president, M. Luecke. Tests for candidates for the upper classes, the president announces, will be held Tuesday morning, starting at nine o'clock. Examinations for entering freshmen will be held Wednesday, following chapel exercises.

Sixty New Students.

The president states that sixty new students will be enrolled this year. The average enrollment of the college is 260, and it is expected that this number will be exceeded this year. Several students will enroll from Canada, and many states of the union are represented. Last year students were enrolled from twenty-two states.

155 STARTERS FOR QUALIFYING ROUND

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 4.—Shortly after 8 o'clock this morning Sherrill Sherman, son of the former vice president, and L. R. Munger, of Dallas, Texas, teed on in the qualifying round of the amateur championship of the United States Golf association, which is being held over the double courses of the Merion cricket club. There were 155 starters and it was easily the fastest field of the year, with every section of the United States represented by its foremost golfers. Half the field got away on the east course and the other players started on the west course. The players were to go thirty-six holes and those making the thirty-two lowest scores qualify for the championship, which will be at match play.

SEEK ADJOURNMENT WEDNESDAY EVENING

Washington, Sept. 4.—Senators Simmons and Martin, and Majority Leader Kitchin, of the house, agreed today to pass a joint resolution for adjournment of congress at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening. The senate will defer action on the resolution until it determines that all necessary business can be completed by that time.

Senator Simmons said an effort would be made to pass the revenue bill before adjournment tonight, if possible, as the conferees would have Tuesday and Wednesday to complete their report on senate amendments. There was light attendance in both houses today and prospects for a quick wind up of affairs seemed good.

LITTLE CONGESTION FROM BRIEF EMBARGO

Freight Traffic is Going Forward on Normal Schedules.

New York, Sept. 4.—Freight traffic on all railroads entering New York, interrupted by embargoes due to the fear of a strike, is moving again today on normal schedules. Railroad men say that little congestion has resulted from the brief embargoes. Large quantities of merchandise had been shipped immediately previous to the issuance of hold up orders. This being a holiday, shipments will be lighter than ordinary on Monday and the roads will have an opportunity to catch up with the regular order of freight movements.

Provision dealers say that the market will slump during the next few days because a large quantity of food stuffs held by speculators in expectation of famine prices will be dumped on the market.

CAR SHORTAGE NEXT.

Chicago, Sept. 4.—Shippers throughout the country may expect a car shortage on account of the recent threatened tieup of transportation scheduled for today, according to railroad officials. Nearly all factories and many coal dealers loaded all surplus cars in anticipation of the strike and it will require two or three days to bring about normal conditions, they said.

PRESIDENT WILL TALK TO THE SUFFRAGISTS

Wires Acceptance of Invitation to Address Big Convention.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 4—President Wilson will speak Friday at the convention of the National Woman Suffrage association here. The president wired his acceptance late last night.

The coming of the president is expected to have important bearing on the controversy over the future policy of the association and the question of states right as it concerns votes for women.

One faction in the association headed by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, national president, is in favor of leaving the question of suffrage to the separate states for settlement. Delegates from the southern states, especially, support this plan.

The other faction, of which Miss Alice Paul, president of the congressional union, is a leader, want the association to center its efforts on a constitutional amendment and give the ballot to women all over the United States.

WILL RESEMBLE BLAST FURNACE GONE TO SEA

New Battle Cruisers to Be Well Supplied With Smoke Stacks.

Washington, Sept. 4.—The navy's new battle cruisers, four of which have been authorized to be laid down next year, will look like a blast furnace gone to sea. Each will be equipped with six or more smoke stacks, according to plans now being completed by the navy department. Some American cruisers carry four stacks and some of European construction have five but with the exception of a few small destroyers, no vessels in operation have six. The battle cruisers will be electric driven and oil burning. The builders will be required to produce vessels that will give off no smoke when it is desired to conceal their movements, but they will also be equipped so as to pour out heavy banks of black smoke as a screen to conceal the operations of vessels behind them.

Athens, Sept. 3.—(1 a. m., via London, Sept. 4, 11 a. m.)—Baron von Schenk, chief director of the German propaganda in Greece, has been arrested and taken on board a cruiser of the entente allies. Sixteen additional warships of the entente powers have arrived at Piraeus.

Diplomats of the entente allies had demanded that Baron von Schenk and his co-workers, in behalf of the central empires, be expelled from Greece. It was reported that he had barricaded himself in his house in Athens and surrounded it with a score of armed guards and his friends to protect him.

Hughes today declined to attend the Labor day celebration, as arranged for by a local committee, when he was advised that he would not be permitted to speak except on non-political subjects. Mr. Hughes also declined to review the Tennessee national guard, saying he had no right to do so.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Progress of Men and Women in World of Labor For Past Year

BY SAMUEL GOMPERS.
President of American Federation of Labor.

Labor day, 1916, brings to the workers of America firm confidence in the trade union movement!

SAMUEL GOMPERS

Great progress has been made in securing the eight hour day and better wages and in winning legislative victories.

The issue of labor now is concerned with the attitude of the political parties toward the questions of human welfare, and with the policy of our government toward Mexico.

The shorter workday produces more energetic, more resourceful workers with keener mentality and greater producing power. Wherever demands for the shorter workday and higher wages have been made by organized workers during the past year, they have met with success.

The record of legislative achievements of the labor movement since 1906 is one of splendid victories. The seamen's act brings freedom and protection to the seamen who are pressing their demands for higher wages and better conditions.

The labor sections of the Clayton anti-trust law contain the most advanced concepts of freedom—"The labor of a human being is not a commodity or article of commerce."

The greatest thing in both these acts is the advancement of human freedom.

The question that concerns the workers is how to hold their present advantages and how to obtain from the government still greater opportunities for freedom. The party now in power has in its legislative achievements placed the highest valuation upon human life and human attributes that has ever been declared by any political party in power.

The international issue that now comes closest to the labor movement is the policy of our government toward Mexico. Representatives of labor in Mexico have joined with those in America to insure to the workers and the citizens of Mexico the rights of human beings, opportunities for freedom and for independence.

There are capitalists and exploiting interests in the United States, who, because they have property in Mexico, desire to maintain governmental agencies by which they can hold the people in subjection and deny to them the opportunity for protecting themselves.

These selfish interests are concentrating their political power in the present campaign to secure a different policy on the part of our government toward Mexico.

Even under the guise of intervention, no matter how unnecessary and unwarrantable, the advocates of that policy really aim at the conquest and annexation of Mexico. To them property and profits are held far more sacred than international honor and human liberty

BRIGHT OUTLOOK IS SEEN FOR WOMEN

BY AGNES NESTOR,
Of the National Woman's Trade Union League.

The outlook for the women workers of our country is bright for the coming year. The prospects for organizing women into trade unions in great numbers never looked more promising to us.

AGNES NESTOR.

The National Women's Trade Union league, believing great work can be accomplished, has asked its affiliated local leagues to join in holding interstate conferences, beginning early this fall, so trade union women, leaders in different sections of the country, may confer to plan a campaign through which we may effectively organize the thousands of women in the unorganized trades, and plan, too, a national campaign for an eight-hour day, both through organization and legislation.

Unorganized women have been working long hours for low wages so long that an unrest exists, certain to find expression in uprisings such as we witnessed in strikes last spring.

Shorted hours and increased wages were demanded and because labor was so scarce, the employer not being able to draw on the immigrant, the demands were easily won.

There are trades everywhere in this state of unrest and ready for organization.

In Illinois, we realize, we are far behind other states in the matter of legislation for protection of woman workers, because we still have the 10-hour day and 70-hour week. But we do feel we have advanced when we consider that in 1913 the only measure we could have receive any attention was a 10-hour day and 60-hour week. In 1915 the legislature had sufficiently advanced to consider a 9-hour day, and while legislation for the shorter workday was not obtained, the shorter hour got considerable support. Next year Illinois will have to meet the 8-hour day.

We look forward in the coming session of congress to a bill to create a separate division in the department of labor, to be known as a woman's division, with a woman as chief. This bill was introduced in the present session and while no committee action has been taken it has the endorsement of the secretary of labor and the support of the committee. A favorable report is assured early in the next session of congress.

With prospects of federal aid to vocational education to be granted to the states, opportunities will be open to women, giving them training for trades and occupations that will fit them to enter more profitable employment

Foster's are headquarters on Go-Carts and Baby Carriages.

AT THE TEMPLE.

Supported by a powerful cast, Miss Anna Bert, leading woman in the new Temple stock company, and Mr. Jack Doty, the leading man, scored a distinct triumph at the initial appearance of the troupe, when W. A. Brady's great New York sensation, "Sinners," delighted large audiences at both afternoon and evening performances. Staged under the personal direction of Maurice Jenkins, one of the most popular actors ever playing here in stock, the production, which has won fame as the greatest emotional comedy drama of recent years, was given as a powerful appeal. In it the Temple players, gathered by Manager Louis Wolford, won a hearty welcome and were warmly greeted. Miss Bert was particularly well received. She possesses a personality which is distinctive and a charm of manner which won her way into the hearts of Fort Wayne play-goers. Mr. Doty is a first class actor, with unusual speaking voice and a cleverness which stamps him as a fitting mate to play opposite Miss Bert, in the leading masculine roles.

Today, Labor day, there will be special matinee this afternoon, with matinees also scheduled for Tuesday and Saturday. Popular prices will prevail. "Sinners" will have an entire week's run. Next week, "Kick In," Willard Mack's phenomenal success, will be the attraction at the Temple.

AT THE MAJESTIC

"TWILIGHT SLEEP" IS THEME.

First Authentic Pictures With Lecture at Majestic Four Days.

"Twilight Sleep," the much-heralded been so widely discussed in magazines and by public health workers during the past year, will be the subject of lectures and motion pictures to be given at the Majestic theater at 2:15 and 8:15 p. m. September 6, 7, 8 and 9, under the auspices of the Western Motherhood Educational society.

Mrs. Robert B. Liggett, of St. Paul, will give the lecture and will conduct an open discussion from the audience. Mrs. Liggett will answer questions from anyone present about twilight sleep or the care of babies. Mrs. Liggett is not advocating or asking for the endorsement of twilight sleep. Her lecture is purely informational.

Illustrating the lecture will be three reels of motion pictures taken at Freiburg, Germany, showing an actual twilight sleep birth in all its stages, in charge of Dr. Kurt E. Schlissingk, associate of Drs. Kronig and Gauss, the discoverers of the process. Dr. Schlissingk has been in this country for more than a year, conducting clinics for American physicians and teaching the Freiburg technique of twilight sleep.

Dr. Bertha von Hoosen, of the Mary Thompson hospital, of Chicago, has had more than one thousand cases of twilight sleep, without one failure. Many of the women physicians of this state are taking a course in the treatment from Dr. von Hoosen.

Mrs. Liggett spent three weeks in Detroit, where she assisted in raising a fund to establish a twilight sleep ward in the Woman's hospital. While in this city Mrs. Liggett will talk to various women's organizations on twilight sleep.

AT THE PALACE

Palace Fuses Not Heavy Enough for Currents Electrical Venus Had to Handle.

When the Electrical Venus, closing the new bill at the Palace, opened her engagement, she had not previously tested the fuses on the Palace switchboard, and in generating high currents off the mains to pass through her body, the entire system of fuses was blown out, forcing her to discontinue her act. Her demonstration is remarkable, and that the currents she passes through her body should be so heavy as to blow out the fuses shows how exceptional her demonstration is. There are a number of laughs to be obtained from her act, also.

The whole of the new bill is one of variety, even to the fifty-eighth different kind, which happens to be Harry Aines, in a ridiculous bit of mimicry and monologue. Fort Wayne vaudeville lovers also have the opportunity of seeing the Potash and Pearlmutter of vaudeville during the first half of this week, for George Fisher and company are here in the laughable farce, "The Partners." The bill opens with The Cavanno Duo, in a pleasing bit of everything, from harp playing to slack wire work. Patricola & Meyers have a good number in "The Girl and the Dancing Fool," which describes their act better than any longer discussion. Arthur Angel and company offer an enjoyable bit of patriotism in "A Real Soldier," but combine with it a number of laughs.

A new bill will open Thursday headed by Gus Edwards' School Boys and Girls.

WESTERN GAS ARE SEASON'S CHAMPIONS

Construction Men Defeat Turners in Final Game of Shop Season.

The members of the Western Gas team again demonstrated that they are the champions of the Fort Wayne Industrial league in every department. They outbatted the clubmen and played fine baseball all during the contest. To those who did not see the contest the 8 to 1 victory might look like a farce but it was far from that. The two teams battled with the score standing 2 to 1 in favor of the Westerns up till the eighth when the construction men landed on Zoll for six runs. The batting honors were divided between Hargrave, Luetwiler and H. Heine, each of the men taking three.

The fans are after Mart Cleary to give the Westerns a chance at his team for the city championship, to which request Mart readily consented. The two outfits would put up some scrap and the fans would be assured some fine baseball. The date of the game will be announced later. The score of the game is as follows:

PAYNE TOSSERS TAKE FT. WAYNE INTO CAMP

Visiting Umpire Pulls Big Boner and Nips Local's Big Rally.

When recording a game of any kind it doesn't look well to say this man or that man robbed another team of a win, but there are times when such a thing is so plain that it becomes a fact, and then complaint is justified.

This is how it hapened. The Clearyites came to bat in the eighth frame with not a marker to their credit and after two were out they started a big rally and shoved across the pen five tallies. Weberus, Nill, C. Alberts were on the bases when Capt. Bill Hillinger came to bat. The Clearyite's center fielder smacked one, a roller, to Grimes. The pitcher heaved a wild one to Humbrecht, drawing his foot off the bag, during which operation Hillinger stepped on the sack. The umpire from Payne had nerve enough to take his life in his hands and call Bill out; then he crawled to cover. For a minute there looked as if there would be a fight but the sportsmanship of the Fort Wayne crew prevented any serious consequences. The decision lost the game for the Clearyites as the next man up was due for a hit.

The game was no farce. Aside from the bad feature of the umpire, it resembled a big league contest, with the Clearyites making the most of the errors. Distel pitched good ball but the eight men behind him caused his downfall. The old jinx of playing Payne came back and everything broke against them. Payne hit easy infield grounders which used the freakish way of bounding over the heads of the Clearyites for hits. The game was fast and interesting, many plays and slips making the game look fine from the stands. In the second inning Speed Weberus took a fast one behind third and with an underhand throw retired the runner. The sun was bad yesterday. Nill had one in his mitts and the sun blinded him, causing the ball to keep out of reach. Heine led the crew with three hits to his credit. His opponent, Wares, also had three.

The crowd was large, nearly two thousand being present to see the teams in action. The Payne crowd was very much in evidence judging from the yelling.

The Fort Wayne Colored Giants play the Clearyites Monday and are to use the double umpiring system. They are loading their lineup with Lima Giants and Louisville Black Sox players and are out for a win, with everything pointing to that outcome.

The box score of the game Sunday follows:

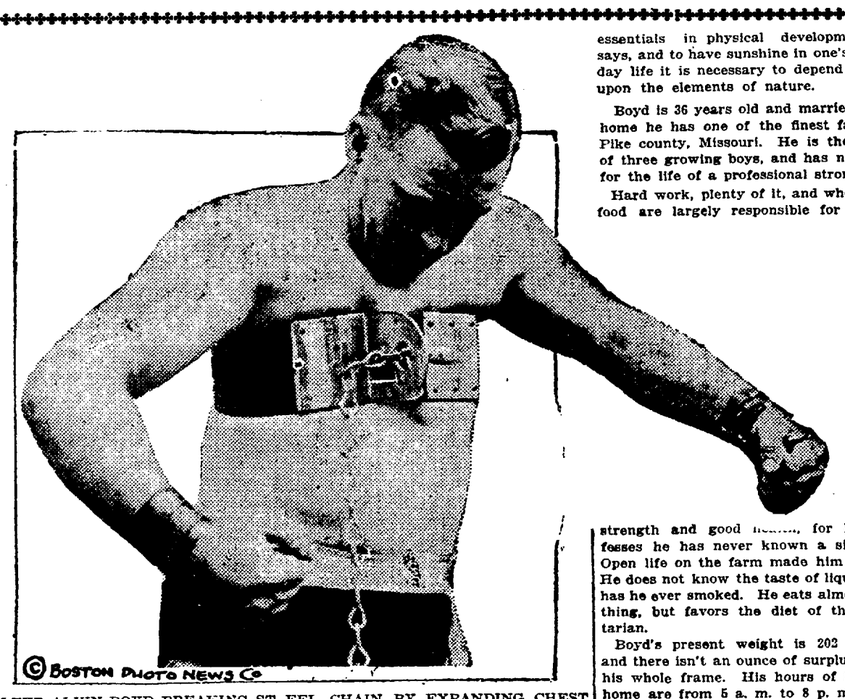
MISSOURI FARMER IS CHAMPION STRONG MAN OF HARVARD; SNAPS STEEL CHAIN BY EXPANDING HIS CHEST 14 INCHES!



WALTER ALVIN BOYD BREAKING STEEL CHAIN BY EXPANDING CHEST 14 INCHES.

(By Harold Johnson.)

He breaks a steel chain by a 14-inch chest expansion and if you think that's a trick he'll soon disillusionize you by supporting eight men on the same chest holding the 1,600 pound burden two minutes.

Feats such as these are commonplace with Walter Alvin Boyd, of Louisiana, Mo., the strongest man at the Harvard summer school.

Boyd does stunts that even the professional man of muscle might find beyond his power of endurance. His merry go round feat in which he supports eight men on his chest with his body on the ground in the shape of a bridge, is original, Boyd says.

The hercules from the west is rounding out a course in the department of physical education at Harvard so he can go back home and teach the kiddies a few of the most modern eastern forms of physical culture.

"Be cheerful!" That is Boyd's motto. The cultivation of a cheerful disposition is above all one of the most important essentials in physical development, he says, and to have sunshine in one's everyday life it is necessary to depend largely upon the elements of nature.

Boyd is 36 years old and married. Back home he has one of the finest farms in Pike county, Missouri. He is the father of three growing boys, and has no desire for the life of a professional strong man.

Hard work, plenty of it, and wholesome food are largely responsible for Boyd's strength and good health, for he confesses he has never known a sick day. Open life on the farm made him rugged. He does not know the taste of liquors nor has he ever smoked. He eats almost anything, but favors the diet of the vegetarian.

Boyd's present weight is 202 pounds, and there isn't an ounce of surplus fat on his whole frame. His hours of labor at home are from 5 a. m. to 8 p. m. Three evenings of his week are given over to a class of youngsters in physical culture.

Ten men pulling together failed to break the steel chain that Boyd easily snaps with his chest by his chest expansion. The chain is placed about his chest with the customary straps to hold it in place. In a jiffy Boyd's chest expands and the chain is snapped in twain.

During this feat his heart stops one beat.

Boyd does not believe in lifting dead weights or by harness, as he says they stiffen a man's muscles. Real lifts require action, he says.

TENNIS FINALS AT COUNTRY CLUB TODAY

S. E. Mulholland Donates Beautiful Cup for the City Tennis Play.

The Fort Wayne city tennis tourney is nearing a close after showing some fine tennis to the fans of the city and giving the organization a boost towards a successful goal. The singles and doubles finals are to be played at the Country club this afternoon, with Dr. Miles F. Porter, Jr., and Clinton Burton as the singles attraction. This match should prove a fast one. Both men are fine tennis players. Burton was eliminated by Porter when he won the city championship last year. Burton is a placing player and resorts to that game most frequently. This is the game that Daniel Kiefer, of Cincinnati, worried when the two met in the northern Indiana tourney.

The finals in the doubles of the tourney affords a lot of talk as to who will win. The Burton-Mulholland pair look fine. These players are two of the best ever turned out in the city and are working hard for the city championship. Both play a fast game, Burton being a placing and a net player, while Mulholland has few equals around here in the back court game.

The O'Rourke-Bailhe combination are no pick up pair and are due to make things lively for the two favorites. They have not played together very much but make up that department by being expert racquet wielders. The singles start at 1:30 o'clock and the doubles shortly after the singles have been completed. The public has been invited to attend the play.

S. E. Mulholland has donated a beautiful silver cup for the play in the city series in 1917. The cup is a three year trophy and will be the property of the association until next year, when it will be up for competition. Mr. Mulholland is a tennis fan, and is doing everything he can to see the game pushed forward in Fort Wayne.

SPORT DOPE

The more we see of the St. Louis Browns the more we're reminded of the old hare and tortoise fable.

Some people refer to Wheezer Dell as a tall pitcher. Others just say he's tall.

Wilbert Robinson is the weightiest argument we know in favor of the Dodgers.

There is no truth in the report that Merkle, Chief Meyers and Rube Marquard are begging McGraw to take them back.

George Sisler is modest and dislikes the spotlight. Can't blame the young man as the spotlight is hard on the batting eye and has ruined many a promising rookie.

Dave Davenport is a tough mugg. He broke Jack Barry's hand and Boston's backbone with a single pitch.

SCOTTISH RITE MASONS.

The funeral services of Brother W. S. Sponhauer will be held at Scotish Rite Cathedral, Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

EVERYTHING SET FOR KILBANE-CHANEY GO

Every Seat Sold for the Biggest Featherweight Mill in Years.

Cedar Point, O., Sept. 4.—Despite assurances from both contestants in today's battle for the world's featherweight title, Johnny Kilbane, title holder, and George Chaney, challenger, that they have easily reached the 122 pounds required, a suspicion existed in each camp before the men entered the ring that the other fellow had found difficulty in making it. The feeling seemed strong in the ranks of the Chaney supporters, whose confidence grew as the hour for the contest approached.

The Cleveland boxer through his manager Jimmy Dunn, declared, however, that he weighed 121 pounds before leaving Cleveland yesterday, and that he was in excellent shape for the bout.

Experts expect the mill to be a contest between the rugged, slambang style exemplified by the Baltimore man and the clever defensive battle for which Kilbane is famous. Chaney comes with a reputation as being a dispenser of knockout blows, but Kilbane is expected by his friends from Cleveland to outbox his rival throughout the fifteen rounds and perhaps score a knockout himself.

Odds before the first preliminary went on at 2 o'clock were practically 2 to 1, with Kilbane the favorite, and very little Chaney money in sight.

From a scenic standpoint the arena is one of the prettiest sites ever used for a championship bout. It is located on the edge of Sandusky bay, with a background of willows. Its seating capacity is a little more, it is said, than 10,000, and every seat was sold when the first of the spectators straggled in this morning.

MUCH INTEREST IN WELSH-WHITE SCRAP

Colorado Springs Crowded With Fans to See Fight Scheduled Today.

Colorado Springs, Col., Sept. 4.—With the city crowded with fight fans and incoming trains and automobiles bringing scores of others, everything was in readiness today for the ring contest between Champion Freddie Welsh and Challenger Charlie White, which is to decide the lightweight championship of the world. Followers of the fighting game today admittedly were at sea in hazarding a choice between the two men. In the respective camps the principals were said to be in fine condition and confident.

Fetting, following announcement by District Attorney M. W. Purcell that bookmaking would be barred, was of such a nature that the favorite could not be determined. Considerable money, it was understood, is being placed in private. The men are expected to enter the ring between 3 and 3:30 this afternoon. Final arrangements for preliminaries and motion pictures are to be made this morning.

WOMEN'S INTEREST IN LABOR DAY DEEPER THAN EVER, SAYS HELEN MAROT.

New York, Sept. 4.—"Women have a greater interest in Labor day this year than ever before!"

This is the Labor day view of Helen Marot, writer on the problems of working women and noted advocate of the woman's trade union movement.

"The continued stoppage of immigration, caused by the war, has given women workers in this country at least as great an opportunity as it has given men. And the women have seen the men taking advantage of their opportunity, and are awakening more and more fully to themselves.

"As an instance, let me mention the office workers, who are almost exclusively women. Recently they have formed thirteen local unions in different cities. Before fall is passed, a national union will have been formed.

"The recent fight of the teachers' union in Chicago has stimulated discussion throughout the country, and prospects for organization in their profession have grown brighter.

"It is an interesting phase of the women's labor movement also that the working women themselves are now more active the organization of their fellows. A few years ago the leaders in the Women's Trade Union league were persons of leisure.

"For instance, the president of the New York brance of the Women's Trade Union league, Mrs. Melinda Scott, was once a factory worker, and is now a member of the state industrial council. Agnes Nestor, once worker and organizer in the glove trade, is a national committee member in the American Federation of Labor.

"It was the Womens' Trade Union league which got forces of the men together and pushed to a successful conclusion the fight on the proposal of the New York state department of labor and the New Yo manufacturers to lengthen again the legal hours of labor for working women.

"These are some of the recent accomplishments of working women which it is well to recall on Labor day. But we ought to look even more hopefully toward the prospects for the future.

"Strikebreakers are at a premium now. Almost every strike since the war began has resulted in a gain of some kind for the strikers. This is the example the women have under their eyes.

"And soon women will have to be taken into men's trades. For the first time in many years there is something like a shortage of male labor. Once women are in these trades, they will stay.

"Because they need not fear the competition of inflowing immigrants, the women can organize each new trade as they enter it. That is the hope that will be in the minds of hundreds of thousands of women workers this Labor day!"

WOMEN'S PARTY GETS NEW HOPE IN FIGHT

Replies from Candidates for Congress Gives Much Encouragement.

Washington, Sept. 4.—A positive majority for the federal suffrage amendment in the congress to be elected in November is indicated by the 132 replies so far received from candidates to questions sent out by the congressional committee of the National American Woman Suffrage association.

One hundred and twelve of the candidates who replied, or nearly 85 per cent, declared themselves in favor of woman suffrage and stated they would vote for the federal suffrage amendment and that they would work to get a favorable report on the amendment if they should be on the committee which has jurisdiction.

Of the thirty-nine replies so far received from Illinois only one is unfavorable. Women cannot vote for senators and representatives in Illinois, but national leaders are counting on the entire Illinois delegation.

Mrs. Roessing will confer with the Illinois suffragists at the time of the national convention in Atlantic City, Sept. 6, when plans will be made as to what action to take with regard to this delinquent.

Seven favorable and no unfavorable answers have been received from Minnesota. Michigan also has so far sent in no unfavorable or non-committal replies. Five candidates have pledged their support.

From Wisconsin five replies have been received to date, four favorable and one opposed.

There have been forty-nine replies to date from Pennsylvania candidates. Forty-six of them answered favorably. One declared his opposition to the federal amendment, while two were non-committal.

W. P. DITTOE IS PRESIDENT OF VETS

Nickel Plate Men Place Him at Head of Their Social Organization.

"The best we ever had," is the way the Fort Wayne Nickel Plate vets who attended the annual banquet and meeting of the association at Buffalo last Saturday describe that event. "The attendance was somewhat below the number it would have been had it not been for the threatened strike, but it was larger than at any of the previous meetings, there being over 400 at the banquet," said one of the enthusiastic veterans.

Before the banquet the election was held which resulted as follows:

Past president, Charles W. Bell, conductor on the Fort Wayne and Chicago divisions.

President, W. P. Dittoe, purchasing agent of the company.

First vice president, William Ogelvie, inspector of fuel.

Second vice president, R. W. Mitchener, superintendent of transportation.

At the banquet the speakers were: President J. J. Benet, assistant to President A. W. Johnston, William Ogelvie, W. P. Dittoe, John J. Wells, of the Buffalo News, and Attorney Stafford, one of the guests at the banquet.

The entertaining features included a trip over the Gorge route, with occasion stops at points of interest, which was enjoyed by over 400 people.

The membership roll was given quite a boost, there being twenty-two additions made at the business meeting in the afternoon, bringing the total up to 523. The vets received every courtesy at the hands of the company enroute to and from Buffalo and by the people of Buffalo, and a vote of thanks was taken just before adjournment.

EMBARGO IS RAISED.

Only the Holiday Prevents Usual Freight Movements.

All the railways are moving through freight today, though because of the embargo on the business last week, the movement is not up to the standard. Local business, on account of the holiday, is suspended for the time, but it will be resumed tomorrow. Nothing remains of the late eight hour controversy to interfere with business or mar the feelings of the majority of the people, and tomorrow will find business conditions on the roads in the usual condition. W. H. Grout, who represented the G. R. & I. conductors at Washington, took passenger train No. 11 north today and will bring No. 4 back tomorrow. Roy Jones, who represented the G. R. & I. engineers, has returned from Washington, but has not resumed his duties on the road. Engineer D. D. Miller, who represented the Pennsylvania firemen, has not returned yet, being engaged on some committee work.

WILL HAVE CLEVELAND EXCURSION.

District Passenger Agent F. P. Parnim, of the Nickel Plate, is out early this year with the announcement of the date of the annual fall excursion to Cleveland, which will be given on Saturday, September 30, the return limit being the train which pulls out of Cleveland at 7:35 o'clock Monday evening, October 2, giving the excursionists three days at Cleveland. There will be the usual special excursion train leaving Fort Wayne at 7 o'clock Saturday morning and trains No. 2, leaving at 3:05, and No. 4, leaving at 8:05 Saturday, will also carry excursionists. The fare will be $3.75, which is a slight advance over the fares of the previous excursions.

PRINTERS ELECT DELEGATES.

The Printers' union, No. 78, at the meeting yesterday afternoon named Charles Habacker and Bert Bleigh delegates to the annual convention of the State Federation of Labor at Logansport, September 25, 26 and 27. George Overdear and Harry Keller were named as alternate delegates. The union also decided to give the vocational school movement in Fort Wayne its support and emphasized the commercial course feature.

FIRST OUTING A SUCCESS.

Th first outing and field day of the Bridge and Structural Iron Workers' union, No. 147, held at Centilvre park yesterday was all that the management could desire. It was well attended, the weather conditions were ideal and the program for the entertainment of the members and the guests was excellent and carried out in full. There was a band of twenty pieces to furnish the music and there were refeshments in abundance.

MEAT CUTTERS TO CELEBRATE.

The members of the Meat Cutters' union, local No. 423, will hold a smoker on the evening of September 28, at which time they will celebrate the tenth anniversary of the organization. In addition, the union plans on inaugurating a special membership campaign, and an effort will be made to get every meat cutter in the city a member of the local. The meetings is to be held at Vordermark hall.

WILL RETURN TO CHICAGO.

Freight Agent H. E. Allison and Passenger Agent C. A. Pritchard, of the Nickel Plate, left this afternoon for Chicago on business connected with the freight handlers' strike in that city. They were there last week and came home Saturday to spend Sunday with their families and to look after some railway business.

NEW LABOR ORGANIZATION.

Through the efforts of Henry L. Holtje, organizer for the Federation of Labor, the Cement Workers' union was organized yesterday and has applied for a charter. The officers are: George Jaap, jr., president; Frank Effert, vice president; O. A. Hoover, secretary and treasurer, and W. A. Stapleton,, sergeant at arms.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Passenger Conductor Pat Pembroke, of the G. R. & I., is sick and off duty. He is a hay fever victim.

The name of the Nickel Plate railroad station at Dover, O., has been changed to North Dover, O.

Holiday travel on the railroads is very heavy. It is particularly heavy on the G. R. & I. and the N. Y. C., over which lines the bulk of the travel to the lake resorts goes. The Nickel Plate also had a big dollar Sunday business, there being 543 tickets sold at the local station. The purchasers of these tickets did not return last night and will come in tonight and tomorrow on regular fares.

At the meeting held yesterday afternoon the bartenders' local, No. 305, obligated four new members, making the enrollment the largest in the history of the organization. The local also drew up resolutions on the death of Fred Dammeyer, and the charter was ordered draped in mourning. Arrangements were made for the attendance of delegates to the Indiana state convention of the Federation of Labor to be held at Logansport September 23.

When Passenger Engineer M. G. Flagle, of the L. E. & W., was about to leave the hall of Division 12, B. L. E., last evening, the only hat on the rack where he had earlier placed his own headgear was a massive straw affair which completely enveloped Mr. Flagle's head and rested upon his shoulders when he put it on. He regards the exchange the work of a joker and is patiently awaiting the return of his own hat.

SENTINEL WANT ADS ALWAYS GET RESULTS

GIVES MOST EFFORT TO LAUDING HUGHES

Progressives Are Ignored in New Republican Text Book.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 4.—Advance copies of the republican campaign textbook were given out today by the local representatives of the national committee.

By far the greater part of the volume is devoted to Charles E. Hughes, the candidate for the presidency, and his public utterances and his public record.

Mexico and the tariff are the two chief topics of the book outside of Mr. Hughes. Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, is author of "The Story of Mexico." In addition to this there is a Mexican Catechism," in which all possible questions concerning the administration's record are asked and answered.

The book refers to the Japanese peril in the chapter on the tariff and contains convincing facts concerning its imminence.

Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy, comes in for a severe criticism, which includes the remarks made about him by George Harvey, editor of the North American Review, under the heading, "Sir Josephus, N. C. B."

Other writers in the volume are Senators Weeks, of Massachusetts, and Gallinger, of New Hampshire; Myron T. Herrick, of Cleveland; Representatives Miller and Anderson, of Minnesota; Sloan, of Nebraska, and Rogers, of Massachusetts.

Progressive republicans, in scanning the volume, failed to find any contributions from any of their group. Also, they noticed that no appeal to the progressives is contained in it outside of the letter and article written by Col. Roosevelt declining the progressive nomination.

The civil service record of the democratic administration is lambasted and the volume contains portions of the proceedings of the National Civil Service Reform league to prove its contention that the democrats have raided the service at every opportunity.

Another feature consists of quotations from more than forty democratic congressmen and senators in criticism of acts of the Wilson administration.

MANY SPORT EVENTS PLANNED FOR THE DAY

National Championship is a Stake in an Unusual Number of Contests.

New York, Sept. 4.—An unprecedented program of athletic events throughout the United States will make Labor day, 1916, a memorable date in the history of American sport. The national championship today is at stake in an unusual number of outdoor engagements. It is probable that the number of persons who will see prominent athletes perform today will establish a record.

Two national boxing titles are at issue—the lightweight championship at Colorado Springs, Col., where Freddie Welsh will defend his crown against Charlie White, and the featherweight championship at Cedar Point, O., where Johnny Kilbane will meet George Chaney.

The national amateur championship will open on the Marion golf club links at Haverford, Pa., and the semi-finals of the national tennis singles tournament will be decided at Forest Hills, N. Y.

Detroit is the scene of a national championship motor regatta. Two A. U. swimming championships will be decided—the 100 yards at Honolulu and the ten mile at St. Louis.

Games in both major baseball leagues both morning and afternoon will make the day an important one in the race for two pennants.

IN THE CHURCHES

Ladies' Aid to Meet.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Simpson M. E. church will meet Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. C. E. Enslen, 235 East Williams street.

NO FATALITIES IN WRECK ON G. R. & I.

Fifty Injured When Resort Flyer Meets a Mishap Near Mancelona.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 4.—No fatalities will result from the wreck Saturday night on the southbound resort flyer of the Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad at Wilkins switch, near Mancelona, Mich., according to surgeons of the road. Fully fifty persons were injured, some of them seriously. Those most seriously hurt are in a hospital at Cadillac, Mich.

Mrs. G. H. Bennett, of Chicago, whose scalp was torn loose and who at first was thought to be fatally hurt, is now believed to be out of danger. Among the others injured is Caroline L. Sumner, Connersville, Ind., sprained ankle and knee injured.

Most of the injured were riding in the day coach at the front of the train when it struck a split rail and several of the coaches ran into the ditch.

The place where the accident occurred is about fifty miles south of Petoskey, a popular Michigan summering place.

GERMANS TRUE TO U. S., DECLARES MR. KELLER

Indianapolis, Sept. 4.—Joseph Keller, president of the Indiana State Alliance of German Societies, in addressing the state meeting here yesterday, declared members of the alliance have been true to America during the two years of the European war. He asserted that during this time German-Americans in the United States have been publicly maligned and subjected to persecution and calumny." Further, he said, "the German element is coming politically into its own."

Mr. Keller reported the state alliance now has 215 subordinate alliances in the state with a membership of 22,000 persons. The growth in the last year, he said, was from 175 societies to 215 in thirty-five cities. Carl Dreisch, of Evansville, secretary of the state association, said there are more than 62,000 native born Germans in Indiana and more than 30,000 native born Austrians.

STOPS WIFE'S TONGUE; PAYS HOSPITAL BILL

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 4.—John Kearne's wife talked too much — at least so he allowed—but that's getting ahead of the story.

Kearne and his wife spent yesterday in Shaw's botanical gardens. A gardener was explaining things about the plants.

"What is that?" inquired Kearne, pointing to a plant.

"It is known as dumbcane," replied the gardener.

"Why the dumb?" asked Kearne.

"If you touch it with your tongue it renders you speechless," was the response.

Some time later Kearne approached his wife smilingly.

"Shut your eyes and open your mouth, I've something good for you," he said and his wife obeyed. At the city hospital Mrs. Kearne recovered her speech today and she told on Kearne. He confessed. Likewise he footed the hospital bill.

"I didn't have faith in what that gardener said, but sometimes my wife talks too much and I thought I'd try it," he said.

It's a season of featherbone and horsehair, but such featherbone and horsehair as our grandmothers never dreamed of in their clothes philosophy. The horsehair with which the dimities, organdies and tulles are "hooped" into barrel-like width is sheer as a veil and weighs no more than a feather. These stiffening contrivances are usually arranged in the underskirt of the summer frocks. The shops offer many practical things in the way of "distenders" for fluffy skirts.

WESTERN GAS ARE SEASON'S CHAMPIONS

Construction Men Defeat Turners in Final Game of Shop Season.

The members of the Western Gas team again demonstrated that they are the champions of the Fort Wayne Industrial league in every department. They outbatted the clubmen and played fine baseball all during the contest. To those who did not see the contest the 8 to 1 victory might look like a farce but it was far from that. The two teams battled with the score standing 2 to 1 in favor of the Westerns up till the eighth when the construction men landed on Zoll for six runs. The batting honors were divided between Hargrave, Luetwiler and H. Heine, each of the men taking three.

The fans are after Mart Cleary to give the Westerns a chance at his team for the city championship, to which request Mart readily consented. The two outfits would put up some scrap and the fans would be assured some fine baseball. The date of the game will be announced later. The score of the game is as follows:

PAYNE TOSSERS TAKE FT. WAYNE INTO CAMP

Visiting Umpire Pulls Big Boner and Nips Local's Big Rally.

When recording a game of any kind it doesn't look well to say this man or that man robbed another team of a win, but there are times when such a thing is so plain that it becomes a fact, and then complaint is justified.

This is how it hapened. The Clearyites came to bat in the eighth frame with not a marker to their credit and after two were out they started a big rally and shoved across the pan five tallies. Weberus, Nill, C. Alberts were on the bases when Capt. Bill Hillinger came to bat. The Clearyite's center fielder smacked one, a roller, to Grimes. The pitcher heaved a wild one to Humbrecht, drawing his foot off the bag, during which operation Hillinger stepped on the sack. The umpire from Payne had nerve enough to take his life in his hands and call Bill out; then he crawled to cover. For a minute there looked as if there would be a fight but the sportsmanship of the Fort Wayne crew prevented any serious consequences. The decision lost the game for the Clearyites as the next man up was due for a hit.

The game was no farce. Aside from the bad feature of the umpire, it resembled a big league contest, with the Clearyites making the most of the errors. Distel pitched good ball but the eight men behind him caused his downfall. The old jinx of playing Payne came back and everything broke against them. Payne hit easy infield grounders which used the freakish way of bounding over the heads of the Clearyites for hits. The game was fast and interesting, many plays and slips making the game look fine from the stands. In the second inning Speed Weberus took a fast one behind third and with an underhand throw retired the runner. The sun was bad yesterday. Nill had one in his mitts and the sun blinded him, causing the ball to keep out of reach. Heine led the crew with three hits to his credit. His opponent, Wares, also had three.

The crowd was large, nearly two thousand being present to see the teams in action. The Payne crowd was very much in evidence judging from the yelling.

The Fort Wayne Colored Giants play the Clearyites Monday and are to use the double umpiring system. They are loading their lineup with Lima Giants and Louisville Black Sox players and are out for a win, with everything pointing to that outcome.

The box score of the game Sunday follows:

MISSOURI FARMER IS CHAMPION STRONG MAN OF HARVARD; SNAPS STEEL CHAIN BY EXPANDING HIS CHEST 14 INCHES!

(By Harold Johnson.)

He breaks a steel chain by a 14-inch chest expansion and if you think that's a trick he'll soon disillusionize you by supporting eight men on the same chest holding the 1,600 pound burden two minutes.

Feats such as these are commonplace with Walter Alvin Boyd, of Louisiana, Mo., the strongest man at the Harvard summer school.

Boyd does stunts that even the professional man of muscle might find beyond his power of endurance. His merry go round feat in which he supports eight men on his chest with his body on the ground in the shape of a bridge, is original, Boyd says.

The hercules from the west is rounding out a course in the department of physical education at Harvard so he can go back home and teach the kiddies a few of the most modern eastern forms of physical culture.

"Be cheerful!" That is Boyd's motto. The cultivation of a cheerful disposition is above all one of the most important essentials in physical development, he says, and to have sunshine in one's everyday life it is necessary to depend largely upon the elements of nature.

Boyd is 36 years old and married. Back home he has one of the finest farms in Pike county, Missouri. He is the father of three growing boys, and has no desire for the life of a professional strong man.

Hard work, plenty of it, and wholesome food are largely responsible for Boyd's strength and good health, for he confesses he has never known a sick day. Open life on the farm made him rugged. He does not know the taste of liquors nor has he ever smoked. He eats almost anything, but favors the diet of the vegetarian.

Boyd's present weight is 202 pounds, and there isn't an ounce of surplus fat on his whole frame. His hours of labor at home are from 5 a. m. to 8 p. m. Three evenings of his week are given over to a class of youngsters in physical culture.

Ten men pulling together failed to break the steel chain that Boyd easily snaps with his chest by his chest expansion. The chain is placed about his chest with the customary straps to hold it in place. In a jiffy Boyd's chest expands and the chain is snapped in twain.

During this feat his heart stops one beat.

Boyd does not believe in lifting dead weights or by harness, as he says they stiffen a man's muscles. Real lifts require action, he says.

TENNIS FINALS AT COUNTRY CLUB TODAY

S. E. Mulholland Donates Beautiful Cup for the City Tennis Play.

The Fort Wayne city tennis tourney is nearing a close after showing some fine tennis to the fans of the city and giving the organization a boost towards a successful goal. The singles and doubles finals are to be played at the Country club this afternoon, with Dr. Miles F. Porter, Jr., and Clinton Burton as the singles attraction. This match should prove a fast one. Both men are fine tennis players. Burton was eliminated by Porter when he won the city championship last year. Burton is a placing player and resorts to that game most frequently. This is the game that Daniel Kiefer, of Cincinnati, worried when the two met in the northern Indiana tourney.

The finals in the doubles of the tourney affords a lot of talk as to who will win. The Burton-Mulholland pair look fine. These players are two of the best ever turned out in the city and are working hard for the city championship. Both play a fast game, Burton being a placing and a net player, while Mulholland has few equals around here in the back court game.

The O'Rourke-Bailhe combination are no pick up pair and are due to make things lively for the two favorites. They have not played together very much but make up that department by being expert racquet wielders. The singles start at 1:30 o'clock and the doubles shortly after the singles have been completed. The public has been invited to attend the play.

S. E. Mulholland has donated a beautiful silver cup for the play in the city series in 1917. The cup is a three year trophy and will be the property of the association until next year, when it will be up for competition. Mr. Mulholland is a tennis fan, and is doing everything he can to see the game pushed forward in Fort Wayne.

SPORT DOPE

The more we see of the St. Louis Browns the more we're reminded of the old hare and tortoise fable.

Some people refer to Wheezer Dell as a tall pitcher. Others just say he's tall.

Wilbert Robinson is the weightiest argument we know in favor of the Dodgers.

There is no truth in the report that Merkle, Chief Meyers and Rube Marquard are begging McGraw to take them back.

George Sisler is modest and dislikes the spotlight. Can't blame the young man as the spotlight is hard on the batting eye and has ruined many a promising rookie.

Dave Davenport is a tough mugg. He broke Jack Barry's hand and Boston's backbone with a single pitch.

SCOTTISH RITE MASONS.

EVERYTHING SET FOR KILBANE-CHANEY GO

Every Seat Sold for the Biggest Featherweight Mill in Years.

Cedar Point, O., Sept. 4.—Despite assurances from both contestants in today's battle for the world's featherweight title, Johnny Kilbane, title holder, and George Chaney, challenger, that they have easily reached the 122 pounds required, a suspicion existed in each camp before the men entered the ring that the other fellow had found difficulty in making it. The feeling seemed strong in the ranks of the Chaney supporters, whose confidence grew as the hour for the contest approached.

The Cleveland boxer through his manager Jimmy Dunn, declared, however, that he weighed 121 pounds before leaving Cleveland yesterday, and that he was in excellent shape for the bout.

Experts expect the mill to be a contest between the rugged, slambang style exemplified by the Baltimore man and the clever defensive battle for which Kilbane is famous. Chaney comes with a reputation as being a dispenser of knockout blows, but Kilbane is expected by his friends from Cleveland to outbox his rival throughout the fifteen rounds and perhaps score a knockout himself.

Odds before the first preliminary went on at 2 o'clock were practically 2 to 1, with Kilbane the favorite, and very little Chaney money in sight.

From a scenic standpoint the arena is one of the prettiest sites ever used for a championship bout. It is located on the edge of Sandusky bay, with a background of willows. Its seating capacity is a little more, it is said, than 10,000, and every seat was sold when the first of the spectators straggled in this morning.

MUCH INTEREST IN WELSH-WHITE SCRAP

Colorado Springs Crowded With Fans to See Fight Scheduled Today.

Colorado Springs, Col., Sept. 4.—With the city crowded with fight fans and incoming trains and automobiles bringing scores of others, everything was in readiness today for the ring contest between Champion Freddie Welsh and Challenger Charlie White, which is to decide the lightweight championship of the world. Followers of the fighting game today admittedly were at sea in hazarding a choice between the two men. In the respective camps the principals were said to be in fine condition and confident.

Fetting, following announcement by District Attorney M. W. Purcell that bookmaking would be barred, was of such a nature that the favorite could not be determined. Considerable money, it was understood, is being placed in private. The men are expected to enter the ring between 3 and 3:30 this afternoon. Final arrangements for preliminaries and motion pictures are to be made this morning.

LINCOLN'S BIRTHPLACE GIVEN TO NATION

LINCOLN HOME NOW PEOPLE'S

Ceremonies at Little Log Cabin in Which Emancipator Was Born.

Hodgensville, Ky., Sept. 4.—Standing before the log cabin in which Abraham Lincoln was born, now housed in a magnificent memorial structure, President Wilson today, in behalf of the United States, accepted the Lincoln homestead, acquired by popular subscription through the Lincoln Farm association. The president made his trip to Hodgensville wholly one of tribute to the memory of Lincoln, declining all invitations to make speeches in the political campaign.

"How eloquent this little house within this shrine is of the vigor of democracy!" exclaimed the president as he spoke of Lincoln as exemplifying the American spirit as showing the heights which men of lowly birth may attain.

"We are not worthy to stand here," said he, "unless we ourselves be in deed and in truth real democrats and servants of mankind, ready to give our very lives for the freedom and justice and spiritual exaltation of the great nation which shelters and nurtures us."

The President's Address.

The president's address in full follows:

"No more significant memorial could have been presented to the nation than this. It expresses so much of what is singular and noteworthy in the history of the country; it suggests so many of the things that we prize most highly in our life and in our system of government. How eloquent this little house within this shrine is of the vigor of democracy! There is nowhere in the land any home so remote, so humble, that it may not contain the power of mind and heart and conscience to which nations yield and history submits its processes. Nature pays no tribute to aristocracy, subscribes to no creed of caste, renders fealty to no monarch or master of any name or kind. Genius is no snob. It does not run after titles or seek by preference the high circles of society. It affects humble company as well as great. It pays no special tribute to universities or learned societies or conventional standards of greatness, but serenely chooses its own comrades, its own haunts, its own cradle even, and its own life of adventure and of training. Here is proof of it. This little hut was the cradle of one of the great sons of men, a man of singular, delightful, vital genius who presently emerged upon the great stage of the nation's history, gaunt, shy, ungainly, but dominant and majestic, a natural ruler of men, himself inevitably the central figure of the great plot. No man can explain this, but every man can see how it demonstrates the vigor of democracy, where every door is open, in every hamlet and countryside, in city and wilderness alike, for the ruler to emerge when he will and claim his leadership in the free life. Such are the authentic proofs of the validity and vitality of democracy.

Mystery of Democracy.

"Here, no less, hides the mystery of democracy. Who shall guess this secret of nature and providence and a free polity? Whatever the vigor and vitality of the stock from which he sprang, its mere vigor and soundness do not explain where this man got his great heart

VIOLENCE PURSUES DILWORTH FAMILY

Many Relatives of Slain New York Lawyer Have Tragic Deaths.

Kansas City, Sept. 4.—Mrs. Grace Dilworth, wife of Dwight H. Dilworth, the New York attorney murdered there last night while motoring with a young woman in Van Courtland park, declared today that she with her 3-year-old son, intended leaving at once for her home. She had been visiting friends and relatives here for the last two weeks. Mrs. Dilworth said that she did not know Miss Mary McNiff, who was with Dilworth when he was shot. Dilworth formerly was a Kansas City attorney. On his entry into the Manhattan field he handled several cases of international importance growing out of the present European war. His mother resides here.

Violent deaths have followed the Dilworth family. The father was killed by burglars in his store in Oklahoma City, Okla., two years ago and four uncles and a nephew have been murdered at different times, according to the family.

ADAIR STARTS ON AUTO TOUR

Candidate for Governor to Make Many Towns in the District.

James M. Robinson, Former Member of Congress, is With Party.

John A. M. Adair, of Portland, candidate for governor, left Fort Wayne with a party of Fort Wayne democrats Monday morning for a tour of the Twelfth district, including the counties of Noble, Steuben and DeKalb. Martin H. Luecke, Twelfth district democratic chairman; James M. Robinson, a former member of congress; Dale J. Crittenberger, state auditor, and Stephen A. Callahan, of this city, were members of the Adair party.

Mr. Adair was in good voice and good spirits. He said he never felt better and was ready for the strenuous trip through the district. His coming has been extensively advertised and the towns that are included on his itinerary have been making great preparations.

Mr. Adair is one of the best campaigners in the state. His speeches ring with sincerity and wherever he goes he makes a most favorable impression, according to those who have been with him. He is taking the offensive in this campaign, because, as he says, the magnificent record of his party, both in the nation and in the state, makes it possible for him to do so. Few men are better informed upon the issues before the people in this campaign than the democratic gubernatorial candidate and he is presenting these issues most forcefully.

Confident of Victory.

Mr. Adair is confident of a democratic victory. He says that everywhere he is assured of success. Since opening his campaign in this city Mr. Adair has been pretty well over the state and has been in a position to feel the pulse of the voters and get a line upon the gen-

DISASTER SPOILS LONG TOUR SCORE

A 4,000 mile auto tour without a mishap was about to be the record of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Conley and son, Leiter, of Bryan, Ohio. They were returning home through Fort Wayne, Sunday evening, from a trip through western states. An interurban car ran them down at the corner of Clinton and Main streets and wrecked their car.

The front of the automobile was completely demolished and was fastened under the air brake of the car so tightly that nearly an hour's work was needed to clear away the debris. The accident was caused by the big car swinging around the corner when Conley thought the interurban was going straight ahead. W. H. Baer, motorman on the car, said he thought the automobile would stop.

The Conley family completed their tour of eleven states by rail. Conley will return later for the machine if it can be repaired at all.

W. H. Shorey, 1626 West Oakland street, and his fifteen-year-old son, Vere, were slightly injured Sunday evening when an automobile driven by J. D. Ferrill, of Hicksville, Ohio, crashed into the motorcycle on which the pair were riding. The accident occurred on Spy Run avenue at the intersection of Lawton Park place. Shorey's right hip was strained and both the father and son were badly bruised.

PARENTS ANXIOUS TO HAVE SCHOOLS OPEN

Parents throughout the city of Fort Wayne are anxiously awaiting to have the schools reopen and inquiries are made daily at the superintendent's office if the order of the board of health will not be rescinded soon. Children will be children and since they are forced to remain at home mothers and fathers are looking forward with relief to the time when the schools will reopen.

The board of health will have a meeting Tuesday afternoon and it is believed that they will rescind the order. It is very likely that the public, as well as the parochial schools will begin their year's work next Monday morning, September 11.

LINCOLN FARM GIVEN TO U. S. BY ASSOCIATION WHICH PRESERVED IT.

Lincoln farm at Hodgenville, Ky., on which the memorial containing the log cabin birthplace of the great emancipator, is located, came into possession of the United States on Labor day. President Wilson accepted it on behalf of the people.

At the same time the Lincoln Farm association, which caused the memorial to be built, dissolves, having completed its work.

The cabin was in private hands until 1904, when Richard Lloyd Jones, a Lincoln enthusiast, thought of preserving it and the Lincoln birthplace for the country.

Among members of the association were William H. Taft, Charles E. Hughes, Joseph H. Choate, Mark Twain, William Jennings Bryan, August Belmont and Cardinal Gibbons.

Roosevelt laid the cornerstone of the memorial, on the centennial of Lincoln's birth, February 12, 1909, and Taft dedicated it in 1911.

Word from the war department at Washington states the battery will be mustered in probably Tuesday, being officially designated as D battery, First field artillery of Indiana. Medical examination will follow and the men will be subject to being ordered to the border. They will go to Llano Grande, Tex., soon, it is expected.

He was 67 years old. Mr. Madero fled to this city after the assassination of his two sons, Francisco, jr., then president of Mexico, and Gustavo, who had been financial agent for the revolutionists. President Madero was killed on Feb. 21, 1913, and Gustavo two days before.

LABOR SPENDS A QUIET DAY

FEDERATION CALLS OFF CELEBRATION

Downtown Stores Closed and There is General Suspension of Business.

Labor, the oldest profession, was crowned with dignity in Fort Wayne, Monday. The holiday in honor of the fireside heroes, who have marched unflinchingly to their round of duties day after day, is being marked by general business suspension and several clean sport events.

There is no general celebration on the day's program because of the quarantine order for children under sixteen years, due to presence of infantile paralysis in the city. The annual celebration of the Federation of Labor was called off two weeks ago. The holiday is making the record of being the quietest in the history of the city.

More working men than ever before spent the day quietly at home with their families. Scores of workmen in all parts of the city are staying near their own dooryard through the day.

Sport Events.

The sport events of the day are the baseball game between the Colored Giants and the city team, at the League ball park; horse racing, made up of two trots and a pacing race, at Centlivre park; tennis tournament, to decide the city championship for 1916, at the Country club, and the athletic meet of the A. C. W. at Foster park.

Business Suspended.

Down town stores closed before noon. Very few wheels turned in the factories during the day. All county and city offices were closed. Holiday hours were observed at the postoffice. No mail was delivered on the rural routes and only the morning delivery in the city. The general delivery window at the postoffice was open until 10 o'clock.

MAN MAY DIE FROM ACCIDENTAL SHOT

Ralph Sauder is Victim of Labor Day Hunting Accident Short Distance West of City.

Ralph Sauder, a young man aged 25 years, employed at the J. F. Smith farm on the Leesburg road, is a patient at St. Joseph hospital as the result of being accidentally shot by Otto Mertz, of 1116 Franklin avenue, of this city, with whom he was on a hunting trip. His condition is very critical and he is not expected to live.

The unfortunate young man in company with Otto Mertz and Fred Mertz, of this city, started out Monday morning to go hunting. Without the knowledge of the other members of the party Sauder climbed up in an apple tree to get some apples. Mertz came along with his shotgun under his arm when he noticed something in the tree. Thinking it was a wild animal he took aim and shot.

Sauder fell from the tree, desperately wounded. The police ambulance was at once summoned and the injured man was rushed to St. Joseph's hospital. He is shot through the hip and the abdomen.

The accident occurred at 11 o'clock Monday morning on the Smith farm where the young man is employed. Sauder's home is in Pennsylvania, but he has been working in this county for the past year.

GERMANS LOSE 2-MILE FRONT

German Counter Attacks Win Back Portion of Ginchy Village.

Between the Danube and the Black sea in eastern Rumania, where the second campaign in consequence of Rumania's declaration of war has been opened the Bulgarian and German forces of invasion are engaged heavily with the Rumanians all along the frontier. The Rumanian war office announces the repulse of the Germans and Bulgarians at Basardjik in Brojudka but gives no information as to the progress of the fighting elsewhere. In this campaign it is expected the Rumanians will have the assistance of Russian forces which crossed the border from Bessarabia into Dobrudja soon after Rumania joined the entente allies. The Rumanian invasion of Hungary continues. Official announcement is made that the towns of Borzek and Sekali in eastern Transylvania, have been occupied by the Rumanians.

The Bulgarians on the Macedonian front made another attack in the region of Lake Ostrovo yesterday. An official announcement from French army headquarters at Saloniki says the attack was repulsed by the Serbians.

Baron von Schink, chief director of the German propaganda in Greece, has been arrested and placed on a cruiser of the entente allies.

Eleven more allied warships have arrived at Piraeus. The Greek government has accepted the new demands of the allies and French and British agents have control of the postal and telegraphic systems.

Bad weather is delaying operations of the French troops along the Somme. The war office announces that 14 cannon have been captured thus far in the fighting inaugurated yesterday when the French in conjuction with the British advanced over a front of six and a half miles and captured three towns.

Two more aeroplane raids over Belgium have been made by the British. On Saturday they attacked the shipbuilding yards at Hoboken, near Antwerp. Yesterday a large British squadron bombarded the German aerodrome at Ghistelles, near Brugges.

London, Sept. 4.—(3 p. m.)—As the result of the fighting north of the Somme, in France, yesterday, says the British official statement issued today, British troops captured German defenses on a 3,000 yard front for an average depth of 800 yards and including the village of Guillemont.

The whole of Ginchy at first was captured, but the British were compelled to give ground, retaining hold of part of the village, despite heavy counter attacks in the course of the night. More than 800 Germans were taken prisoners.

REED SEEKS EARLY PROBE

Resolution Asks Immediate Inquiry on Cost of 8-Hour Law to Roads.

Adamson Law Halting the Strike Gets Signature and is in Effect.

Washington, Sept. 4.—Senator Reed, of Missouri, today introduced a resolution to authorize the interstate commerce commission to investigate the effect of the eight-hour day law on the cost of operation of railroads and to report to congress in December. The resolution will be called up for consideration tomorrow.

Labor day brought no cessation of activity of congress, which spent nearly all of last week on measures warding off the railroad strike called for today, hoped for a belated adjournment Wednesday or Thursday. Many members already had fled to political fields or their homes, leaving fag ends of legislation to be finished by depleted houses.

The Webb bill to allow American exporters to organize common selling agencies abroad, whose immediate passage President Wilson favors the revenue bill and the Porto Rican citizenship bill were to be acted on in the senate.

Postponement is Plan.

Congressional leaders planned to postpone consideration of the immigration bill and corrupt practices bill and further railroad strike measures suggested by the president until the next session.

The eight-hour day act, passed Saturday evening, was considered a law today, having received President Wilson's signature yesterday, but to avoid any chance of it's being held void on the ground that it received executive approval on a legal holiday, the president will sign it again tomorrow on his return from Hodgenville, Ky., where today he attended Lincoln memorial services.

The action of the senate in passing the Adamson bill Saturday evening by a vote of 43 to 28—almost a strict party vote—carried the effort forward to the point where President Wilson's signature alone was necessary to complete the legislation into law. Only two democrats—Hardwick, of Georgia, and Clarke, of Arkansas, voted against the bill. One republican—Lafollette, of Wisconsin—supported it.

Strike Order Cancelled.

SHACKELTON RESCUES 22 MEMBERS OF CREW

Punta Arenas, Chili, Sept. 4.—Lieut. Sir Ernest H. Shackleton has rescued the members of his Antarctic expedition who were marooned on Elephant Island. Shackleton returned here yesterday with his men, safe and well, on board the rescue ship Yelcho.

Sir Ernest Shackleton left Punta Arenas Aug. 26 with the ship Yelcho for a third attempt to rescue his men, marooned on Elephant Island.

After the failure of his antarctic expedition, Shackleton with five members of his crew managed to reach Port Stanley, Falkland Islands, on May 31. Twenty-two others of the crew were left on Elephant Island on April 9. The first attempt to rescue these men was made in June and the second attempt in July, both failing on account of the ice.

VICE PRESIDENT WILL CLOSE CAMPAIGN HERE

Vice President Thomas R. Marshall will come to Fort Wayne for the closing speech of his campaign, according to word received by Martin H. Luecke, Twelfth district chairman. Since the Twelfth is Mr. Marshall's home district democrats are planning to make the meeting one of the largest yet held.

The telegram announcing that Mr. Marshall has been dated in Fort Wayne came from Homer S. Cummins, chairman of the speaker's bureau in New York. The telegram said: "All right for Marshall on Saturday, November 4, at Fort Wayne."

Complete Text of 8-Hour Bill Which Averted the Strike

Washington, Sept. 4.—The text of the Adamson eight-hour bill as it was signed by the president follows:

"Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America assembled:

"Section 1. That beginning Jan. 1, 1917, eight hours shall in contracts for labor, and service be deemed a day's work and the measure standard of a day's work for the purpose of reckoning the compensation for services of all employes who are now or may hereafter be employed by any common carrier or any railroad, except railroads independently owned and operated not exceeding 100 miles in length, electric street railroads and electric interurban railroads, which is subject to the provisions of the act of Feb. 4, 1887, entitled, 'an act to regulate commerce,' as amended, and who are now or may hereafter be actually engaged in any capacity in the operation of trains used for the transportation of persons or property on railroads, except railroads independently owned and operated not exceeding 100 miles in length, electric street railroads and electric interurban railroads from any state or territory of the United States or the District of Columbia to any other state or territory or the District of Columbia, or from one place in a territory to another place in the same territory, or from any place in the United States to an adjacent foreign country, or from any place in the United States through a foreign country to any other place in the United States: provided, that the above exceptions shall not apply to railroads though less than 100 miles in length whose principal business is leasing or furnishing terminal or transfer facilities to other railroads, or are themselves engaged in transfers of freight between railroads, or between railroads and industrial plants.

"Section 2. That the president shall appoint a commission of three, which shall observe the operation and effects of the institution of the eight-hour standard workday as above defined, and the facts and conditions affecting the relations between such common carriers and employes during a period of not less than six months nor more than nine months, in the discretion of the commission, and within thirty days thereafter such commission shall report its findings to the president and congress; that each member of the commission created under the provisions of this act shall receive such compensation as may be fixed by the president. That the sum of $25,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary, be and hereby is appropriated out of any money in the United States treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the necessary and proper expenses incurred in connection with the work of such commission, including salaries, per diem, traveling expenses of members and employes, and rent, furniture, office fixtures and supplies, books, salaries and other necessary expenses, the same to be approved by the chairman of said commission and audited by the proper accounting officers of the treasury.

"Section 3. That pending the report of the commission herein provided for and for a period of thirty days thereafter, the compensation of railway employes subject to this act for a standard eight-hour workday shall not be reduced below the present standard day's wage, and for all necessary time in excess of eight hours such employes shall be paid at a rate not less than the pro rata rate of such standard eight-hour workday.

"Section 4. That any person violating any provision of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not less than $100 and not more than $1,000, or imprisoned not to exceed one year, or both."

ations on the Somme front have been retarded by bad weather, the war office announced today. In the new action fourteen guns have been captured by the French. Prisoners continue to arhive at the rear.

East of the Meuse, on the Verdun front, the French yesterday took 400 prisoners.

RUSSIANS CLAIM ADVANCE.

Petrograd, Sept. 4.—The Russians have broken across the Thenlovka river, a western tributary of the Zlota Lipa and seized a position of the Austro-German troops, the war office announced today. They took 2,721 prisoners and six machine guns.

DETAIN RUMANIAN MINISTER.

Amsterdam (Via London), Sept. 4.—(7:50 a. m.)—The Bulgarian cabinet council has decided to detain G. C. De Russi, the Rumanian minister at Sofia with his staff until S. Radew, the Bulgarian minister at Bucharest, has returned, says a dispatch from Budapest.

RUMANIANS CLAIM GAINS.

Bucharest, Sept. 3.—(Via London, Sept. 4, 7:45 a. m.—The Rumanian war office announced today that Rumanian troops have occupied Borszek and Sekeli in Transylvania. The Teutonic-Bulgarian allies have been repulsed at Basardjik, in Dobrudja, but elsewhere continue their attack along the whole frontier between Dobrudja and Bulgaria.

GERMANS DRIVE AT LONDON.

Attack of Thirteen Zeppelins Biggest Air Blow of War.

London, Sept. 4.—Thirteen Zeppelin airships took part in the raid over the eastern counties last night, and an official statement issued this afternoon says it was the most formidable attack by air ever made on England.

Only three of the Zeppelins were able to approach the outskirts of London. One of these was shot down and the other two were driven off by aircraft guns and aeroplanes.

Reports regarding the number of casualties and the damage caused by the great number of bombs dropped had not been completed this afternoon, but it was stated that the damages and loss of life were not heavy, "considering the number of ships engaged."

The text of the official statement said:

"Last night's raid was carried out by thirteen airships, and thus was the most formidable attack that has been made on this country. The principal theater of operations was the eastern counties, and the objectives seem to have been London and certain industrial centers in the midlands.

"The obscuring of lights undoubtedly proved most efficacious, for the raiding squadron, instead of steering a steady course, groped about in darkness, looking for a safe avenue to approach their objectives.

"Three airships only were able to approach the outskirts of London. One was picked up by searchlights and heavily engaged by anti-aircraft, guns and aeroplanes. After a few minutes the airship was seen to burst into flames and fall rapidly towards the earth.

"The ship was destroyed, the wreckage, engines, and half-burned bodies of the crew being found at Cufley, near Enfield.

"The other two ships which approached London were driven off by the defenses without being able to approach the center of the city.

"A great number of bombs were dropped promiscuously over the east Anglian and southeastern counties. The damage and loss of life will not be heavy, considering the number of ships engaged, a great number of the bombs having fallen either into the sea or in remote country districts."

LABOR SPEAKS!

I, Labor, am feeling my strength today, my strength that digs your mines and works your factories, my strength that welds your tools and builds your palaces, my strength that sails your ships and spans your distances, my strength that reaps your crops and feeds your furnaces—my strength that is parent of your power, mother of your might—my strength that lets you live!

'Tis I, Labor, that clothes your bodies and fills your stomach; but for me you would run unshaven and unshop, playthings for the elements, brothers to the beast!

I stamp your steel and carve your cathedrals; I weave your woolens and fell your forests; I make the winds and waves and the blasts of heaven your humble servants; and I pierce the stony bowels of earth in search of the yellow wealth for which you barter my mind and muscle!

When your enemies rise to take that with which I have enriched you, I gird up my loins and battle your foes!

For all that you possess, little states, little nations, little world—thank me!

graph some six hundred code messages to brotherhood leaders over the country cancelling the order for the strike which was to have gone into effect at 7 o'clock Monday morning.

President Wilson affixed his signature to the bill Sunday morning in his private car at the Union station in Washington, where he stopped on his way from Shadow Lawn to Hodgenville, Ky.

The four pens used by the president signing the bill, one for each syllable of his name—will be presented to the four brotherhood heads, A. B. Garretson, W. G. Lee, W. S. Carter and W. S. Stone, after being used for resigning the bill on Tuesday.

Original Plan Changed.

No ceremony attended the signing. It originally had been planned that the president should go to the white house, but this was changed, and instead, Rudolph Forster, assistant to the president, took the bill to the train. Near the car window a group of trainmen in their overalls, paused in their work long enough to watch the president write his name. An engineer, passing on a yard engine, celebrated the occasion with several prolonged blasts of his whistle.

Brotherhood heads in a circular letter to their members today made no comment on the measure as passed. They merely pointed out that it would not become effective until next Jan. 1, and that many things might occur between now and then which would change materially any suggestions or comment they might make.

Early Draft Set Aug. 20.

It has developed that the brotherhoods before being summoned to Washington by President Wilson, three weeks ago, had agreed to call a strike effective Aug. 20. The orders then drafted were used when the strike finally was set for Labor day. After having been printed in preparation for the proposed strike on Aug. 20, they were locked in a vault in New York. Decision a week ago last Saturday to order a strike the following day when the majority of the committee of 640 were leaving for their homes, was followed by a hasty trip to New York, by two representatives of the brotherhoods. The strike date, Sept 4, was filled in with a rubber stamp, but the original date of the call, Aug. 14, was not changed.

Depends on Developments.

How long peace shall reign as a result of the new bill apparently is dependent upon developments in the proposed move to test the constitutionality of the act. Should the railroads take no action, but await the beginning of the investigation of the workings of an eight-hour day by the special commission for which the measure provides, the brotherhoods will remain inactive. The employes' leaders held unconstitutional and the railroads held unconstittuional and the railroads attempt to restore the ten-hour day on their lines, a strike will follow immediately.

It is very evident here that determined efforts will be made to amend the Adamson law before it goes into effect on January 1. These efforts will not be made during the remainder of the present session, but between the first Monday in December, when congress will reconvene, and the date when it will adjourn for the Christmas holidays.

Will Fight Wage Basis.

The eight-hour day as a standard work day has come to stay; of this there is not the slightest doubt. If the railroad managers are wise they will accept it without further resistance, but the eight-hour day merely as a wage basis and merely as a vehicle for obtaining an increase of pay for employes is a different proposition. It is upon this feature of the act approved by the president this morning that the attacks will center.

Moreover, at the coming regular session it is proposed to urge action upon a comprehensive labor reform bill, which will present the development of such a situation which congress feels it has so adequately met. Included in that bill will be the Canadian commission plan, advocated by the president to guard against a recurrence of the situation which has just been arranged.

that seemed to comprehend all mankind in its catholic and benignant sympathy, the mind that sat enthroned behind those brooding, melancholy eyes, whose vision swept many an horizon which those about him dreamed not of,—that mind that comprehended what it had never seen, and understood the language of affairs with the ready ease of one to the manner born,—or that nature which seemed in its varied richness to be the familiar of men of every way of life. This is the sacred mystery of democracy, that its richest fruits spring up out of soils which no man has prepared and in circumstances amidst which they are the least expected. This is a place alike of mystery and of reassurance.

"It is likely that in a society ordered otherwise than our own Lincoln could not have found himself or the path of fame and power upon which he walked serenely to his death. In this place it is right that we should remind ourselves of the solid and striking facts upon which our faith in democracy is founded. Many another man besides Lincoln has served the nation in its highest places of counsel and of action whose origins were as humble as his. Though the greatest example of the universal energy, richness, stimulation, and force of democracy, he is only one example among many. The permeating and all-pervasive virtue of the freedom which challenges us in America to make the most of every gift and power we possess every page of our history serves to emphasize and illustrate. Standing here in this place, it seems almost the whole of the stirring story.

"Here Lincoln had his beginnings. Here the end and consummation of that great life seem remote and a bit incredible. And yet there was no break anywhere between beginning and end, no lack of natural sequence anywhere. Nothing really incredible happened. Lincoln was unaffectedly as much at home in the white house as he was here. Do you share with me the feeling, I wonder, that he was permanently at home nowhere? It seems to me that in the case of a man—I would rather say of a spirit,—like Lincoln the question where he is of little significance, that it is always what he was that really arrests our thought and takes hold of our imagination. It is the spirit always that is sovereign. Lincoln, like the rest of us, was put through the discipline of the world.—a very rough and exacting discipline for him, an indispensable discipline for every man who knows what he is about in the midst of the world's affairs; but his spirit got only its schooling there. It did not derive its character or its vision from the experiences which brought it to its full revelation. The test of every American must always be, not where he is, but what he is. That, also, is of the essence of democracy, and is the moral of which this place is most gravely expressive.

"We would like to think of men like Lincoln and Washington as typical Americans, but no man can be typical who is so unusual as these have not been worked out as yet but will American life who is so unusual as these great men were. It was typical of American life that it should produce such men with supreme indifference as to the manner in which it produced them, and as readily here in this hut as amidst the little circle of cultivated gentlemen to whom Virginia owed so much in leadership and example. And Lincoln and Washington were typical Americans in the use they made of their genius. But there will be few such men at best, and we will not look into the mystery of how and why they come. We will only keep the door open for them always, and a hearty welcome—after we have recognized them.

Where Biographies Fail.

"I have read many biographies of Lincoln; I have sought out with the greatest interest the many intimate stories that are told of him, the narratives of nearby friends, the sketches at close quarters, in which those who had the privilege of being associated with him have tried to depict for us the very man himself "in his habit as he lived;" but I have nowhere found a real intimate of Lincoln's. I nowhere get the impression in any narrative or reminiscence that the writer had in fact penetrated to the heart of his mystery, or that any man could penetrate to the heart of it. That brooding spirit had no real familiars. I get the impression that it never spoke out in complete self-revelation, and that it could not reveal itself completely to anyone. It was a very lonely spirit that looked out from underneath those shaggy brows and comprehended men without fully communing with them, as if, in spite of all its genial efforts at comradeship, it dwelt apart, saw its visions of duty where no man looked on. There is a very holy and very terrible isolation for the conscience of every man who seeks to read the destiny in affairs for others as well as for himself, for a nation as well as for individuals. That privacy no man can intrude upon. That lonely search of the spirit for the right perhaps no man can assist. This strange child of the cabin kept company with invisible things, was born into no intimacy but that of its own silently assembling and deploying thoughts.

"I have come here today, not to utter a eulogy on Lincoln; he stands in need of none, but to endeavor to interpret the meaning of this gift to the nation of the place of his birth and origin. Is not this an altar upon which we may forever keep alive the vestal fire of democracy as upon a shrine at which some of the deepest and most sacred hopes of mankind may from age to age be rekindled? For these hopes must constantly be rekindled, and only those who live can rekindle them. The only stuff that can retain the life-giving heat is the stuff of living hearts. And the hopes of mankind cannot be kept alive by words merely, by constitutions and doctrines of right and codes of liberty. The object of democracy is to transmute these into the life and action of society, the self-denial and self-sacrifice of heroic men and women willing to make their lives an embodiment of right and service and enlightened purpose. The commands of democracy are as imperative as its privileges and opportunities are wide and generous. Its compulsion is upon us. It will be great and lift a great light for the guidance of the nations only if we are great and carry that light high for the guidance of our own feet. We are not worthy to stand here unless we ourselves be in deed and in truth real democrats and servants of mankind, ready to give our very lives for the freedom and justice and spiritual exaltation of the great nation which shelters and nurtures us."

President Much Pleased.

As President Wilson's special train passed through Louisville early this morning he was greeted by a crowd of several thousand persons. They surged about the railroad station and cheered.

The president today expressed great pleasure over the receptions accorded him by large crowds, which applauded at every stop yesterday and last night. It was his first touch of campaigning this year and he liked it. West Virginia and Kentucky gave him a very warm welcome. On the president's special train was Mrs. Wilson, Secretary Tumulty, Dr. Carey Greyson, the white house physician, Senators Williams and Newlands, Representative Banjamin Johnson, Secretary Baker, former Governor Folk and Robert T. Collier, of New York.

The race will be 300 miles in length and the entries include most all the leading drivers in America. The new speedway track is of wood construction made of 2x4 inch oak, laid lengthwise, and an eighth of an inch apart. This small opening will cool the tires, it is said. FALLS FROM MOWER.

Huntington Boy Has Right Leg Severed in Accident Saturday.

Huntington, Ind., Sept. 4.—Waldo, ten-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Flieger, of Clear Creek township, was severely injured yesterday shortly before noon when he fell from a moving mower. His right hip was cut badly and a bone in his left leg just above the ankle was severed in two places a short distance apart. Part of the bone was removed by surgeons and it is thought that the boy will recover, providing no infection sets in. Late last evening the boy was resting nicely.

The team he was driving shied and started to run. The horses stopped when he tugged at the lines and he toppled forward, directly in the path of the mower.

SUSAN BRUMBAUGH DEAD.

Warsaw, Ind., Sept. 4.—Mrs. Susan Brumbaugh, mother of Milton Brumbaugh, who was killed when his auto was struck by a Big Four passenger train near Leesburg on July 15, is dead at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Ulery, in Nappanee. She is survied by Mrs. Etta Brown, Mrs. John Brown, Mrs. Charles Malcolm and Mrs. William Ulery, daughters, and Martin, Frank and Taz Brumbaugh, sons.

NO CHURCH SERVICES.

Columbia City, Ind., Sept. 4.—There were no church services in this city Sunday of any character and the teachers' institute, which was scheduled to start here Monday, has been postponed by order of the Whitley county board of health. Every effort is being made to prevent the further spread of infantile paralysis in this county and the public generally is complying with the requests of the health officers.

WILL RETURN NEXT MONDAY.

Bluffton, Ind., Sept. 4.—George Mock has received a letter from his brother, Mayor John Mock, stating that he expects to arrive in Bluffton one week from Monday, barring strikes and other hindrances. Mayor Mock uses the singular pronoun in his letter but friends are anxiously awaiting his arrival so that they can get the facts about his reported matrimonial venture—maybe.

STORK WAS BUSY.

Kendallville, Ind., Sept. 4.—The stork had a busy time of it in Kendallville during August, there being fifteen births—eight males and seven females. The city is practically immune from contagious diseases, there being one case of diphtheria and one of scarlet fever, both under quarantine.

ORNAMENTAL LIGHTS WILL HELP HARRISON HILL

The motorists who have enjoyed the auto drive around the U-shaped course provided by Corneli and Seminole circles of Harrison Hill can appreciate what a picturesque spot this will be after night-fall when the ornamental lighting on these circles has been completed. The course followed by Corneli and Seminole circles is similar to that described by tracing the outlines of a letter U first around its outside edge and then around the inside. The ornamental lights on either circle will be plainly visible from all points of the other circle and the view after night with all lights on will cause one to almost imagine if a scene from Fairyland. RUMANIANS CLAIM GAINS.

Bucharest, Sept. 3.—(Via London, Sept. 4, 7:45 a. m.—The Rumanian war office announced today that Rumanian troops have occupied Borszek and Sekell in Transylvania. The Teutonic-Bulgarian allies have been repulsed at Basardjik, in Dobrudja, but elsewhere continue their attack along the whole frontier between Dobrudja and Bulgaria.

GERMANS DRIVE AT LONDON.

Attack of Thirteen Zeppelins Biggest Air Blow of War.

London, Sept. 4.—Thirteen Zeppelin airships took part in the raid over the eastern counties last night, and an official statement issued this afternoon says it was the most formidable attack by air ever made on England.

Only three of the Zeppelins were able to approach the outskirts of London. One of these was shot down and the other two were driven off by aircraft guns and aeroplanes.

Reports regarding the number of casualties and the damage caused by the great number of bombs dropped had not been completed this afternoon, but it was stated that the damages and loss of life were not heavy, "considering the number of ships engaged."

The text of the official statement said:

"Last night's raid was carried out by thirteen airships, and thus was the most formidable attack that has been made on this country. The principal theater of operations was the eastern counties, and the objectives seem to have been London and certain industrial centers in the midlands.

"The obscuring of lights undoubtedly proved most efficacious, for the raiding squadron, instead of steering a steady course, groped about in darkness, looking for a safe avenue to approach their objectives.

"Three airships only were able to approach the outskirts of London. One was picked up by searchlights and heavily engaged by anti-aircraft, guns and aeroplanes. After a few minutes the airship was seen to burst into flames and fall rapidly towards the earth.

"The ship was destroyed, the wreckage, engines, and half-burned bodies of the crew being found at Cufley, near Enfield.

"The other two ships which approached London were driven off by the defenses without being able to approach the center of the city.

"A great number of bombs were dropped promiscuously over the east Anglian and southeastern counties. The damage and loss of life will not be heavy, considering the number of ships engaged, a great number of the bombs having fallen either into the sea or in remote country districts."

LABOR SPENDS A QUIET DAY

mon at the First M. E. church, among other things said: "When men get the spirit of Christ into their hearts, then will capital and labor join and work to each other's interests and advantages. For even Christ Jesus, of Nazareth, was a humble working man, a carpenter in a humble village, so can He appeal to the hearts of the people in every station in life, and His voice comes down the ages in the words of Micah's prophetic vision."

Socialist Speaks.

A Labor day address was delivered by J. Lloyd Armstrong, candidate for congress on the socialist ticket. Among other things he said: "The socialist party has always demanded the eight-hour day for all workers whether the worker be mechanic, day laborer, farmer, clerk or otherwise." He declared that the slogan of the socialist party is: "Workers of the World, Unite."

LABOR SPEAKS!

I, Labor, am feeling my strength today, my strength that digs your mines and works your factories, my strength that welds your tools and builds your palaces, my strength that sails your ships and spans your distances, my strength that reaps your crops and feeds your furnaces—my strength that is parent of your power, mother of your might—my strength that lets you live!

'Tis I, Labor, that clothes your bodies and fills your stomach; but for me you would run unshaven and unshop, playthings for the elements, brothers to the beast!

I stamp your steel and carve your cathedrals; I weave your woolens and fell your forests; I make the winds and waves and the blasts of heaven your humble servants; and I pierce the stony bowels of earth in search of the yellow wealth for which you barter my mind and muscle!

When your enemies rise to take that with which I have enriched you, I gird up my loins and battle your foes!

For all that you possess, little states, little nations, little world—thank me!

graph some six hundred code messages to brotherhood leaders over the country cancelling the order for the strike which was to have gone into effect at 7 o'clock Monday morning.

President Wilson affixed his signature to the bill Sunday morning in his private car at the Union station in Washington, where he stopped on his way from Shadow Lawn to Hodgenville, Ky.

The four pens used by the president signing the bill, one for each syllable of his name—will be presented to the four brotherhood heads, A. B. Garretson, W. G. Lee, W. S. Carter and W. S. Stone, after being used for resigning the bill on Tuesday.

Original Plan Changed.

No ceremony attended the signing. It originally had been planned that the president should go to the white house, but this was changed, and instead, Rudolph Forster, assistant to the president, took the bill to the train. Near the car window a group of trainmen in their overalls, paused in their work long enough to watch the president write his name. An engineer, passing on a yard engine, celebrated the occasion with several prolonged blasts of his whistle.

Brotherhood heads in a circular letter to their members today made no comment on the measure as passed. They merely pointed out that it would not become effective until next Jan. 1, and that many things might occur between now and then which would change materially any suggestions or comment they might make.

Early Draft Set Aug. 20.

It has developed that the brotherhoods before being summoned to Washington by President Wilson, three weeks ago, had agreed to call a strike effective Aug. 20. The orders then drafted were used when the strike finally was set for Labor day. After having been printed in preparation for the proposed strike on Aug. 20, they were locked in a vault in New York. Decision a week ago last Saturday to order a strike the following day when the majority of the committee of 640 were leaving for their homes, was followed by a hasty trip to New York, by two representatives of the brotherhoods. The strike date, Sept 4, was filled in with a rubber stamp, but the original date of the call, Aug. 14, was not changed.

Depends on Developments.

How long peace shall reign as a result of the new bill apparently is dependent upon developments in the proposed move to test the constitutionality of the act. Should the railroads take no action, but await the beginning of the investigation of the workings of an eight-hour day by the special commission for which the measure provides, the brotherhoods will remain inactive. The employes' leaders held unconstitutional and the railroads held unconstitutional and the railroads attempt to restore the ten-hour day on their lines, a strike will follow immediately.

It is very evident here that determined efforts will be made to amend the Adamson law before it goes into effect on January 1. These efforts will not be made during the remainder of the present session, but between the first Monday in December, when congress will reconvene, and the date when it will adjourn for the Christmas holidays.

Will Fight Wage Basis.

The eight-hour day as a standard work day has come to stay; of this there is not the slightest doubt. If the railroad managers are wise they will accept it without further resistance, but the eight-hour day merely as a wage basis and merely as a vehicle for obtaining an increase of pay for employes is a different proposition. It is upon this feature of the act approved by the president this morning that the attacks will center.

Moreover, at the coming regular session it is proposed to urge action upon a comprehensive labor reform bill, which will present the development of such a situation which congress feels it has so adequately met. Included in that bill will be the Canadian commission plan, advocated by the president to guard against a recurrence of the situation which has just been arranged.

that seemed to comprehend all mankind in its catholic and benignant sympathy, the mind that sat enthroned behind those brooding, melancholy eyes, whose vision swept many an horizon which those about him dreamed not of,—that mind that comprehended what it had never seen, and understood the language of affairs with the ready ease of one to the manner born,—or that nature which seemed in its varied richness to be the familiar of men of every way of life. This is the sacred mystery of democracy, that its richest fruits spring up out of soils which no man has prepared and in circumstances amidst which they are the least expected. This is a place alike of mystery and of reassurance.

"It is likely that in a society ordered otherwise than our own Lincoln could not have found himself or the path of fame and power upon which he walked serenely to his death. In this place it is right that we should remind ourselves of the solid and striking facts upon which our faith in democracy is founded. Many another man besides Lincoln has served the nation in its highest places of counsel and of action whose origins were as humble as his. Though the greatest example of the universal energy, richness, stimulation, and force of democracy, he is only one example among many. The permeating and all-pervasive virtue of the freedom which challenges us in America to make the most of every gift and power we possess every page of our history serves to emphasize and illustrate. Standing here in this place, it seems almost the whole of the stirring story.

"Here Lincoln had his beginnings. Here the end and consummation of that great life seem remote and a bit incredible. And yet there was no break anywhere between beginning and end, no lack of natural sequence anywhere. Nothing really incredible happened. Lincoln was unaffectedly as much at home in the white house as he was here. Do you share with me the feeling, I wonder, that he was permanently at home nowhere? It seems to me that in the case of a man—I would rather say of a spirit,—like Lincoln the question where he is of little significance, that it is always what he was that really arrests our thought and takes hold of our imagination. It is the spirit always that is sovereign. Lincoln, like the rest of us, was put through the discipline of the world,—a very rough and exacting discipline for him, an indispensable discipline for every man who knows what he is about in the midst of the world's affairs; but his spirit got only its schooling there. It did not derive its character or its vision from the experiences which brought it to its full revelation. The test of every American must always be, not where he is, but what he is. That, also, is of the essence of democracy, and is the moral of which this place is most gravely expressive.

"We would like to think of men like Lincoln and Washington as typical Americans, but no man can be typical who is so unusual as these have not been worked out as yet but will American life who is so unusual as these great men were. It was typical of American life that it should produce such men with supreme indifference as to the manner in which it produced them, and as readily here in this hut as amidst the little circle of cultivated gentlemen to whom Virginia owed so much in leadership and example. And Lincoln and Washington were typical Americans in the use they made of their genius. But there will be few such men at best, and we will not look into the mystery of how and why they come. We will only keep the door open for them always, and a hearty welcome—after we have recognized them.

Where Biographies Fail.

"I have read many biographies of Lincoln; I have sought out with the greatest interest the many intimate stories that are told of him, the narratives of nearby friends, the sketches at close quarters, in which those who had the privilege of being associated with him have tried to depict for us the very man himself "in his habit as he lived;" but I have nowhere found a real intimate of Lincoln's. I nowhere get the impression in any narrative or reminiscence that the writer had in fact penetrated to the heart of his mystery, or that any man could penetrate to the heart of it. That brooding spirit had no real familiars. I get the impression that it never spoke out in complete self-revelation, and that it could not reveal itself completely to anyone. It was a very lonely spirit that looked out from underneath those shaggy brows and comprehended men without fully communing with them, as if, in spite of all its genial efforts at comradeship, it dwelt apart, saw its visions of duty where no man looked on. There is a very holy and very terrible isolation for the conscience of every man who seeks to read the destiny in affairs for others as well as for himself, for a nation as well as for individuals. That privacy no man can intrude upon. That lonely search of the spirit for the right, perhaps no man can assist. This strange child of the cabin kept company with invisible things, was born into no intimacy but that of its own silently assembling and deploying thoughts.

"I have come here today, not to utter a eulogy on Lincoln; he stands in need of none, but to endeavor to interpret the meaning of this gift to the nation of the place of his birth and origin. Is not this an altar upon which we may forever keep alive the vestal fire of democracy as upon a shrine at which some of the deepest and most sacred hopes of mankind may from age to age be rekindled? For these hopes must constantly be rekindled, and only those who live can rekindle them. The only stuff that can retain the life-giving heat is the stuff of living hearts. And the hopes of mankind cannot be kept alive by words merely, by constitutions and doctrines of right and codes of liberty. The object of democracy is to transmute these into the life and action of society, the self-denial and self-sacrifice of heroic men and women willing to make their lives an embodiment of right and service and enlightened purpose. The commands of democracy are as imperative as its privileges and opportunities are wide and generous. Its compulsion is upon us. It will be great and lift a great light for the guidance of the nations only if we are great and carry that light high for the guidance of our own feet. We are not worthy to stand here unless we ourselves be in deed and in truth real democrats and servants of mankind, ready to give our very lives for the freedom and justice and spiritual exaltation of the great nation which shelters and nurtures us."

President Much Pleased.

As President Wilson's special train passed through Louisville early this morning he was greeted by a crowd of several thousand persons. They surged about the railroad station and cheered.

The president today expressed great pleasure over the receptions accorded him by large crowds, which applauded at every stop yesterday and last night. It was his first touch of campaigning this year and he liked it. West Virginia and Kentucky gave him a very warm welcome. On the president's special train was Mrs. Wilson, Secretary Tumulty, Dr. Carey Greyson, the white house physician, Senators Williams and Newlands, Representative Banjamin Johnsen, Secretary Baker, former Governor Folk and Robert T. Collier, of New York.

TWENTY-NINE ENTRIES IN CINCINNATI RACE

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 4.—The first automobile sweepstake race, which is to be run over the mile saucer track at Sherouville, O., today, has drawn twenty-nine entries, all of whom qualified by making better than eighty miles an hour, and some exceeded 110 miles. The race will be 300 miles in length and the entries include most all the leading drivers in America. The new speedway track is of wood construction made of 2x4 inch oak, laid lengthwise, and an eighth of an inch apart. This small opening will cool the tires, it is said. The track is seventy feet wide. The stands have a seating capacity of 30,000, while parking space has been provided for 15,000 machines.

The purse to be contested for is $30,000, divided into thirteen prizes, with $12,000 to the winner, and an extra award of $500 each for the drivers leading at the 100, the 200 and 250 miles, respectively. The race will start at 1:30 o'clock, and according to officials the track is in perfect condition.

Part of the bone was removed by surgeons and it is thought that the boy will recover, providing no infection sets in. Late last evening the boy was resting nicely.

ORNAMENTAL LIGHTS WILL HELP HARRISON HILL

The motorists who have enjoyed the auto drive around the U-shaped course provided by Cornell and Seminole circles of Harrison Hill can appreciate what a picturesque spot this will be after night-fall when the ornamental lighting on these circles has been completed. The course followed by Cornell and Seminole circles is similar to that described by tracing the outlines of a letter U first around its outside edge and then around the inside. The ornamental lights on either circle will be plainly visible from all points of the other circle and the view after night with all lights on will cause one to almost imagine it a scene from Fairyland. DAILY BIBLE READINGS FOR THE HOME

John 6:32-44.

32. Then Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Moses gave you not that bread from heaven; but my Father giveth you the true bread from heaven.

33. For the bread of God is he which cometh down from heaven, and giveth life unto the world.

34. Then said they unto him, Lord, evermore give us this bread.

35. And Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me shall never hunger; and he that believeth on me shall never thirst.

36. But I said unto you, That ye also have seen me, and believe not.

37. All that the Father giveth me shall come to me; and him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out.

38. For I came down from heaven, not to do mine own will, but the will of him that sent me.

39. And this is the Father's will which hath sent me, that of all which he hath givan me I should lose nothing, but should raise it up again at the last day.

40. And this is the will of him that sent me, that every one which seeth the Son, and believeth on him, may have everlasting life: and I will raise him up at the last day.

41. The Jews then murmured at him, because he said, I am the bread which came down from heaven.

42. And they said, Is not this Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? how is it then that he saith, I came down from heaven?

43. Jesus therefore answered and said unto them, Murmur not among yourselves.

44. No man can come to me, except the Father which hath sent me draw him: and I will raise him up at the last day.

Wtlson in Acceptance

Accepting for the second time at the hands of the democratic party nomination to the exalted position he now occupies, President Wilson in his address at Shadow Lawn, so completely measured the finest hopes and aspirations of the American people that it is difficult to see how it can fail to be hailed as one of the most exceptional in the long list of notable utterances that have come from this source since he became the chosen leader of his party. The Sentinel trusts that no voter who sincerely desires above all other things political his country's welfare, will fail to give it thorough reading and impassioned consideration.

In it President Wilson once more appears as more than a mere partisan. His outlook is bounded by no narrow political lines, his hopes are shaped to no mean and narrow political bias. Even the rather casual criticism of political opponents in which he indulges is not cheap carping, but the argument born of conviction, deep-rooted and sincere. The criticism he offers is all but lost sight of in the constructive program the president outlines for the future, and that, of course, is the matter of chief concern to the American people. The president takes occasion to sketch briefly some of the accomplished fruits of his party's efforts in legislation, in the diplomacy that has spelled peace and in the preparation for future contingencies. The record speaks for itself.

And for the future, his assurances are as definite as have been his past performances. The president has placed his case before the people, in whose judgment and patriotism he has absolute confidence—a confidence that is returned in ample measure. He make it very clear that he is appealing to no prejudice and catering to no bias. He has demonstrated that his vision of a still greater, a still finer and a still more progressive America to set the pace in the world's endeavor is undimmed.

Labor Day Dawns on Rail Peace

The outstanding phase of this annual observance of Labor day will inevitably be in every quarter a sentiment of profound gratitude that the threatened general railroad strike has been averted, and that Labor day dawns upon peace in the transportation world. Trains are moving as usual and there is calm instead of confusion. There is the normal condition upon the great transportation lines of the country instead of the crash of conflict, the paralyzing of traffic and the consequent calamity to business, if not the hardship of actual suffering for food and fuel supplies that for some weeks has hung as a menace before the American people.

The amazingly rapid passage of the Adamson act by congress and its signing by President Wilson was the signal for the rescinding of the order to strike, which had been issued some days ago. It carries a basic recognition of the eight-hour day principle in railroad employment and provides for investigation designed to give intelligent determination on the operation of the principle, with a provision that until such report is made and for a period of ninety days thereafter there shall be no reduction of wages below the present standard. It is not to be expected the new legislation will be on every hand acclaimed as perfectly acceptable. It was clearly and entirely an emergency measure, designed to avert the impending blow, and it has fulfilled that purpose. There will doubtless be a test of some of its features in the higher courts. It may or it may not be upheld, but it is very certain that some of its features will come to be recognized as enduring cardinal principles in the settlement of industrial disputes.

Meanwhile, we think it a grave mistake to set forth the claim that the result is a great victory for either side. Any such attitude only makes by its cumulative effect more difficult the working out of such future problems as may arise in connection with the operation of the new law. What the railroads, the railroad employes and the public should now desire is the calm and dispassionate development of a system founded on fairness and justice that shall make impossible a recurrence of the situation that all but plunged the country into an industrial calamity in which none could have escaped suffering.

The public will watch with uncommon interest the progress of an action at Indianapolis to close up a burlesque theater in that town which has long offended decency by the character of the program it served up to that class which is apparently always eager to pay for that sort of thing. The effort is to declare the place a public nuisance under the terms of the Rule law passed by the last legislature, and the suit is the first to be brought under that act. We shall shortly learn whether we have in it an efficacious remedy for very bad conditions, or whether there is merely another ornamental enactment on the Indiana statute books.

RIDICULE.

(South Bend News-Times.)

A man of thirty-five whose home was in Duck Hill, Miss., went to San Francisco and committed suicide by taking poison. His reason was that he had been so ridiculed from childhood by friends and neighbors for an impediment of speech that life was no longer worth living. He went so far away for the act because he did not want his acquaintances to have the satisfaction of knowing they had made him desperate.

The activity of news agencies is such that it is more than probable that his Duck Hill friends have by now been apprised of his tragic death. It is also more than probable that instead of giving them satisfaction, the occurrence will be the cause of their lasting remorse.

Of course, a man should be strong enough of soul to discount ridicule and live above it. But as a matter of fact, many people are not strong enough. Nearly all of us, in one way or another, have our weaknesses. And it is not exactly the part of kindness or justice for our acquaintances to make the biggest pull of our lives come at the weak part of the chain.

The man or woman who has some physical defect has already enough burden to carry, and is usually extremely sensitive about his difference from his fellows. To add to that burden by ridicule is unpardonable.

Ridicule is almost always thoughtless, but none the more excusable for that reason. Men and women have no business to be thoughtless of the comfort of others.

Ridicule of the imperfections of others is almost always stupid. And it has seldom been known to do any good which could not have been accomplished in some better way. It has certain rare uses at the hands of the word-expert. But to ridicule a man for a defect which was beyond his power to remedy!

Who killed this man, anyhow—himself or his neighbors?

AIN'T NATURE WONDERFUL?

Unnatural History, by Eugene Ahern.

A POLITICIAN.

A politician is a fellow who's tired of working.

Politicians spend $5000 for political jobs that pay $1200 a year. Do they work after they get the jobs? Do women tell their right ages? Do herring bark?

Politicians are very modest when talking things about themselves—they hire men to do it for them.

When a fellow gets the hunch, working for money is hard driving he decides to go into politics. He gets a lot of cards printed telling where he was born, where he attended school, that he is married and has a flock of happy children, and in capital letters lets it be known, that from an infant he has been a friends of the working man. The political game is like parachute jumping because when you fall, you fall hard.

Here's Speedy Relief from Kidney Troubles

"Foley Kidney Pills have done me a heap of good." A. T. Bartlett, Brockton, Mass.

Some days it seems as if you can no longer bear the pain and misery you suffer from kidney and bladder trouble. The ache across your back grows worse with every move you make, and with every step you take. It not only robs you of all your strength and energy, but it affects the other important organs of the body as well. Nervousness, headache, disordered stomach, liver trouble, bad eyesight, are only some of the conditions that follow kidney trouble.

Foley Kidney Pills help the sick weak kidneys to regain their normal healthy state and activity. When they are again able to do their work effectively, your system is no longer choked and blocked with poisonous waste matter. Your symptoms clear up, your weariness, pain, misery and weakness go away. Foley Kidney Pills can do you also "a heap of good."

QUALITY VERSUS QUANTITY.

Many housewives make a vital mistake in choosing some of their foodstuffs on the basis of quantity.

It has been proven time and again that the cheapest is always the most expensive, while the highest price is not always the best.

There's a happy medium in everything. When you select foods, be careful. Don't choose any particular brand of, say Baking Powder for example, just because you get a big can for a small price.

The risk you take in ruining your entire baking and losing the cost of the materials involved is not anywhere equal to the small amount saved on the price of the Baking Powder.

Then again, because the price is high, don't think the quality is the best. Some women do, and they are losing money.

Look for the happy medium. You'll find it. Choose a brand that costs a moderate price and you'll find it more economical to buy and more economical to use.

The best Baking Powder in the world can be made so as to sell for 25c per 1 lb.—Advertisement.

CONCERNING SATURDAY CLOSING.

Editor of The Sentinel:—

The "get together" movement for early Saturday closing is one which this store is heartily in favor of. We think the time has come when 6 o'clock closing on Saturdays throughout the year should be the rule and we were pleased to be at the top of the list of merchants signing the agreement to do so. That the movement was not unanimous among local merchans is our regret, for only through co-operation will this plan be successfully worked out. If this could be brought about, we will gladly and willingly close at 6 o'clock Saturdays, excepting during the holiday shopping period in December. We hope to see all department stores, millinery, dry goods, furniture and ready-to-wear stores get together on this question and have early Saturday closing a permanent institution.

LAFAYETTE PLACE BOUND TO ADVANCE

Men who keep close tab upon real estate values in Fort Wayne are of the opinion that the property values of Lafayette Place, the new addition on South Calhoun street, are certain to have a rapid advance, partly due to the high character of this addition, and also because of its ideal location upon this city's main business street and directly in the path of Fort Wayne's great southward growth. The better class of additions on the south side which have similar restrictions placed upon them have made increases ranging from $550 to $1,300, and it is presumed that Lafayette Place with all its numerous advantages will be due for a like advance. TRACTION CAR HITS TRUCK; ONE KILLED

Louis J. Feist Meets Death and His Son is Seriously Hurt in Accident.

Louis J. Feist, 55, owner of the Anthony Dry Cleaning and Tailoring establishment at 828 Barr street, was killed, and his son, Cyril W. Feist, 26, was seriously hurt Sunday morning when a Northwestern Indiana interurban car struck an auto delivery truck in which the men were riding four miles out of Fort Wayne. The truck was Huntertown bound. The elder Feist was hurled from the truck into a ditch head first and lived but a few minutes. His son, driving, was dazed by the accident, but had recovered himself to talk of the accident Monday morning.

Mr. Feist, wife and son had attended early mass at St. Mary's Catholic church, later going to Mr. Feist's place of business, where both men decided on an auto drive.

Auto On Tracks.

Young Feist had his auto on the traction tracks, he says, before he heard a whistle or saw the car. Members of the car crew state that the whistle was sounded for the crossing continuously. The rear of the auto truck was hit with terrific force, hurling it high into the air and against a telephone pole east of the tracks.

The interurban was making thirty miles an hour at the time of the accident, according to members of the crew, and was brought to a stop a distance of 300 feet north of the crossing.

L. M. Dillon, Fort Wayne barber, and J. W. Reed, of Union City, were the first passengers of the car to reach the wrecked auto. The elder Feist was hurled head first in the ditch and his son was found walking around in a dazed condition.

Aid Was Administered.

The car crew administered what aid was possible to the elder Feist, but he was dying almost when the passengers reached him. Young Feist was placed in a private automobile and taken to his home, 336 East Lewis street. He had a wrenched back and possible internal injuries.

The elder Feist sustained a broken neck and several fractured ribs, the former injury being the immediate cause of death. Coroner J. E. McArdle went to the scene of the accident and ascertained the injuries to the elder Feist. The auto delivery truck was badly damaged.

Mr. Feist was born in Fort Wayne and was a most highly respected business man. For twenty-five years he had conducted a tailoring establishment in the city, first on South Lafayette street and later removing to 828 Barr street. He was a member of St. Mary's Catholic church and of the Foresters.

Family Survive Him.

Besides the widow he leaves surviving: Mrs. Bernard Blank, city; Sister Albena, St. Anthony's hospital, Terre Haute; Mrs. Irene Moorhead, Hagerstown, Ind., and Misses Thelma and Edna Feist, all daughters. Two sons, Cyril, injured in the accident, and Cornelius, also survive and reside at home.

Funeral services Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock from the residence, 336 East Lewis street, and at 9 o'clock from St. Mary's Catholic church. Burial in the Catholic cemetery.

GREENFIELD DRY BY 41 VOTES.

Greenfield, Ind., Sept. 4.—Greenfield voted dry Saturday in an option election, the majority being 41. As a result six saloons will be forced to suspend and Hancock county will be without a bar after ninety days. Greenfield had been wet for five years.

The vote was the result of one of the most strenuous campaigns waged in the county. The dry element had been making a vigorous fight for several weeks and brought in outside talent, to which much credit is given for the victory. While a number of voters were challenged by both sides, the election was free from roughness.

ATTEMPTS DEATH IN LEAP FROM TRAIN

Pettit, Confessed Slayer of Bride at Chicago, Will Recover.

Chicago, Sept. 4.—John Maurice Pettit, confessed slayer of his girl bride, attempted to escape from a Chicago detective yesterday in a spectacular, headlong leap from a passenger train speeding a mile a minute.

He made his plunge at a point a mile and a half east of Michigan City, Ind., while he was being brought back to Chicago on a limited train of the Michigan Central railroad by Detective Sergeant Theodore Bretternitz. He had been caught near Detroit, where he fled after the murder.

He broke from his captor and dove head foremost through the open window of a washroom of the rear coach. The train was brought to a stop and Pettit found a mile in the rear of the train, preparing to walk away.

His escape from instant death is probably due to the fact that he landed on a sandy stretch alongside the roadbed. It was his second attempt of the day to escape. Earlier he tried to escape in Detroit.

At the same hour, his girl bride, Kathleryn Keiser Pettit, whose throat he cut last Thursday in a fit of religious mania, was lying in a North Clark street undertaking parlor here, and chums and schoolmates of the slain girl wept disconsolately during funeral services.

Pettit is now under guard at the Bridewell hospital. He was found to have a punctured lung, broken ribs and an injured jaw, but he has a chance to recover.

Chief of Detectives Charles L. Larkin obtained a confession when he talked to Pettit at the hospital.

"I killed her to save her purity, but she is not dead. I killed her materially, but spiritually she still lives," Pettit said.

"She never fell when I cut her. I had my arms around her neck when I did it. I just laid her down on the floor."

"Other men called and talked to her. I was jealous of them. I was wrong in that," he said at another point.

Pettit said that he put his arm around his young wife's neck and told her what he intended to do.

"I was insanely jealous of her," he declared. "I wanted her to enter the spiritual life, but not on this plane. I alone am to blame. Her mother was very good."

No Hitch is Expected in Negotiations With Japan.

Washington, Sept. 4—Japan's proposed $30,000,000 loan to China is expected by the Japanese embassy here to go through almost immediately. It is said China's financial needs are most pressing and that further delay might prove serious for the new government.

Japanese financiers, it is expected, will be entirely responsible for the loan though Great Britain, France and Russia may be asked to participate for diplomatic reasons. The financial stringency which up to now has handicapped Japan in financial negotiations, is thought to have passed with the large profits made on war munitions. Japanese statesmen are said to feel that Japan must sooner or later make itself responsible for Chinese financial stability and that the sooner it is done, the more certain will be the guarantee of peaceful conditions.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bender are visiting in Logansport with Mrs. Bender's mother, Mrs. Richle.

Charles Daugherty Charged With Stealing from Slumbering Companion.

For forty-five years Charles Daugherty, 60, and Charles Beuret, 58, have been loyal friends, according to the story of Daugherty, told in police court Monday morning. They started out Sunday to have a sociable drunk. They achieved their purpose and landed in a semi-conscious condition in Robison park.

Charles Shields, 2118 Broadway, told in court that he saw Daugherty take a pocketbook from Beuret while Beuret was in a drunken slumber. Then Daugherty started for town. He hobbled as fast as his crippled left foot would allow him, Shields told. Daugherty was in such a rush to pass through the turnstile at the park that he broke his whisky bottle.

Daugherty was arrested in Centlivre park, where he admitted that he had spent a part of Beuret's money. Daugherty said that Beuret dropped the wallet and that he had rescued it and intended to return it later, when Beuret was sober.

Both Beuret, who is charged with intoxication, and Daugherty will have another hearing on Sept. 7, when Beuret is expected to be completely sobered up and able to testify.

GOING ON A SECRET MISSION TO EUROPE

New York, Sept. 4.—Col. Alfre Breceda, former private secretary to Gen. Carranza, who visited the United States in 1915, on what he said was a secret mission for Carranza, arrived here today on the Spanish line steamship Montserrat, from Vera Cruz and Puerto. Mexico. Col Breceda says he is going to Spain and France on a diplomatic mission for the de facto government, the nature of which he declined to discuss.

H. A. Dunn, civil engineer of California, former superintendent of Mexico Light and Power company, who was recently released from jail where he said he was held 110 days on a charge of having executed two of his employes, was on the Montserrat. He was released after having proved that the deaths occurred more than a year prior to the time of his arrival in Mexico City. The ship had as passengers 111 people, the majority being in transit for Spain.

JOHN ROBINSON SHOWS ARRIVE ON WEDNESDAY

If there is any one particular future event on the local entertainment calendar that the amusement-seeking public of Fort Wayne is expectantly looking forward to more than anything else, it is probably the scheduled visit here on September 6, of the John Robinson ten big shows.

It is claimed for the John Robinson shows that the secret of its wonderful long-lived popularity is due chiefly to the preservation and retention of all those time honored ideas and methods that were in vogue away back in the days of hoop-skirts and poke bonnets and which first brought the sawdust ring, the menagerie and the side show curio into public favor. Call them antiquated, if you wish, but take away entirely the old-time characteristics that made John Robinson world famous as a tent showman and just that minute it would cease to be a real, genuine John Robinson circus.

The arrival here next Wednesday morning will be fittingly and publicly celebrated with a street parade at 10 a. m.

Woman from Laotto in Alley With Male Companion and is Arrested.

The paddock for visitors in police court was crowded Monday morning. Many sons of toil had gathered because of their liberty for the day to witness the grist of unfortunates who had fallen in the snare of the law. Some times the spectators would laugh in unison and many times the bailiff rapped for order.

Whisky Was for Mother.

Gertrude Augustus, who says she lives at Laotto, came to town last Friday to look for a room and also to get some rock candy and whisky for her poor old mother, who has a hacking cough, she told Judge Kerr. She did not find the room but she had a few sociable drinks with friends.

An officer found her Sunday morning in an alley with Paul McBride. They had just had a drink from the whisky bottle. Gertrude had returned the bottle to her stocking. She was fined $10 and costs.

Fined for Speeding.

Arthur Moellering and five companions were traveling at the rate of thirty-one miles an hour on Spy Run avenue late Saturday night when arrested by Motorcycle Officer Bischoff. Moellering pleaded guilty to the speeding charge and paid a fine of $10 and costs.

Other Police Cases.

Cornie Peak, colored, and Arthur Allen, negro, were fined $15 and costs each and given a suspended jail sentence for pleading guilty to a charge of associating. They were taken by police early Sunday morning from a house on Smith street.

Maud Edmundson and Robert Johnson, charged with adultry, are held under $200 bond for trial on Sept. 11. They were arrested Sunday night.

Robert Johnson, held on a surety of the peace warrant, is under $100 bond for trial on Sept. 13.

Lores Clark, charged with petit larceny, is held under $50 bond for trial on Sept. 7. He is said to have taken automobile accessories from the Brudi Transfer empany and placed the attachments on his own machine.

William DePrez, charged with vagrancy, was given an opportunity to leave town. John Lee was fined $100 and given thirty days in jail because of previous convictions on drunk charges.

Other fines for intoxication were W. L. Jacobs, $5; David Smurr, $1; John Welsh, $5; Arthur T. Longard, $5; Jacob Eickles, $5; Mike Kelley, $1; Christ Spidel, $5.

William McGawn, Ben Ross, Lewis Walters, Charles Meyers, Charles Bates and Jefferson Myers were released after pleading guilty to drunk charges.

Charles L. Biederwolf to Head Movement in This Section.

Charles L. Biederwolf, secretary of the Commercial club, has been appointed local head of a movement inaugurated by the national committee of the Confederated Supply association, of New York, for the establishment of comfort stations along trans-continental roadways.

A representative of the association has written as follows on the movement: "We are working in conjunction with the American Automobile association, the National Highways association and the National Old Trails Road association and are about to start across country, following three main automobile routes; one, the National Old Trails road from Washington to San Diego, California; the second, the Lincoln highway, and the third route from New York to Chicago by way of Buffalo, thence to St. Paul and the northwest.

"This latter route we have already made a start on, having been asked by the state board of health of Wisconsin to come to their assistance in getting these much needed improvements in that state; and Chicago at the same time having officially asked us to help their department of public welfare put through the plan in the city of Chicago.

"In Fort Wayne we are pleased to tell you that Charles L. Biederwolf, secretary of the Commercial club of Fort Wayne, will head the movement, and we will line up with him all the influential clubs, societies and organizations in that city in creating a public demand for these interests. The mayor and councilmen, of course, will be among the first to be acquainted with this movement.

"We expect by the time spring comes again to have a complete system of roadside stations along the highway extending from New York to St. Paul. We are collecting no funds or consideration of any kind from your citizens. There will be no expense attached to this, whatsoever, outside of the cost to the city of putting up the much needed stations, all of which, under our plan, will come back to them many fold."

HOOSIED EXILES FEAST.

Corn Piece de Resistance at Reunion in Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 4.—Four hundred persons, former residents of the Hoosier state, attended the fifth annual outing of the Indiana State society, of Pittsburg, at the Bridle Path shelter house, Schenley park, Saturday afternoon. Following the dinner, which was served at 6 o'clock, impromptu addresses were made by Dr. W. B. Harvey, C. R. Doley, B. K. Elliott, C. B. Randall, H. S. Wherrett, Dr. W. W. Jones and Samuel F. Sipe. Dr. Jones recited selections from James Whitcomb Riley, so dear to the hearts of all the Hoosierites. William B. Aiken acted as toastmaster and commemorated the work of the poet. More than 300 ears of corn, which had been specially imported from Indiana, were served during the dinner. Charles W. Fairbanks, nominee for vice president, had been invited, but sent a telegram expressing his regrets.

BIG HOTEL AT NEW LONDON IS CHOSEN

Will Be Scene of American and Mexican Peace Confabs.

New York, Sept. 4.—A big hotel overlooking Long Island sound at New London, Conn., will be the scene of the conferences of the American and Mexican joint commission. The three Americans and three Mexicans composing this commission have decided upon the place, but are not yet certain on what day they will begin their deliberations.

It has been suggested to the Mexicans that the whole party go to New London tomorrow on the presidential yacht Mayflower, but it was said today that the Mexicans may ask to stay in New York a day or two longer to give Luis Cabrera, the Mexican minister of finance, one of their number, an opportunity for further conference with Dr. Alfredo Caturgel, financial agent of the Carranza government, and with local financiers interested in Mexican railroads. The commissioners met at a luncheon today given by Secretary of State Lansing. Negotiations, according to Secretary Lane, of the department of the interior, who is one of the American commissioners, will be conducted as informally as possible. Mr. Lane believes that such a plan will be feasible because the three Mexican representatives speak English fluently.

Chapel Exercises to Be Held Under Direction of President.

Concordia college will be opened for the fall term, Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, with chapel exercises by the president, M. Luecke. Tests for candidates for the upper classes, the president announces, will be held Tuesday morning, starting at nine o'clock. Examinations for entering freshmen will be held Wednesday, following chapel exercises.

Sixty New Students.

The president states that sixty new students will be enrolled this year. The average enrollment of the college is 260, and it is expected that this number will be exceeded this year. Several students will enroll from Canada, and many states of the union are represented. Last year students were enrolled from twenty-two states.

155 STARTERS FOR QUALIFYING ROUND

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 4.—Shortly after 8 o'clock this morning Sherrill Sherman, son of the former vice president, and L. R. Munger, of Dallas, Texas, teed on in the qualifying round of the amateur championship of the United States Golf association, which is being held over the double courses of the Merion cricket club. There were 155 starters and it was easily the fastest field of the year, with every section of the United States represented by its foremost golfers. Half the field got away on the east course and the other players started on the west course. The players were to go thirty-six holes and those making the thirty-two lowest scores qualify for the championship, which will be at match play.

Washington, Sept. 4.—Senators Simmons and Martin, and Majority Leader Kitchin, of the house, agreed today to pass a joint resolution for adjournment of congress at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening. The senate will defer action on the resolution until it determines that all necessary business can be completed by that time.

Senator Simmons said an effort would be made to pass the revenue bill before adjournment tonight, if possible, as the conferees would have Tuesday and Wednesday to complete their report on senate amendments. There was light attendance in both houses today, and prospects for a quick wind up of affairs seemed good.

LITTLE CONGESTION FROM BRIEF EMBARGO

New York, Sept. 4.—Freight traffic on all railroads entering New York, interrupted by embargoes due to the fear of a strike, is moving again today on normal schedules. Railroad men say that little congestion has resulted from the brief embargoes. Large quantities of merchandise had been shipped immediately previous to the issuance of hold up orders. This being a holiday, shipments will be lighter than ordinary on Monday and the roads will have an opportunity to catch up with the regular order of freight movements.

Provision dealers say that the market will slump during the next few days because a large quantity of food stuffs held by speculators in expectation of famine prices will be dumped on the market.

CAR SHORTAGE NEXT.

Chicago, Sept. 4.—Shippers throughout the country may expect a car shortage on account of the recent threatened tieup of transportation scheduled for today, according to railroad officials. Nearly all factories and many coal dealers loaded all surplus cars in anticipation of the strike and it will require two or three days to bring about normal conditions, they said.

PRESIDENT WILL TALK TO THE SUFFRAGISTS

Wires Acceptance of Invitation to Address Big Convention.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 4—President Wilson will speak Friday at the convention of the National Woman Suffrage association here. The president wired his acceptance late last night.

The coming of the president is expected to have important bearing on the controversy over the future policy of the association and the question of states right as it concerns votes for women.

One faction in the association headed by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, national president, is in favor of leaving the question of suffrage to the separate states for settlement. Delegates from the southern states, especially, support this plan.

The other faction, of which Miss Alice Paul, president of the congressional union, is a leader, want the association to center its efforts on a constitutional amendment and give the ballot to women all over the United States.

New Battle Cruisers to Be Well Supplied With Smoke Stacks.

Washington, Sept. 4.—The navy's new battle cruisers, four of which have been authorized to be laid down next year, will look like a blast furnace gone to sea. Each will be equipped with six or more smoke stacks, according to plans now being completed by the navy department. Some American cruisers carry four stacks and some of European construction have five but with the exception of a few small destroyers, no vessels in operation have six. The battle cruisers will be electric driven and oil burning. The builders will be required to produce vessels that will give off no smoke when it is desired to conceal their movements, but they will also be equipped so as to pour out heavy banks of black smoke as a screen to conceal the operations of vessels behind them.

Athens, Sept. 3.—(1 a. m., via London, Sept. 4, 11 a. m.)—Baron von Schenk, chief director of the German propaganda in Greece, has been arrested and taken on board a cruiser of the entente allies. Sixteen additional warships of the entente powers have arrived at Piraeus.

Diplomats of the entente allies had demanded that Baron von Schenk and his co-workers, in behalf of the central empires, be expelled from Greece. It was reported that he had barricaded himself in his house in Athens and surrounded it with a score of armed guards and his friends to protect him.

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 4.—Charles E. Hughes today declined to attend the Labor day celebration, as arranged for by a local committee, when he was advised that he would not be permitted to speak except on non-political subjects. Mr. Hughes also declined to review the Tennessee national guard, saying he had no right to do so.

AT THE MAJESTIC

First Authentic Pictures With Lecture at Majestic Four Days.

"Twilight Sleep," the much-heralded subject which has been so widely discussed in magazines and by public health workers during the past year, will be the subject of lectures and motion pictures to be given at the Majestic theater at 2:15 and 8:15 p. m. September 6, 7, 8 and 9, under the auspices of the Western Motherhood Educational society.

Mrs. Robert B. Liggett, of St. Paul, will give the lecture and will conduct an open discussion from the audience. Mrs. Liggett will answer questions from anyone present about twilight sleep or the care of babies. Mrs. Liggett is not advocating or asking for the endorsement of twilight sleep. Her lecture is purely informational.

Illustrating the lecture will be three reels of motion pictures taken at Freiburg, Germany, showing an actual twilight sleep birth in all its stages, in charge of Dr. Kurt E. Schlissingk, associate of Drs. Kronig and Gauss, the discoverers of the process. Dr. Schlissingk has been in this country for more than a year, conducting clinics for American physicians and teaching the Freiburg technique of twilight sleep.

Dr. Bertha von Hoosen, of the Mary Thompson hospital, of Chicago, has had more than one thousand cases of twilight sleep, without one failure. Many of the women physicians of this state are taking a course in the treatment from Dr. von Hoosen.

Mrs. Liggett spent three weeks in Detroit, where she assisted in raising a fund to establish a twilight sleep ward in the Woman's hospital. While in this city Mrs. Liggett will talk to various women's organizations on twilight sleep

AT THE TEMPLE.

Supported by a powerful cast, Miss Anna Bert, leading woman in the new Temple stock company, and Mr. Jack Doty, the leading man, scored a distinct triumph at the initial appearance of the troupe, when W. A. Brady's great New York sensation, "Sinners," delighted large audiences at both afternoon and evening performances. Staged under the personal direction of Maurice Jenkins, one of the most popular actors ever playing here in stock, the production, which has won fame as the greatest emotional comedy drama of recent years, was given as a powerful appeal. In it the Temple players, gathered by Manager Louis Wolford, won a hearty welcome and were warmly greeted. Miss Bert was particularly well received. She possesses a personality which is distinctive and a charm of manner which won her way into the hearts of Fort Wayne play-goers. Mr. Doty is a first class actor, with unusual speaking voice and a cleverness which stamps him as a fitting mate to play opposite Miss Bert, in the leading masculine roles.

Today, Labor day, there will be special matinee this afternoon, with matinees also scheduled for Tuesday and Saturday. Popular prices will prevail. "Sinners" will have an entire week's run. Next week, "Kick In," Willard Mack's phenomenal success, will be the attraction at the Temple.

AT THE PALACE

Palace Fuses Not Heavy Enough for Currents Electrical Venus Had to Handle.

When the Electrical Venus, closing the new bill at the Palace, opened her engagement, she had not previously tested the fuses on the Palace switchboard, and in generating high currents off the mains to pass through her body, the entire system of fuses was blown out, forcing her to discontinue her act. Her demonstration is remarkable, and that the currents she passes through her body should be so heavy as to blow out the fuses shows how exceptional her demonstration is. There are a number of laughs to be obtained from her act, also.

The whole of the new bill is one of variety, even to the fifty-eighth different kind, which happens to be Harry Ames, in a ridiculous bit of mimicry and monologue. Fort Wayne vaudeville lovers also have the opportunity of seeing the Potash and Perlmutter of vaudeville during the first half of this week, for George Fisher and company are here in the laughable farce, "The Partners." The bill opens with The Cavanno Duo, in a pleasing bit of everything, from harp playing to slack wire work. Patricola & Meyers have a good number in "The Girl and the Dancing Fool" which describes their act better than any longer discussion. Arthur Angel and company offer an enjoyable bit of patriotism in "A Real Soldier," but combine with it a number of laughs.

A new bill will open Thursday headed by Gus Edwards' School Boys and Girls.

BY SAMUEL GOMPERS.
President of American Federation of Labor.

Labor day, 1916, brings to the workers of America firm confidence in the trade union movement!

Great progress has been made in securing the eight hour lay and better wages and in winning legislative victories.

SAMUEL GOMPERS

The issue of labor now is concerned with the attitude of the political parties toward the questions of human welfare, and with the policy of our government toward Mexico.

The shorter workday produces more energetic, more resourceful workers with keener mentality and greater producing power. Wherever demands for the shorter workday and higher wages have been made by organized workers during the past year, they have met with success.

The record of legislative achievements of the labor movement since 1906 is one of splendid victories. The seamen's act brings freedom and protection to the seamen who are pressing their demands for higher wages and better conditions.

The labor sections of the Clayton anti-trust law contain the most advanced concepts of freedom—"The labor of a human being is not a commodity or article of commerce."

The greatest thing in both these acts is the advancement of human freedom.

The question that concerns the workers is how to hold their present advantages and how to obtain from the government still greater opportunities for freedom. The party now in power has in its legislative achievements placed the highest valuation upon human life and human attributes that has ever been declared by any political party in power.

The international issue that now comes closest to the labor movement is the policy of our government toward Mexico. Representatives of labor in Mexico have joined with those in America to insure to the workers and the citizens of Mexico the rights of human beings, opportunities for freedom and for independence.

There are capitalists and exploiting interests in the United States, who, because they have property in Mexico, desire to maintain governmental agencies by which they can hold the people in subjection and deny to them the opportunity for protecting themselves.

These selfish interests are concentrating their political power in the present campaign to secure a different policy on the part of our government toward Mexico.

Even under the guise of intervention, no matter how unnecessary and unwarrantable, the advocates of that policy really aim at the conquest and annexation of Mexico. To them property and profits are held far more sacred than international honor and human liberty.

BRIGHT OUTLOOK IS SEEN FOR WOMEN

Of the National Woman's Trade Union League.

The outlook for the women workers of our country is bright for the coming year. The prospects for organizing women into trade unions in great numbers never looked more promising to us.

AGNES NESTOR.

The National Women's Trade Union league, believing great work can be accomplished, has asked its affiliated local leagues to join in holding interstate conferences, beginning early this fall, so trade union women, leaders in different sections of the country, may confer to plan a campaign through which we may effectively organize the thousands of women in the unorganized trades, and plan, too, a national campaign for an eight-hour day, both through organization and legislation.

Unorganized women have been working long hours for low wages so long that an unrest exists, certain to find expression in uprisings such as we witnessed in strikes last spring.

Shorted hours and increased wages were demanded and because labor was so scarce, the employer not being able to draw on the immigrant, the demands were easily won.

There are trades everywhere in this state of unrest and ready for organization.

In Illinois, we realize, we are far behind other states in the matter of legislation for protection of woman workers, because we still have the 10-hour day and 70-hour week. But we do feel we have advanced when we consider that in 1913 the only measure we could have receive any attention was a 10-hour day and 60-hour week. In 1915 the legislature had sufficiently advanced to consider a 9-hour day, and while legislation for the shorter workday was not obtained, the shorter hour got considerable support. Next year Illinois will have to meet the 8-hour day.

We look forward in the coming session of congress to a bill to create a separate division in the department of labor, to be known as a woman's division, with a woman as chief. This bill was introduced in the present session and while no committee action has been taken it has the endorsement of the secretary of labor and the support of the committee. A favorable report is assured early in the next session of congress.

With prospects of federal aid to vocational education to be granted to the states, opportunities will be open to women, giving them training for trades and occupations that will fit them to enter more profitable employment.

AT THE GRAND

The Grand theater on Calhoun street offers the best show of the season today inasmuch that the management has secured a run of films which includes four movie stars. Francis X. Bushman, one of the most favorably known of moving picture actors, will be seen playing the leading roll in "A Man for A' That." Helen Gibson again startles the audience with her daring feats in the series of acts, "The Perils of Helen."

The great comedy act which has been advertised throughout the country and which has met with a howling success, "The Bright Lights," featuring Roscoe Arbuckle and Mabel Normand, is the third of the variety of star acts.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

WESTERN GAS ARE SEASON'S CHAMPIONS

Construction Men Defeat Turners in Final Game of Shop Season.

The members of the Western Gas team again demonstrated that they are the champions of the Fort Wayne Industrial league in every department. They outbatted the clubmen and played fine baseball all during the contest. To those who did not see the contest the 8 to 1 victory might look like a farce but it was far from that. The two teams battled with the score standing 2 to 1 in favor of the Westerns up till the eighth when the construction men landed on Zoll for six runs. The batting honors were divided between Hargrave, Luetwiler and H. Heine, each of the men taking three.

The fans are after Mart Cleary to give the Westerns a chance at his team for the city championship, to which request Mart readily consented. The two outfits would put up some scrap and the fans would be assured some fine baseball. The date of the game will be announced later. The score of the game is as follows:

PAYNE TOSSERS TAKE FT. WAYNE INTO CAMP

Visiting Umpire Pulls Big Boner and Nips Local's Big Rally.

When recording a game of any kind it doesn't look well to say this man or that man robbed another team of a win, but there are times when such a thing is so plain that it becomes a fact, and then complaint is justified.

This is how it happened. The Clearyites came to bat in the eighth frame with not a marker to their credit and after two were out they started a big rally and shoved across the pen five tallies. Weberus, Nill, C. Alberts were on the bases when Capt. Bill Hillinger came to bat. The Clearyite's center fielder smacked one, a roller, to Grimes. The pitcher heaved a wild one to Humbrecht, drawing his foot off the bag, during which operation Hillinger stepped on the sack. The umpire from Payne had nerve enough to take his life in his hands and call Bill out; then he crawled to cover. For a minute there looked as if there would be a fight but the sportsmanship of the Fort Wayne crew prevented any serious consequences. The decision lost the game for the Clearyites as the next man up was due for a hit.

The game was no farce. Aside from the bad feature of the umpire, it resembled a big league contest, with the Clearyites making the most of the errors. Distel pitched good ball but the eight men behind him caused his downfall. The old jinx of playing Payne came back and everything broke against them. Payne hit easy infield grounders which used the freakish way of bounding over the heads of the Clearyites for hits. The game was fast and interesting, many plays and slips making the game look fine from the stands. In the second inning Speed Weberus took a fast one behind third and with an underhand throw retired the runner. The sun was bad yesterday. Nill had one in his mitts and the sun blinded him, causing the ball to keep out of reach. Heine led the crew with three hits to his credit. His opponent, Wares, also had three.

The crowd was large, nearly two thousand being present to see the teams in action. The Payne crowd was very much in evidence judging from the yelling.

The Fort Wayne Colored Giants play the Clearyites Monday and are to use the double umpiring system. They are loading their lineup with Lima Giants and Louisville Black Sox players and are out for a win, with everything pointing to that outcome.

The box score of the game Sunday follows:

MISSOURI FARMER IS CHAMPION STRONG MAN OF HARVARD; SNAPS STEEL CHAIN BY EXPANDING HIS CHEST 14 INCHES!

(By Harold Johnson.)

He breaks a steel chain by a 14-inch chest expansion and if you think that's a trick he'll soon disillusionize you by supporting eight men on the same chest holding the 1,600 pound burden two minutes.

Feats such as these are commonplace with Walter Alvin Boyd, of Louisiana, Mo., the strongest man at the Harvard summer school.

Boyd does stunts that even the professional man of muscle might find beyond his power of endurance. His merry go-round feat in which he supports eight men on his chest with his body on the ground in the shape of a bridge, is original, Boyd says.

The hercules from the west is rounding out a course in the department of physical education at Harvard so he can go back home and teach the kiddies a few of the most modern eastern forms of physical culture.

"Be cheerful!" That is Boyd's motto. The cultivation of a cheerful disposition is above all one of the most important essentials in physical development, he says, and to have sunshine in one's everyday life it is necessary to depend largely upon the elements of nature.

Boyd is 36 years old and married. Back home he has one of the finest farms in Pike county, Missouri. He is the father of three growing boys, and has no desire for the life of a professional strong man.

Hard work, plenty of it, and wholesome food are largely responsible for Boyd's strength and good ....., for he confesses he has never known a sick day. Open life on the farm made him rugged. He does not know the taste of liquors nor has he ever smoked. He eats almost anything, but favors the diet of the vegetarian.

Boyd's present weight is 202 pounds, and there isn't an ounce of surplus fat on his whole frame. His hours of labor at home are from 5 a. m. to 8 p. m. Three evenings of his week are given over to a class of youngsters in physical culture.

Ten men pulling together failed to break the steel chain that Boyd easily snaps with his chest by his chest expansion. The chain is placed about his chest with the customary straps to hold it in place. In a jiffy Boyd's chest expands and the chain is snapped in twain.

During this feat his heart stops one beat.

Boyd does not believe in lifting dead weights or by harness, as he says they stiffen a man's muscles. Real lifts require action, he says.

TENNIS FINALS AT COUNTRY CLUB TODAY

S. E. Mulholland Donates Beautiful Cup for the City Tennis Play.

The Fort Wayne city tennis tourney is nearing a close after showing some fine tennis to the fans of the city and giving the organization a boost towards a successful goal. The singles and doubles finals are to be played at the Country club this afternoon, with Dr. Miles F. Porter, Jr., and Clinton Burton as the singles attraction. This match should prove a fast one. Both men are fine tennis players. Burton was eliminated by Porter when he won the city championship last year. Burton is a placing player and resorts to that game most frequently. This is the game that Daniel Kiefer, of Cincinnati, worried when the two met in the northern Indiana tourney.

The finals in the doubles of the tourney affords a lot of talk as to who will win. The Burton-Mulholland pair look fine. These players are two of the best ever turned out in the city and are working hard for the city championship. Both play a fast game, Burton being a placing and a net player, while Mulholland has few equals around here in the back court game.

The O'Rourke-Bailhe combination are no pick up pair and are due to make things lively for the two favorites. They have not played together very much but make up that department by being expert racquet wielders. The singles start at 1:30 o'clock and the doubles shortly after the singles have been completed. The public has been invited to attend the play.

S. E. Mulholland has donated a beautiful silver cup for the play in the city series in 1917. The cup is a three year trophy and will be the property of the association until next year, when it will be up for competition. Mr. Mulholland is a tennis fan and is doing everything he can to see the game pushed forward in Fort Wayne.

EVERYTHING SET FOR KILBANE-CHANEY GO

Every Seat Sold for the Biggest Featherweight Mill in Years.

Cedar Point, O., Sept. 4.—Despite assurances from both contestants in today's battle for the world's featherweight title, Johnny Kilbane, title holder, and George Chaney, challenger, that they have easily reached the 122 pounds required, a suspicion existed in each camp before the men entered the ring that the other fellow had found difficulty in making it. The feeling seemed strong in the ranks of the Chaney supporters, whose confidence grew as the hour for the contest approached.

The Cleveland boxer through his manager Jimmy Dunn, declared, however, that he weighed 121 pounds before leaving Cleveland yesterday, and that he was in excellent shape for the bout.

Experts expect the mill to be a contest between the rugged, slambang style exemplified by the Baltimore man and the clever defensive battle for which Kilbane is famous. Chaney comes with a reputation as being a dispenser of knockout blows, but Kilbane is expected by his friends from Cleveland to outbox his rival throughout the fifteen rounds and perhaps score a knockout himself.

Odds before the first preliminary went in at 2 o'clock were practically 2 to 1, with Kilbane the favorite, and very little Chaney money in sight.

From a scenic standpoint the arena is one of the prettiest sites ever used for a championship bout. It is located on the edge of Sandusky bay, with a background of willows. Its seating capacity is a little more, it is said, than 10,000, and every seat was sold when the first of the spectators straggled in this morning.

MUCH INTEREST IN WELSH-WHITE SCRAP

Colorado Springs Crowded With Fans to See Fight Scheduled Today.

Colorado Springs, Col., Sept. 4.—With the city crowded with fight fans and incoming trains and automobiles bringing scores of others, everything was in readiness today for the ring contest between Champion Freddie Welsh and Challenger Charlie White, which is to decide the lightweight championship of the world. Followers of the fighting game today admittedly were at sea in hazarding a choice between the two men. In the respective camps the principals were said to be in fine condition and confident.

Betting, following announcement by District Attorney M. W. Purcell that bookmaking would be barred, was of such a nature that the favorite could not be determined. Considerable money, it was understood, is being placed in private. The men are expected to enter the ring between 3 and 3:30 this afternoon. Final arrangements for preliminaries and motion pictures are to be made this morning.

WOMEN'S INTEREST IN LABOR DAY DEEPER THAN EVER, SAYS HELEN MAROT.

New York, Sept. 4.—"Women have a greater interest in Labor day this year than ever before!"

This is the Labor day view of Helen Marot, writer on the problems of working women and noted advocate of the woman's trade union movement.

"The continued stoppage of immigration, caused by the war, has given women workers in this country at least as great an opportunity as it has given men. And the women have seen the men taking advantage of their opportunity, and are awakening more and more fully to themselves.

"As an instance, let me mention the office workers, who are almost exclusively women. Recently they have formed thirteen local unions in different cities. Before fall is passed, a national union will have been formed.

"The recent fight of the teachers' union in Chicago has stimulated discussion throughout the country, and prospects for organization in their profession have grown brighter.

"It is an interesting phase of the women's labor movement also that the working women themselves are now more active the organization of their fellows. A few years ago the leaders in the Women's Trade Union league were persons of leisure.

"For instance, the president of the New York brance of the Women's Trade Union league, Mrs. Melinda Scott, was once a factory worker, and is now a member of the state industrial council. Agnes Nestor, once worker and organizer in the glove trade, is a national committee member in the American Federation of Labor.

"It was the Womens' Trade Union league which got forces of the men together and pushed to a successful conclusion the fight on the proposal of the New York state department of labor and the New York manufacturers to lengthen again the legal hours of labor for working women.

"These are some of the recent accomplishments of working women which it is well to recall on Labor day. But we ought to look even more hopefully toward the prospects for the future.

"Strikebreakers are at a premium now. Almost every strike since the war began has resulted in a gain of some kind for the strikers. This is the example the women have under their eyes.

"And soon women will have to be taken into men's trades. For the first time in many years there is something like a shortage of male labor. Once women are in these trades, they will stay.

"Because they need not fear the competition of inflowing immigrants, the women can organize each new trade as they enter it. That is the hope that will be in the minds of hundreds of thousands of women workers this Labor day!"

WOMEN'S PARTY GETS NEW HOPE IN FIGHT

Replies from Candidates for Congress Gives Much Encouragement.

Washington, Sept. 4.—A positive majority for the federal suffrage amendment in the congress to be elected in November is indicated by the 132 replies so far received from candidates to questions sent out by the congressional committee of the National American Woman Suffrage association.

One hundred and twelve of the candidates who replied, or nearly 85 per cent, declared themselves in favor of woman suffrage and stated they would vote for the federal suffrage amendment and that they would work to get a favorable report on the amendment if they should be on the committee which has jurisdiction.

Of the thirty-nine replies so far received from Illinois only one is unfavorable. Women cannot vote for senators and representatives in Illinois, but national leaders are counting on the entire Illinois delegation.

Mrs. Roessing will confer with the Illinois suffragists at the time of the national convention in Atlantic City, Sept. 6, when plans will be made as to what action to take with regard to this delinquent.

Seven favorable and no unfavorable answers have been received from Minnesota. Michigan also has so far sent in no unfavorable or non-committal replies. Five candidates have pledged their support.

From Wisconsin five replies have been received to date, four favorable and one opposed.

There have been forty-nine replies to date from Pennsylvania candidates. Forty-six of them answered favorably. One declared his opposition to the federal amendment, while two were non-committal.

SHOP AND RAILROAD NEWS

W. P. DITTOE IS PRESIDENT OF VETS

Nickel Plate Men Place Him at Head of Their Social Organization.

"The best we ever had," is the way the Fort Wayne Nickel Plate vets who attended the annual banquet and meeting of the association at Buffalo last Saturday describe that event. "The attendance was somewhat below the number it would have been had it not been for the threatened strike, but it was larger than at any of the previous meetings, there being over 400 at the banquet," said one of the enthusiastic veterans.

Before the banquet the election was held which resulted as follows:

Past president, Charles W. Bell, conductor on the Fort Wayne and Chicago divisions.

President, W. P. Dittoe, purchasing agent of the company.

First vice president, William Ogelvie, inspector of fuel.

Second vice president, R. W. Mitchener, superintendent of transportation.

At the banquet the speakers were: President J. J. Benet, assistant to President A. W. Johnston, William Ogelvie, W. P. Dittoe, John J. Wells, of the Buffalo News, and Attorney Stafford, one of the guests at the banquet.

The entertaining features included a trip over the Gorge route, with occasion stops at points of interest, which was enjoyed by over 400 people.

The membership roll was given quite a boost, there being twenty-two additions made at the business meeting in the afternoon, bringing the total up to 523. The vets received every courtesy at the hands of the company enroute to and from Buffalo and by the people of Buffalo, and a vote of thanks was taken just before adjournment.

EMBARGO IS RAISED.

Only the Holiday Prevents Usual Freight Movements.

All the railways are moving through freight today, though because of the embargo on the business last week, the movement is not up to the standard. Local business, on account of the holiday, is suspended for the time, but it will be resumed tomorrow. Nothing remains of the late eight hour controversy to interfere with business or mar the feelings of the majority of the people, and tomorrow will find business conditions on the roads in the usual condition. W. H. Grout, who represented the G. R. & I. conductors at Washington, took passenger train No. 11 north today and will bring No. 4 back tomorrow. Roy Jones, who represented the G. R. & I. engineers, has returned from Washington, but has not resumed his duties on the road. Engineer D. D. Miller, who represented the Pennsylvania firemen, has not returned yet, being engaged on some committee work.

WILL HAVE CLEVELAND EXCURSION.

District Passenger Agent F. P. Parnim, of the Nickel Plate, is out early this year with the announcement of the date of the annual fall excursion to Cleveland, which will be given on Saturday, September 30, the return limit being the train which pulls out of Cleveland at 7:35 o'clock Monday evening, October 2, giving the excursionists three days at Cleveland. There will be the usual special excursion train leaving Fort Wayne at 7 o'clock Saturday morning and trains No. 2, leaving at 3:05, and No. 4, leaving at 8:05 Saturday, will also carry excursionists. The fare will be $3.75, which is a slight advance over the fares of the previous excursions.

PRINTERS ELECT DELEGATES.

The Printers' union, No. 78, at the meeting yesterday afternoon named Charles Habacker and Bert Bleigh delegates to the annual convention of the State Federation of Labor at Logansport, September 25, 26 and 27. George Overdear and Harry Keller were named as alternate delegates. The union also decided to give the vocational school movement in Fort Wayne its support and emphasized the commercial course feature.

FIRST OUTING A SUCCESS.

Th first outing and field day of the Bridge and Structural Iron Workers' union, No. 147, held at Centlivre park yesterday was all that the management could desire. It was well attended, the weather conditions were ideal and the program for the entertainment of the members and the guests was excellent and carried out in full. There was a band of twenty pieces to furnish the music and there were refeshments in abundance.

MEAT CUTTERS TO CELEBRATE.

The members of the Meat Cutters' union, local No. 423, will hold a smoker on the evening of September 28, at which time they will celebrate the tenth anniversary of the organization. In addition, the union plans on inaugurating a special membership campaign, and an effort will be made to get every meat cutter in the city a member of the local. The meetings is to be held at Vordermark hall.

WILL RETURN TO CHICAGO.

Freight Agent H. E. Allison and Passenger Agent C. A. Pritchard, of the Nickel Plate, left this afternoon for Chicago on business connected with the freight handlers' strike in that city. They were there last week and came home Saturday to spend Sunday with their families and to look after some railway business.

NEW LABOR ORGANIZATION.

Through the efforts of Henry L. Holtje, organizer for the Federation of Labor, the Cement Workers' union was organized yesterday and has applied for a charter. The officers are: George Jaap, jr., president; Frank Effert, vice president; O. A. Hoover, secretary and treasurer, and W. A. Stapleton, sergeant at arms.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

The name of the Nickel Plate railroad station at Dover, O., has been changed to North Dover, O.

Holiday travel on the railroads is very heavy. It is particularly heavy on the G. R. & I. and the N. Y. C., over which lines the bulk of the travel to the lake resorts goes. The Nickel Plate also had a big dollar Sunday business, there being 543 tickets sold at the local station. The purchasers of these tickets did not return last night and will come in tonight and tomorrow on regular fares.

At the meeting held yesterday afternoon the bartenders' local, No. 305, obligated four new members, making the enrollment the largest in the history of the organization. The local also drew up resolutions on the death of Fred Dammeyer, and the charter was ordered draped in mourning. Arrangements were made for the attendance of delegates to the Indiana state convention of the Federation of Labor to be held at Logansport September 23.

When Passenger Engineer M. G. Flagle, of the L. E. & W., was about to leave the hall of Division 12, B. L. E., last evening, the only hat on the rack where he had earlier placed his own headgear was a massive straw affair which completely enveloped Mr. Flagle's head and rested upon his shoulders when he put it on. He regards the exchange the work of a joker and is patiently awaiting the return of his own hat.

Progressives Are Ignored in New Republican Text Book.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 4.—Advance copies of the republican campaign textbook were given out today by the local representatives of the national committee.

By far the greater part of the volume is devoted to Charles E. Hughes, the candidate for the presidency, and his public utterances and his public record.

Mexico and the tariff are the two chief topics of the book outside of Mr. Hughes. Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, is author of "The Story of Mexico." In addition to this there is a Mexican Catechism," in which all possible questions concerning the administration's record are asked and answered.

The book refers to the Japanese peril in the chapter on the tariff and contains convincing facts concerning its imminence.

Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy, comes in for a severe criticism, which includes the remarks made about him by George Harvey, editor of the North American Review, under the heading, "Sir Josephus, N. C. B."

Other writers in the volume are Senators Weeks, of Massachusetts, and Gallinger, of New Hampshire; Myron T. Herrick, of Cleveland; Representatives Miller and Anderson, of Minnesota; Sloan, of Nebraska, and Rogers, of Massachusetts.

Progressive republicans, in scanning the volume, failed to find any contributions from any of their group. Also, they noticed that no appeal to the progressives is contained in it outside of the letter and article written by Col. Roosevelt declining the progressive nomination.

The civil service record of the democratic administration is lambasted and the volume contains portions of the proceedings of the National Civil Service Reform league to prove its contention that the democrats have raided the service at every opportunity.

MANY SPORT EVENTS PLANNED FOR THE DAY

National Championship is a Stake in an Unusual Number of Contests.

New York, Sept. 4.—An unprecedented program of athletic events throughout the United States will make Labor day, 1916, a memorable date in the history of American sport. The national championship today is at stake in an unusual number of outdoor engagements. It is probable that the number of persons who will see prominent athletes perform today will establish a record.

Two national boxing titles are at issue—the lightweight championship at Colorado Springs, Col., where Freddie Welsh will defend his crown against Charlie White, and the featherweight championship at Cedar Point, O., where Johnny Kilbane will meet George Chaney.

The national amateur championship will open on the Marion golf club links at Haverford, Pa., and the semi-finals of the national tennis singles tournament will be decided at Forest Hills, N. Y.

Detroit is the scene of a national championship motor regatta. Two A. U. swimming championships will be decided—the 100 yards at Honolulu and the ten mile at St. Louis.

Games in both major baseball leagues both morning and afternoon will make the day an important one in the race for two pennants.

IN THE CHURCHES

Ladies' Aid to Meet.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Simpson M. E. church will meet Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. C. E. Enslen, 235 East Williams street.

NO FATALITIES IN WRECK ON G. R. & I.

Fifty Injured When Resort Flyer Meets a Mishap Near Mancelona.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 4.—No fatalities will result from the wreck Saturday night on the southbound resort flyer of the Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad at Wilkins switch, near Mancelona, Mich., according to surgeons of the road. Fully fifty persons were injured, some of them seriously. Those most seriously hurt are in a hospital at Cadillac, Mich.

Mrs. G. H. Bennett, of Chicago, whose scalp was torn loose and who at first was thought to be fatally hurt, is now believed to be out of danger. Among the others injured is Caroline L. Sumner, Connersville, Ind., sprained ankle and knee injured.

Most of the injured were riding in the day coach at the front of the train when it struck a split rail and several of the coaches ran into the ditch.

GERMANS TRUE TO U. S., DECLARES MR. KELLER

Indianapolis, Sept. 4.—Joseph Keller, president of the Indiana State Alliance of German Societies, in addressing the state meeting here yesterday, declared members of the alliance have been true to America during the two years of the European war. He asserted that during this time German-Americans in the United States have been publicly maligned and subjected to persecution and calumny." Further, he said, "the German element is coming politically into its own."

Mr. Keller reported the state alliance now has 215 subordinate alliances in the state with a membership of 22,000 persons. The growth in the last year, he said, was from 175 societies to 215 in thirty-five cities. Carl Dreisch, of Evansville, secretary of the state association, said there are more than 62,000 native born Germans in Indiana and more than 30,000 native born Austrians.

STOPS WIFE'S TONGUE; PAYS HOSPITAL BILL

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 4.—John Kearne's wife talked too much — at least so he allowed—but that's getting ahead of the story.

Kearne and his wife spent yesterday in Shaw's botanical gardens. A gardener was explaining things about the plants.

"What is that?" inquired Kearne, pointing to a plant.

"It is known as dumbcane," replied the gardener.

"Why the dumb?" asked Kearne.

"If you touch it with your tongue it renders you speechless," was the response.

Some time later Kearne approached his wife smilingly.

"Shut your eyes and open your mouth, I've something good for you," he said and his wife obeyed. At the city hospital Mrs. Kearne recovered her speech today and she told on Kearne. He confessed. Likewise he footed the hospital bill.

"I didn't have faith in what that gardener said, but sometimes my wife talks too much and I thought I'd try it," he said.

It's a season of featherbone and horsehair, but such featherbone and horsehair as our grandmothers never dreamed of in their clothes philosophy. The horsehair with which the dimities, organdies and tulles are "hooped" into barrel-like width is sheer as a veil and weighs no more than a feather. These stiffening contrivances are usually arranged in the underskirt of the summer frocks. The shops offer many practical things in the way of "distenders" for fluffy skirts.

WOMEN'S INTEREST IN LABOR DAY DEEPER THAN EVER, SAYS HELEN MAROT.

New York, Sept. 4.—"Women have a greater interest in Labor day this year than ever before!"

This is the Labor day view of Helen Marot, writer on the problems of working women and noted advocate of the woman's trade union movement.

"The continued stoppage of immigration, caused by the war, has given women workers in this country at least as great an opportunity as it has given men. And the women have seen the men taking advantage of their opportunity, and are awakening more and more fully to themselves.

"As an instance, let me mention the office workers, who are almost exclusively women. Recently they have formed thirteen local unions in different cities. Before fall is passed, a national union will have been formed.

"The recent fight of the teachers' union in Chicago has stimulated discussion throughout the country, and prospects for organization in their profession have grown brighter.

"It is an interesting phase of the women's labor movement also that the working women themselves are now more active the organization of their fellows. A few years ago the leaders in the Women's Trade Union league were persons of leisure.

"For instance the president of the New York brance of the Women's Trade Union league, Mrs. Melinda Scott, was once a factory worker, and is now a member of the state industrial council. Agnes Nestor, once worker and organizer in the glove trade, is a national committee member in the American Federation of Labor.

"It was the Womens' Trade Union league which got forces of the men together and pushed to a successful conclusion the fight on the proposal of the New York state department of labor and the New York manufacturers to lengthen again the legal hours of labor for working women.

"These are some of the recent accomplishments of working women which it is well to recall on Labor day. But we ought to look even more hopefully toward the prospects for the future.

"Strikebreakers are at a premium now. Almost every strike since the war began has resulted in a gain of some kind for the strikers. This is the example the women have under their eyes.

"And soon women will have to be taken into men's trades. For the first time in many years there is something like a shortage of male labor. Once women are in these trades, they will stay.

"Because they need not fear the competition of inflowing immigrants, the women can organize each new trade as they enter it. That is the hope that will be in the minds of hundreds of thousands of women workers this Labor day!"

WOMEN'S PARTY GETS NEW HOPE IN FIGHT

Replies from Candidates for Congress Gives Much Encouragement.

Washington, Sept. 4.—A positive majority for the federal suffrage amendment in the congress to be elected in November is indicated by the 132 replies so far received from candidates to questions sent out by the congressional committee of the National American Woman Suffrage association.

One hundred and twelve of the candidates who replied, or nearly 85 per cent, declared themselves in favor of woman suffrage and stated they would vote for the federal suffrage amendment and that they would work to get a favorable report on the amendment if they should be on the committee which has jurisdiction.

Of the thirty-nine replies so far received from Illinois only one is unfavorable. Women cannot vote for senators and representatives in Illinois, but national leaders are counting on the entire Illinois delegation.

Mrs. Roessing will confer with the Illinois suffragists at the time of the national convention in Atlantic City, Sept 6, when plans will be made as to what action to take with regard to this delinquent.

Seven favorable and no unfavorable answers have been received from Minnesota. Michigan also has so far sent in no unfavorable or non-committal replies. Five candidates have pledged their support.

From Wisconsin five replies have been received to date, four favorable and one opposed.

There have been forty-nine replies to date from Pennsylvania candidates. Forty-six of them answered favorably. One declared his opposition to the federal amendment, while two were non-committal.

W. P. DITTOE IS PRESIDENT OF VETS

Nickel Plate Men Place Him at Head of Their Social Organization.

"The best we ever had," is the way the Fort Wayne Nickel Plate vets who attended the annual banquet and meeting of the association at Buffalo last Saturday describe that event. "The attendance was somewhat below the number it would have been had it not been for the threatened strike, but it was larger than at any of the previous meetings, there being over 400 at the banquet," said one of the enthusiastic veterans.

Before the banquet the election was held which resulted as follows:

Past president, Charles W. Bell, conductor on the Fort Wayne and Chicago divisions.

President, W. P. Dittoe, purchasing agent of the company.

First vice president, William Ogelvie, inspector of fuel.

Second vice president, R. W. Mitchener, superintendent of transportation.

At the banquet the speakers were: President J. J. Benet, assistant to President A. W. Johnston, William Ogelvie, W. P. Dittoe, John J. Wells, of the Buffalo News, and Attorney Stafford, one of the guests at the banquet.

The entertaining features included a trip over the Gorge route, with occasion stops at points of interest, which was enjoyed by over 400 people.

The membership roll was given quite a boost, there being twenty-two additions made at the business meeting in the afternoon, bringing the total up to 523. The vets received every courtesy at the hands of the company enroute to and from Buffalo and by the people of Buffalo, and a vote of thanks was taken just before adjournment.

EMBARGO IS RAISED.

Only the Holiday Prevents Usual Freight Movements.

All the railways are moving through freight today, though because of the embargo on the business last week, the movement is not up to the standard. Local business, on account of the holiday, is suspended for the time, but it will be resumed tomorrow. Nothing remains of the late eight hour controversy to interfere with business or mar the feelings of the majority of the people, and tomorrow will find business conditions on the roads in the usual condition. W. H. Grout, who represented the G. R. & I. conductors at Washington, took passenger train No. 11 north today and will bring No. 4 back tomorrow. Roy Jones, who represented the G. R. & I. engineers, has returned from Washington, but has not resumed his duties on the road. Engineer D. D. Miller, who represented the Pennsylvania firemen, has not returned yet, being engaged on some committee work.

WILL HAVE CLEVELAND EXCURSION.

District Passenger Agent F. P. Parnim, of the Nickel Plate, is out early this year with the announcement of the date of the annual fall excursion to Cleveland, which will be given on Saturday, September 30, the return limit being the train which pulls out of Cleveland at 7:35 o'clock Monday evening, October 2, giving the excursionists three days at Cleveland. There will be the usual special excursion train leaving Fort Wayne at 7 o'clock Saturday morning and trains No. 2, leaving at 3:05, and No. 4, leaving at 8:05 Saturday, will also carry excursionists. The fare will be $3.75, which is a slight advance over the fares of the previous excursions.

PRINTERS ELECT DELEGATES.

The Printers' union, No. 78, at the meeting yesterday afternoon named Charles Habacker and Bert Bleigh delegates to the annual convention of the State Federation of Labor at Logansport, September 25, 26 and 27. George Overdear and Harry Keller were named as alternate delegates. The union also decided to give the vocational school movement in Fort Wayne its support and emphasized the commercial course feature.

FIRST OUTING A SUCCESS.

Th first outing and field day of the Bridge and Structural Iron Workers' union, No. 147, held at Centlivre park yesterday was all that the management could desire. It was well attended, the weather conditions were ideal and the program for the entertainment of the members and the guests was excellent and carried out in full. There was a band of twenty pieces to furnish the music and there were refeshments in abundance.

MEAT CUTTERS TO CELEBRATE.

The members of the Meat Cutters' union, local No. 423, will hold a smoker on the evening of September 28, at which time they will celebrate the tenth anniversary of the organization. In addition, the union plans on inaugurating a special membership campaign, and an effort will be made to get every meat cutter in the city a member of the local. The meetings is to be held at Vordermark hall.

WILL RETURN TO CHICAGO.

Freight Agent H. E. Allison and Passenger Agent C. A. Pritchard, of the Nickel Plate, left this afternoon for Chicago on business connected with the freight handlers' strike in that city. They were there last week and came home Saturday to spend Sunday with their families and to look after some railway business.

NEW LABOR ORGANIZATION.

Through the efforts of Henry L. Holtje, organizer for the Federation of Labor, the Cement Workers' union was organized yesterday and has applied for a charter. The officers are: George Jaap, jr., president; Frank Effert, vice president; O. A. Hoover, secretary and treasurer, and W. A. Stapleton, sergeant at arms.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

The name of the Nickel Plate railroad station at Dover, O., has been changed to North Dover, O.

Holiday travel on the railroads is very heavy. It is particularly heavy on the G. R. & I. and the N. Y. C., over which lines the bulk of the travel to the lake resorts goes. The Nickel Plate also had a big dollar Sunday business, there being 543 tickets sold at the local station. The purchasers of these tickets did not return last night and will come in tonight and tomorrow on regular fares.

At the meeting held yesterday afternoon the bartenders' local, No. 305, obligated four new members, making the enrollment the largest in the history of the organization. The local also drew up resolutions on the death of Fred Dammeyer, and the charter was ordered draped in mourning. Arrangements were made for the attendance of delegates to the Indiana state convention of the Federation of Labor to be held at Logansport September 23.

When Passenger Engineer M. G. Flagle, of the L. E. & W., was about to leave the hall of Division 12, B. L. E., last evening, the only hat on the rack where he had earlier placed his own headgear was a massive straw affair which completely enveloped Mr. Flagle's head and rested upon his shoulders when he put it on. He regards the exchange the work of a joker and is patiently awaiting the return of his own hat.

GIVES MOST EFFORT TO LAUDING HUGHES

Progressives Are Ignored in New Republican Text Book.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 4.—Advance copies of the republican campaign textbook were given out today by the local representatives of the national committee.

By far the greater part of the volume is devoted to Charles E. Hughes, the candidate for the presidency, and his public utterances and his public record.

Mexico and the tariff are the two chief topics of the book outside of Mr. Hughes. Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, is author of "The Story of Mexico." In addition to this there is a Mexican Catechism," in which all possible questions concerning the administration's record are asked and answered.

The book refers to the Japanese peril in the chapter on the tariff and contains convincing facts concerning its imminence.

Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy, comes in for a severe criticism, which includes the remarks made about him by George Harvey, editor of the North American Review, under the heading, "Sir Josephus, N. C. B."

Other writers in the volume are Senators Weeks, of Massachusetts, and Gallinger, of New Hampshire; Myron T. Herrick, of Cleveland; Representatives Miller and Anderson, of Minnesota; Sloan, of Nebraska, and Rogers, of Massachusetts.

Progressive republicans, in scanning the volume, failed to find any contributions from any of their group. Also, they noticed that no appeal to the progressives is contained in it outside of the letter and article written by Col. Roosevelt declining the progressive nomination.

The civil service record of the democratic administration is lambasted and the volume contains portions of the proceedings of the National Civil Service Reform league to prove its contention that the democrats have raided the service at every opportunity.

MANY SPORT EVENTS PLANNED FOR THE DAY

National Championship is a Stake in an Unusual Number of Contests.

New York, Sept. 4.—An unprecedented program of athletic events throughout the United States will make Labor day, 1916, a memorable date in the history of American sport. The national championship today is at stake in an unusual number of outdoor engagements. It is probable that the number of persons who will see prominent athletes perform today will establish a record.

Two national boxing titles are at issue—the lightweight championship at Colorado Springs, Col., where Freddie Welsh will defend his crown against Charlie White, and the featherweight championship at Cedar Point, O., where Johnny Kilbane will meet George Chaney.

The national amateur championship will open on the Marion golf club links at Haverford, Pa., and the semi-finals of the national tennis singles tournament will be decided at Forest Hills, N. Y.

Detroit is the scene of a national championship motor regatta. Two A. U. swimming championships will be decided—the 100 yards at Honolulu and the ten mile at St. Louis.

Games in both major baseball leagues both morning and afternoon will make the day an important one in the race for two pennants.

IN THE CHURCHES

Ladies' Aid to Meet.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Simpson M. E. church will meet Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. C. E. Ensley, 235 East Williams street.

NO FATALITIES IN WRECK ON G. R. & I.

Fifty Injured When Resort Flyer Meets a Mishap Near Mancelona.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 4.—No fatalities will result from the wreck Saturday night on the southbound resort flyer of the Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad at Wilkins switch, near Mancelona, Mich., according to surgeons of the road. Fully fifty persons were injured, some of them seriously. Those most seriously hurt are in a hospital at Cadillac, Mich.

Mrs. G. H. Bennett, of Chicago, whose scalp was torn loose and who at first was thought to be fatally hurt, is now believed to be out of danger. Among the others injured is Caroline L. Sumner, Connersville, Ind., sprained ankle and knee injured.

GERMANS TRUE TO U. S., DECLARES MR. KELLER

Indianapolis, Sept. 4.—Joseph Keller, president of the Indiana State Alliance of German Societies, in addressing the state meeting here yesterday, declared members of the alliance have been true to America during the two years of the European war. He asserted that during this time German-Americans in the United States have been publicly maligned and subjected to persecution and calumny." Further, he said, "the German element is coming politically into its own."

Mr. Keller reported the state alliance now has 215 subordinate alliances in the state with a membership of 22,000 persons. The growth in the last year, he said, was from 175 societies to 215 in thirty-five cities. Carl Dreisch, of Evansville, secretary of the state association, said there are more than 62,000 native born Germans in Indiana and more than 30,000 native born Austrians.

STOPS WIFE'S TONGUE; PAYS HOSPITAL BILL

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 4.—John Kearne's wife talked too much — at least so he allowed—but that's getting ahead of the story.

Kearne and his wife spent yesterday in Shaw's botanical gardens. A gardener was explaining things about the plants.

"What is that?" inquired Kearne, pointing to a plant.

"It is known as dumbcane," replied the gardener.

"If you touch it with your tongue it renders you speechless," was the response.

Some time later Kearne approached his wife smilingly.

"Shut your eyes and open your mouth, I've something good for you," he said and his wife obeyed. At the city hospital Mrs. Kearne recovered her speech today and she told on Kearne. He confessed. Likewise he footed the hospital bill.

"I didn't have faith in what that gardener said, but sometimes my wife talks too much and I thought I'd try it," he said.

It's a season of featherbone and horsehair, but such featherbone and horsehair as our grandmothers never dreamed of in their clothes philosophy. The horsehair with which the dimities, organdies and tulles are "hooped" into barrel-like width is sheer as a veil and weighs no more than a feather. These stiffening contrivances are usually arranged in the underskirt of the summer frocks. The shops offer many practical things in the way of "distenders" for fluffy skirts.
